Racial Riots Break Out in Minneapolis

Trouble Sparked by Women At Festival Fighting Over Wig

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Scattered Negro fighting and vandalism broke out late Wednesday night as the city celebrated its annual Aquatennial Night parade in a carnival atmosphere.

The trouble started in the form of street fights in downtown Minneapolis.

Police Chief Calvin Hawkinson said the first incident occurred during the parade when two Negro women began fighting over a wig one was wearing.

Thirteen Negroes, six of them from St. Paul, were arrested during the night. Nine persons — including a fireman, hit by a rock while fighting a market fire on Plymouth Avenue, and two policemen — were treated at city hospitals for injuries suffered in the melee.

Rock Throwing

Police reported the arrest of three St. Paul Negro youths arrested during the downtown disturbance after a woman had been hit with a rock. Police said the trio had been agitating a group of Negroes and were shouting "black power."

Gov. Harold LeVander said the disturbances might have been triggered by delays in mailing federal Youth Opportunity Program checks to some youths. He said he knew of no outside agitation involved in the incidents.

Main trouble centered on a two-block stretch of Plymouth Avenue, about two miles from the main business district festivities area, and some five blocks west of early morning vanadlism and looting last summer.

A food market was the scene of a fire at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday which apparently triggered the North Side violence.

Firemen battling the blaze were driven back by youths throwing rocks and bricks. Seven other businesses, most of them owned by Jews, reported broken windows but no confirmed looting.

Steel helmeted police armed with shoulder weapons were brought in immediately.

Rosendale Woman, Child Die in Crash

Freight Train, Auto Collide South of Ripon; 3 Injured

Two rural Rosendale persons were killed and three others injured Wednesday night when a car they were riding in collided with a Milwaukee Road freight train south of Ripon.

Dead on arrival at a Ripon hospital were:

Muriel Pinch, 40, route 1, Rosendale, and

Pamela Nest, 8, route 1, Rosendale.

According to Fond du Lac County authorities, the station wagon driven by Stanley R. Pinch, 42, approached the crossing, marked only by stationary signs, and skidded 146 feet into the side of the train. The vehicle was shoved down the tracks 48 feet before coming to a halt.

Sustaining injuries, mostly broken bones and cuts and bruises, in the accident were Jill Pinch, 8; Catherine Nest 32, and Donald Nest, all route 1, Rosendale. Pinch, the driver, escaped injury.

The accident was one of two in the state Wednesday night which resulted in two fatalities.

Two persons died and seven were injured in a three-car crash late Wednesday in Walworth County.

Riot Measure Might Turn Into Civil Rights Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A antiriot bill that won overwhelming House approval Wednesday night may become the vehicle for civil rights legislation when it reaches the Senate floor.

The bill, which would make it a federal crime to travel across state lines with the intent of starting a riot, has been condemned by civil rights groups as an anti-Negro measure.

They are expected to try to get pro-civil rights senators to offer as amendments to the riot bill at least part of the civil rights package that died in the Senate last year.

House Assent

In the House, where stricter rules prevented such amendments from being offered, the bill sailed through 347 to 70.

The vote against the bill was larger than expected. Last year a similar measure was approved 388 to 25, but died in the Senate.

The bill would fix maximum penalties of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine for anyone convicted of using interstate facilities to incite, organize, encourage or carry on a riot.

Its author, Rep. William M. Cramer, R-Fla., said it should jail such "hatemongers" as black power advocate Stokely Carmichael, Robert Shelton of the Ku Klux Klan and George Lincoln Rockwell, the American Nazi leader.

Celler Opposed

Dissenters led by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said the bill at best was an ineffective gesture and at worst could be an unconstitutional infringement on free speech and assembly.

But with the recent examples of Newark and Plainfield, N.J., and other riot-torn cities fresh in its mind, the House rejected such arguments.

"The man on the corner wants to know if you're for riots or against them, and I'm against them," said a member who privately doubted the value of the bill but felt he had to vote for it.

Mexico Uncovers Plot Of Red Chinese Coup

Communists Planned New Regime

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican authorities say they have squelched a $1,680-a-month plot financed by Red China to overthrow the government and set up a Communist regime.

Acting Atty. Gen. Julio Sanchez Vargas announced the arrest of 13 men Wednesday night, but an alleged leader of the conspiracy apparently was safe in China.

Eleven Mexicans, and two reputed guerrilla experts, a Venezuelan and Salvadorean, faced a court appearance today to answer charges of planning a campaign of sabotage, terrorism and insurrection in cities and across the Mexican countryside.

Communist Named

The government named former Mexican Communist Party leader Javier Fuentes Gutierrez as one of the chief plotters but said he had flown to Red China June 30, using a forged passport and an assumed name, in company with another leftist leader, Federico Emery Valla.

A government statement also implicated a member of Congress, Rafael Estrada Villa. But there was no mention of any charges against the legislator, who was said to be visiting Cuba.

Sanchez Vargas told a news conference the group planned to establish a guerrilla school at an isolated jungle spot in Chiapas state in southeast Mexico.

He said Peking was using the Mexican branch of the official New China News Agency to channel $1,680 a month into the conspiracy. Mexico does not maintain diplomatic relations with Red China.

Charge Judgeship Promised

Lorge Accused of Making Deal

MADISON (AP)—Compromise talks on traffic safety have been trapped in the crossfire of angry charges over the rumor that a court appointment was planned for a state senator as a political payoff.

"That is an outright lie," said the senator, Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, who demanded an investigation by the attorney general.

The blowup between Lorge and Assemblyman David Obey, D-Wausau, who reported the rumor, halted the compromise committee's work on Gov. Warren P. Knowles' traffic safety bill for at least one day.

The Senate-Assembly committee was slated to resume the search tonight for a settlement on Knowles' controversial proposal to set a statewide minimum age for drinking beer at 21.

Short Session

The afternoon session Wednesday lasted only eight minutes in the angry exchange between Lorge, the chairman; and Obey, the only Democrat on the committee.

The young Wausau Assemblyman asked Lorge to answer a rumor that Knowles had promised the chairman an appointment as judge if the governor's safety proposals were approved.

"Of course, the remark is not true," snapped Lorge.

The burly lawmaker from Bear Creek demanded that Obey name his sources and stopped the meeting to ask Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette for an investigation when Obey refused.

La Follette told Lorge, "You can rest assured our office will conduct an appropriate investigation."

Statehouse Reporters

It was learned Obey gave the attorney general's office the names of two statehouse reporters who had asked him about such a rumor. One newsman said he was only a bystander while the other declined Wednesday to identify his source.

The 45-year-old lawmaker said, "The governor at no time has offered me any appointment, nor have I discussed it with him nor would I think of doing so."

Lorge's fellow Republicans sided with him in a 5-1 vote to halt the talks until tonight after the dispute erupted.

The exchange of charges offered the committee a convenient rest in its apparent stalemate over the drinking age, the only issue yet to be settled.

Only Rubble Remains after the crash of a Piedmont Airlines jet near Hendersonville, N.C. Wednesday. The newly-appointed secretary of the Navy, John T. McNaughton, was one of 82 persons who perished. (AP Wirephoto)

Private Plane Off Course

Navy Secretary, Businessmen Among 82 Dead in Air Crash

HENDERSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The newly named secretary of the Navy, business executives, their wives and at least 10 children were among 82 persons killed in the flaming collision of a big jet airliner and a small private plane.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration said the small twin-engine private plane "was about 12 miles south of where it should have been," in the crash Wednesday over western North Carolina mountains.

Wreckage and bodies showered down over a wide stretch of the resort area near the city of Hendersonville in the Blue Ridge foothills.

Missed Camp

The main part of the airliner missed a crowded youth camp by only 50 yards.

No one on either plane survived.

There apparently was no warning before the crash, witnesses said.

The smaller craft swept out of the mountain haze and ripped a huge gash in the airliner's side. The smaller plane blew up, some of it welded to the fuselage of the bigger craft.

The collision occured at 12:01 p.m., just three minutes after the Piedmont Airlines 727, carrying 74 passengers and a crew of five, took off from the Asheville airport en route from Atlanta to Washington.

3 Aboard

The smaller plane, a Cessna 310 heading for Asheville, carried two Missouri businessmen and its pilot.

John T. McNaughton, 46, who was scheduled to become secretary of the Navy in about two weeks; his wife, Sarah, and their 11-year-old son, Theodore, were aboard the airliner. Theodore had been attending a summer camp, and his parents had come to take him back to Washington.

The passengers included about 30 food brokers from across the country. They had gathered in Atlanta and Asheville for the flight to White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., for a convention of the Stokely Van Camp Co.

Hours after the crash, a team of investigators from the National Transportation Safety Board, headed by ex-Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, recovered the airliner's flight and voice re-

Second Accident For Fatal Jet

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The Piedmont Airlines 727 jetliner that collided with a private plane in flight near Hendersonville Wednesday killing 82 persons had been involved in a previous collision.

The $5.5 million Boeing-built plane known as the "Manhattan Pacemaker" was struck by a car May 25 while being towed to maintenance facilities across a public road from the Smith Reynolds Airport at Winston-Salem.

The woman driving the car was hospitalized, and damage to the plane was $25,000. It was out of service a week.

Poet-Historian Odell Shepard Dies at 82

WATERFORD, Conn. (AP)—Odell Shepard, 82, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, politician and historian who once said man's future "will be a long, dark journey into the light," is dead.

He died Wednesday at Lawrence and Memorial Hospital in New London, near his early-colonial cottage on Jordan's Cove.

"It is a dark night in which we are living now," he told a group of neighbors at a Christmas carol sing when he was 81, "and there seems no probability it will get lighter for some time to come."

Nearly three decades earlier, in 1937, Shepard's "Pedlar's Progress, the life of Bronson Alcott, "won" Pulitzer Prize.

Later, from 1941 to 1943, he was the Democratic lieutenant governor of Connecticut.

U. S. Combat Toll Dips 107 in Week

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in combat in Vietnam last week was 107 less than the week before, and U.S. troops strength also decreased by 5,000 men, the U.S. Command reported today.

The number of enemy killed last week also dropped — 1,877 compared with 2,150 the week before.

American combat casualties last week were 175 killed and 1,443 wounded, the latter an increase over 1,170 wounded a week earlier.

Prisoners Caput Captured

10 South Korean Marines Surprise 150 Viet Cong in Jungle Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Ten South Korean Marines ambushed about 150 Viet Cong in the jungle Wednesday night, killed 32 of the Communists and took four prisoners, Korean headquarters reported today.

The brief but successful ambush in coastal Quang Ngai Province was the heaviest ground fighting reported, but a company of American paratroopers located a Red prison camp in the jungle and freed 22 emaciated Vietnamese captives, including three women. There was no sign of any Americans in the bamboo stockade.

The Korean Marines caught the Viet Cong company moving inland through the jungle about eight miles north of Quang Ngai City. The Korean squad was strung out along the trail and opened up with machine guns and a rain of grenades and mortars.

No Casualties

The fight lasted only a few minutes before the Communist troops plunged back into the jungle, leaving 22 weapons behind in addition to their dead and captured. The Koreans suffered no casualties, their headquarters reported.

The U.S. Command reported a comparative lull in the ground war for the 10th consecutive day and a decline in the number of Americans killed last week. The command said 175 Americans were killed, 1,443 wounded and 38 missing, compared with 282 killed, 1,170 wounded and one missing the week before.

Despite the lull in ground fighting, the air war against North Vietnam continued unabated with new raids on Hanoi's rail lines to Red China and oil dumps and other supply targets up and down the coast.

Intelligence Tip

The American paratroops acted on an intelligence tip to surprise the Communists at the jungle prison camp in Quang Ngai Province, in the northern 1st Corps area.

The Americans from the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade hacked their way through the jungle Wednesday and opened up on the guards around the camp who fled. The GI's plunged through the 10-foot bamboo wall, across a trench boobytrapped with sharp punji stakes and into the small clearing of bamboo huts.

They found a dozen men shackled in leg stocks and all the prisoners weak from hunger. They included three women, three South Vietnamese soldiers, two village chiefs who had been kidnaped and one national policeman.

Helicopters took the prisoners to the paratroopers' base hospital for treatment and questioning.

Presidential Aides Put Under Tighter Security Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has tightened security regulations covering officers and enlisted men chosen to work around President Johnson.

It said in response to questions that "this change was a normal periodic revision and was not prompted by any specific security incident."

The tightening action came in an Air Force document issued July 6 over the signature of Gen. J. P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff. It requires that national agency checks on Air Force men being considered for assignment to what is called "presidential support activity" will be renewed if such a check is more than one year old.

Previously, a two-year interval was permitted.

A national agency check involves querying various government agencies such as the FBI, military intelligence and the CIA to determine whether there is any derogatory information of a security nature relating to the man in question.

The revised regulation also requires the wife of a man picked for assignment around the President to be a U. S. citizen. Hitherto, only the man had to be an American citizen.

The regulation covers all Air Force personnel assigned to "duties that involve their regular or frequent unescorted entry to presidential facilities, modes of transportation or activities."

Aircraft Workers

Among these are aircraft technicians and crews, communications installation or repair specialists, aircraft refueling personnel and the like.

The security requirements extend to members of the Air Force honor guard, who sometimes line up at the ramp of the presidential airplane, and members of Air Force bands and other musical groups which sometimes entertain where the President is on hand.

They even apply to military social aides who are stationed in the White House during some of the formal receptions given during the year.

Beyond the security checks, no man may be assigned to any full or part-time duty around the President unless specifically approved by the White House.

U. S.-Soviet Effort Fails

U.N. Unlikely to Agree on Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and the United States made a last-minute attempt to reach agreement on U.N. action in the Middle East situation but there was nothing to indicate they succeeded, informants reported today.

The emergency session of the General Assembly was scheduled to wind up its current round of Middle East debate today with a resolution sending the unresolved problem of Arab-Israeli peace back to the Security Council.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met with U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg late Wednesday at the Soviet Union mission and they discussed the problem at length. Informants said Gromyko had initiated the meeting.

Lines Quiet

The cease-fire lines around the Arab territories conquered by Israel were quiet Wednesday. But statements and reports from all sides underlined the lack of progress toward a permanent settlement and the lack of prospects that the council can resolve the issues between Israel and the Arabs.

Israel's ambassador to the U.N., Gideon Rafael, wrote the presidents of the council and the assembly that his country could not be expected to withdraw from the occupied territories "without any simultaneous and parallel action by the Arab states to establish a situation of peace with Israel."

Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israel's defense minister, said in Tel Aviv that Isael has the forces "to hold to Arab territory occupied by her for quite a long time."

Continue Struggle

Informants in Cairo said the presidents of Egypt, Algeria, Iraq and Syria at their marathon talks in the Egyptian capital which ended Wednesday remained determined to carry on the struggle against Israel until all occupied Arab territory is regained.

The Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's usual mouthpiece, said Egypt would not reopen the Suez Canal until the consequences of "Israeli aggression" are removed.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said in Moscow that Israeli withdrawal from the Arab lands "must be the first step on the road to a settlement and stable peace in the Middle East."

Back to Council

The General Assembly's month-old emergency session was being forced to send the Middle East issues back to the Security Council by failure to get a compromise between the Soviet-Arab demands for an unconditional Israeli withdrawal with Israeli and American demands that the withdrawal be matched by Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist and abandonment of the state of war the Arabs have maintained against Israel since the 1948 Palestine war.

The assembly's only accomplishment has been two resolutions demanding that Israel annul its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem, which Jordan occupied in the 1948 war and the Israelis captured in the June conflict. The Israeli government rejected the resolutions.

corders. He said both instruments appeared to be intact. They were sent to Washington for study.

Instrument Flight

Harold Roberts, FFA tower chief at the Asheville airport, said the small plane, piloted by Dave Addison, about 40, of Lebanon, Mo., was on an instrument flight plan. But he added the plane was about 12 miles south of where it should have been.

Witnesses said the airliner pilot, Capt. R.F. Schulte of Norfolk, Va., father of four girls, apparently attempted to avoid the collision, then fought to control the huge craft after the impact.

Losing power quickly, he seemed to be trying to make it to nearby Interstate Route 26, a four-lane artery where an emergency landing might have been possible.

Came Apart

But the airliner came apart. One witness said there were two big sections "and a thousand little pieces" as plane parts, bodies and luggage plummeted to earth, about two miles from Hendersonville, about 20 miles from Asheville.

The little plane just gave a jerk upward just before they hit," said Clarence Hyder, 35, a Hendersonville sign painter. "The airliner flew on a bit, turning toward the interstate, but then it turned over on its back and came apart." Hyder said he heard two explosions.

Among those who boarded at Atlanta was Ennis Parker of Griffin, Ga., president of Pomona Products and a vice president of Stokely Van Camp.

A Stokely Van Camp official said the crash "just about wiped out" the company's sales force. The firm's convention for 250 delegates was cancelled.

join others in the Sierra Madre Mountains.

Sanchez Vargas said those arrested included Daniel Camejo Guanche, a veteran guerrilla leader from Venezuela, and Silvestre Enrique Marenco Martinez of El Salvador, who was said to have led guerrilla operations in Nicaragua.

He said the group was behind the dynamiting July 3 of an army personnel carrier in rural Guerrero state. The attack, apparently an effort to steal arms, failed, and soldiers riding in the vehicle escaped uninjured.

Bank Robbery

Sanchez Vargas said the accused men also planned to hold up a bank in a residential section of Mexico City and had all the details worked out.

He said the group operated out of a bookstore owned by Fuentes Gutierrez and was linked with other subversive organizations in the states of Chihuahua and Guerrero.

The government statement said 13 tons of Red Chinese propaganda leaflets, films, guerrilla warfare manuals, posters and portraits of Mao Tse-tung, Fidel Castro, Joseph Stalin, Karl Marx and the other Communist figures were seized at the bookstore and at Fuentes' home in suburban Ixtapalpa.

The statement said Estrada Villa had "connections" with the accused men and had directed subversive activities in Guerrero state where he was elected on the Popular Socialist party ticket three years ago. He split with the party some time ago and formed a dissident faction but was not re-elected in the July 2 election.

The report gave no further details of Estrada's alleged activities and did not indicate whether he would be charged on his return. Presumably he has parliamentary immunity until his term is up Aug. 31.

Princess Grace Reported Okay After Miscarriage

MONTREAL (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco was reported in satisfactory condition in a Montreal hospital today after suffering a miscarriage. A spokesman for her husband, Prince Rainier, said she was expected to stay in the hospital several days.

The princess, the former movie actress Grace Kelly, became ill Tuesday night after the royal couple and two of their three children attended ceremonies at Expo 67 honoring their tiny Mediterranean principality, press attache Rupert Allen said.

Prince Rainier accompanied the princess to the hospital Wednesday night but did not remain overnight. Earlier Wednesday the couple had canceled a two-day trip to Quebec City.

Princess Grace, 37, had been expecting her fourth child in January.

Allen said there was nothing to indicate that the miscarriage was caused by the princess' strenuous visit to the fair site Tuesday.

The royal entourage had plowed through a sea of admirers, toured pavilions and greeted hundreds of minor officials.

California Tourist Site: Queen Mary

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — You've heard of those famed California tourist attractions: Disneyland, the Golden Gate Bridge and the British liner Queen Mary?

Wot?

Well, the prestigious ocean liner isn't in California yet, but Gov. Ronald Reagan said Wednesday he supports a plan to give the Queen Mary, scheduled for retirement in October at the age of 31, permanent harbor at Long Beach, Calif.

As a combined hotel-convention center and museum of the sea the venerable vessel would "give California another tremendous tourist attraction," the governor said.

stein, who represents the near North Side, reported three Molotov cocktails had been thrown near his home. None hit the house, and members of his family put out the fires.

Four other minor fires, mostly at garages, were reported in the area.

David Borkin, owner of the Knox Market and an 18-year veteran businessman of the now predominantly Negro section, said about 150 young Negroes lined Plymouth when he was allowed into the area at 4:30 a.m.

Police had barricaded off a one-mile section of the avenue straddling the two-block trouble spot.

Borkin said when he was let in to check damage to his burned-store that "the crowd was just standing on the sidewalks, and there was a row of police, all armed with rifles and shotguns in the street."

The few Negroes on the avenue this morning gave no reason for the outbreak.

One told a reporter, "Maybe they hired a cop to start it."

Shopkeepers said they had been warned Wednesday not to take their children to the Aquatennial parade for there would be trouble.

Police Chief Calvin Hakinson said his department still had not determined cause of the outbreak, although it had received several telephone calls the past two days warning of trouble.

Racial situations in Erie, Pa., and Cairo, Ill., were quiet today under the terms of truces agreed to by leaders of Negroes seeking better economic and social standards.

In Durham, N.C., Wednesday night, a rock-throwing, window-breaking melee climaxed a march by some 150 Negroes and a few whites. The marchers met at a church in a Negro section to organize a committee to speak for the neighborhood in requesting improvements by the city.

Just what touched off the disturbance was not learned.

In other trouble spots, state police and National Guardsmen searched house by house for weapons in a Plainfield, N.J., Negro neighborhood; seven victims of bloody riots in Newark, N.J., were buried on the eve of a national black power conference; and Negro leaders told California Gov. Ronald Reagan that finding jobs for idle Negroes is the key to holding down racial tension.

Private Meeting

Eighteen Negro leaders met privately with Reagan at Sacramento, Calif.

"We gave him background on the causes of riots and how we could best meet them before the situation comes to an explosive point," said Clarence R. Stern of San Francisco.

Reagan had no statement. Earlier, he had pledged to "stimulate grassroots actions aimed at eliminating the basic and real causes of racial tension."

Also in Newark, two grand juries returned 125 indictments against persons during racial violence. All but two of the indictments contained charges of looting.

Fair Queen Not Hep On Hippies, Love-ins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kate Beyerle, crowned as queen of the "Good Old Summertime Fair," is pert and modern but admits she's not hep on one movement.

Does she like hippies and love-ins?, someone asked after she was crowned Wednesday.

"I don't believe I've heard them on the radio yet," replied Mrs. Beyerle, who is 35 years old.

Governor Vetoes Vaccination Bill

MADISON (AP) — Gov Warren P Knowles Wednesday vetoed a bill authorizing the State Board of Health to conduct a statewide vaccination program against measles

Knowles said he objected to the bill, which originated in the Assembly, because it provided no exemption for children whose health might be damaged by injection of vaccine, or for youngsters who have acquired immunity as a result of contracting the disease

The state now furnishes vaccine and no charge is made for it If a vaccination is performed by a private physician a charge is made for the physician's services

The bill, Knowles said, would prohibit the service charge and eliminate the vaccination by private physicians from the immunization program

And there's lots of off-street or ramp parking! You can shop downtown as usual!

NOW, A PAINT THAT STRETCHES or SHRINKS WITH YOUR HOME

Won't crack, chip or peel . . . lasts 2 to 4 years longer than ordinary paints!

With changes in the weather, the siding on your home stretches and shrinks and the paint film works loose.

New Pittsburgh Sun-Proof® Latex House Paint is formulated with an exclusive plastic resin that gives it four times the stretch power of other latex paint films. It sticks tight to the siding. And with fewer repaints, you save time, work and money!

- No primer necessary for most repaint work.
- A snap to use—flows on smoothly, dries in 30 minutes, and you clean up your brush (and your hands) with just warm, soapy water.
- Breathes out moisture that causes other paints to blister and peel.
- Paint film resists mildew and fume staining.

Rezoning for Kaukauna Bank Facility Fails

Council Doesn't Give Required Two-Thirds Vote

KAUKAUNA — An attempt to have eight lots on Wisconsin Avenue rezoned from residential to central business district lost Tuesday night when a motion failed to get the three-quarter vote necessary after objections were filed by a majority of surrounding property owners

The rezoning was recommended by the planning commission and was being asked by the Bank of Kaukauna to permit construction of a new building with drive-in facilities The rezoning was recommended by a 5-3 vote of the board of public works, but City Atty Donald Green said a ruling from the League of Municipalities indicated eight votes would be necessary to permit rezoning after objections were filed

Voting against rezoning were Clayton Blumreich and Robert Vondracek aldermen from the ward where the rezoning would have taken place, plus Alds Russell Dix and Richard Gerritts Voting in favor of rezoning were Alds Carl Engerson Lloyd Kloehn, Gerald Klarer, James McDaniel William Rogers and George Simon

A large crowd on hand to hear the results of the voting applauded when the decision was given by Mayor Gilbert Anderson The rezoning had been argued at public hearings and committee meetings earlier this month

A second rezoning passed without opposition from the council although one citizen did appear at the public hearing and voiced objection. The property is the site of the Methodist Church and parsonage and will be rezoned from class B residential to central business district It consists of four lots and abuts the central business area along State 55

The church has purchased property on Wisconsin Avenue at the eastern limits of Little Chute and will have to sell existing property before undertaking construction of a new church The rezoning also was recommended by the planning commission

...eting Bill In Legislature

Froehlich Sponsors Measure to Curb Residential Displays

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Speaker Harold Froehlich of Appleton, top officer of the State Assembly and ranking spokesman for the Republican majority in that house of the Legislature, has joined other Republicans as sponsor of a bill to outlaw the picketing of private residences

The new bill is one of a series offered in the Legislature this year, apparently as reactions to the highly publicized picketing of the homes of prominent public officials in Milwaukee last year by junior members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People protesting the membership of such officials in social clubs with race exclusion rules

There has not yet been a conclusive vote on any of the prohibition measures offered in the assembly

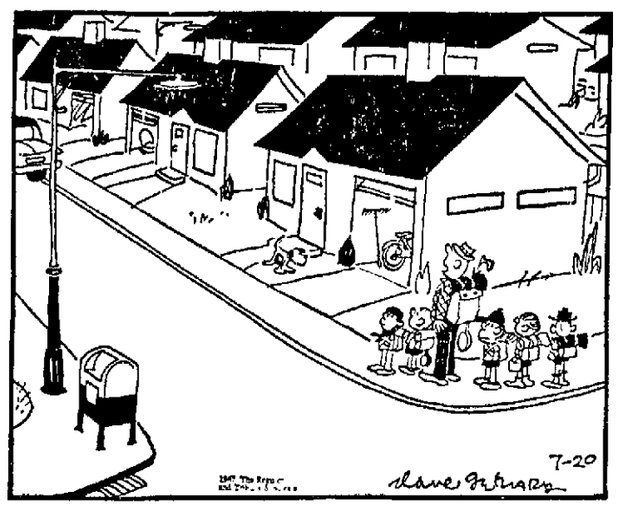
Flat Prohibition

The measure of which Froehlich is a co-sponsor would flatly prohibit such picketing, except when the residence is used as a place of business, or when the dwelling is a place of employment

The authors composed this statement of the legislature's position on the issue for inclusion in the proposed law

"The Legislature finds and declares that men in a free society have the right to quiet enjoyment of their homes that the stability of community and family life cannot be maintained unless the right to privacy and a sense of security and peace in the home are respected and encouraged that residential picketing, however just the cause inspiring it, disrupts home family and communal life that residential picketing is inappropriate in our society where the jealously guarded rights of free speech and assembly have always been associated with respect for the rights of others"

CITIZEN SMITH By Dave Gerard



"I'm sure this is the site of last year's camp out!"

Republican Opposition?

Proposed Surtax May Be Headed for Trouble

Post Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Trouble may be brewing for President Johnson's proposed tax increase, if sentiment expressed by Rep John W Byrnes (R Green Bay) Tuesday is any yardstick of future Republican opposition

When informed that the President had issued a statement to the effects that his advisors were urging him to request a 10 per cent surtax on individual incomes, the Wisconsin congressman retorted that "the best advice Mr Johnson could take is to put the ax on domestic expenditures After that is done he would be in a better position to decide whether a new tax is needed

Previously, the President had played with the tentative 6 per cent surtax figure, but this week hinted at a possible increase in that amount, which he said, might be needed to make up a possible $25 to $30 billion deficit in the federal budget

Additional Reason

That possibility of the $25 to $30 billion deficit was given as an additional reason for raising the debt limit which we Republicans rejected Byrnes who is the top GOP man in the taxwriting Ways and Means committee, continued during an interview We wanted to see the administration cut all nonessential domestic spending and pare the budget down before we gave them any more money to spend"

He said an increase in income taxes would require the individual family to trim its budget but he thought thrift should "begin at the top"

"The government should set a good example in cutting down on non essentials until our fiscal situation is better" he concluded

Wisconsin Lists Poor Results in Getting Teachers

MADISON (AP)—An education official says Wisconsin is still suffering from a considerable teacher shortage, and between 400 and 500 positions are expected to be unfilled this fall

Robert G Heideman, acting director of the University of Wisconsin's teacher placement bureau, said Wednesday that a short supply was noted for special teachers such as librarians, industrial arts instructors, speech therapists and guidance counselors Elementary teachers also are becoming scarce, he said

Milwaukee, its suburbs and the southeastern part of the state are having the most difficulty filling teaching stafls, Heideman said, with the Madison and Fox Valley areas reporting fewer problems

Firemen Called To Furnace Fire

Six units of the Appleton Fire Department were called about 10 a m Wednesday when a furnace began to burn out of control at the R Heath Reeves residence 714 S Rankin St

Repairmen had started the furnace, which had been converted to oil, when it began to burn out of control Firemen said the fire pot had overloaded with fuel oil

Knowles Picks Air Pollution Control Council

Bill Signed Tuesday Starts Wisconsin Fight on Dirty Air

MADISON — Gov Warren P Knowles Wednesday named seven members to the new Air Pollution Control Council created under the bill signed into law Tuesday, putting Wisconsin into the war against dirty air

The new Council will advise the new Department of Natural Resources on rules and operating procedures for the Air pollution effort which will be waged alongside of Wisconsin's leading anti water pollution activities

Knowles signed the air pollution act Tuesday, almost one year after the reorganized anti water pollution activities got underway under the Department of Resource Development

On Aug 1 that department will be merged with the Conservation Department into a new Department of Natural Resources under the Kellett Reorganization Act

Named to the new council were Dr William Lea Madison a State Board of Health Chemical engineer, Wilfred A Pollack manager of research and development for the Wisconsin Electric Power Co, and chairman of the Milwaukee County Advisory Board on Air Pollution Martin Burke Jr, Whitefish Bay former chairman of the Milwaukee County group, Fred R Rehm Deputy Director of the Milwaukee County Air Pollution Control Department, Norman Amrhein Milwaukee Burt Carlson Milwaukee and Dr David Carley Ripon

The members will serve staggered terms Appointed for three-year terms were Rehm and Amrhein Two year appointments were given to Lea and Burke and Pollock Carlson and Carley will serve one year each

Gravel Truck Driver Escapes Injury in Calumet County Crash

CHILTON Clarence F Fluhr 55, route 1, New Holstein, escaped injury early Tuesday morning when the gravel truck he was driving was involved in an accident

Fluhr was driving a truck owned by the Tri-County Ready Mix Company and was northbound on State 57 about two miles north on County Trunk H when the left front tire blew out The truck swerved across the southbound lane of traffic onto the shoulder and into the ditch

The truck was loaded with gravel and had to be unloaded before it could be pulled out of the ditch, state patrolmen said.

Italians Bid In Different Suit Order

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When they hold two suits of different length, American bridge players are taught to bid the longer suit first. In general, Italian bidders show the shorter suit first.

In today's hand, played in the recent world championship, Camillo Pabis-Ticci, of the world championship Italian team, opened the South hand with one diamond. When he later bid the spades it was clear to everybody that South had more spades than diamonds.

Mimmo d'Alelio used the same principle in responding with the North hand. He bid the clubs first and showed the hearts later, thus indicating that he held more hearts than clubs.

Americans would open the South hand with one spade and would respond two hearts on the North hand. South's diamonds and North's clubs would be shown secondarily if at all. Americans seem to miss their best suit far more often than the Italians, but this so-called canape style of bidding is barred in American tournaments for no reason that I have ever been able to understand.

Fine Defense

In this case fine defense defeated Pabis-Ticci's spade game. West opened a spade, and East took the ace and returned a spade. This deprived South of the chance to ruff diamonds in the dummy.

When South eventually led clubs, West held up the ace of clubs until the third round of the suit. Declarer won a trick with dummy's king, but not with the last club. South got five trumps, two diamonds, one heart and one club, falling one trick short.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-J 10 4, H-K J 2, D-J 9 4 3, C-A Q 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. The hand is one point short of the value needed for a jump to 2-NT. It wouldn't be a heinous crime to bid 2-NT anyway, but the orthodox course is to bid two diamonds and decide at your next turn whether to bid notrump or raise spades.

AHS Class of '22 Meets Again

Appleton High School class spirit undiminished by years was shown Saturday evening as 60 members of an original class of 118 met for their 45-year reunion. The event was held at Reetz's Supper Club.

Of the Class of 1922, there are still 91 living members. Reunion committee members were unable to contact only six.

Among party guests was former principal Herbert Helble. When the class was graduated, the high school was housed in the old Ryan School, now called Morgan School.

Robert Currie has been reunion chairman since the class held its first get-together in 1938. There have been six since then, including reunions in 1947, 1952, 1957 and 1962. At the Saturday evening dinner program members discussed plans for the golden anniversary reunion in 1972.

Assisting Mr. Currie with arrangements were Stanley Gillespie, Lyman Clark, Andrew Liethen, Fay Zeh, LaVahn Maesch, Herman Schnitzkewitz, Howard Eberhardt, Miss Dorothy Schenck, Miss Mabel Kuether, Miss Laura Gilman, Miss Irma Weisgerber, Mrs. Cornelius Crowe, Mrs. Burton Clark and Mrs. Walter Cooper, all of Appleton; Herold Berro, Menasha; Joseph Heinzkill, Neenah, and Sylvester Stingle, Sherwood.

Scrapbooks, lists of names and old framed photographs brought back memories of high school days to AHS Class of '22 members. Looking at the displays are Mr. and Mrs. Lee D. Leighton, Charleston, W.Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boettcher, San Bernardino, Calif. At left, talking and putting on name tags as they arrive, are Miss Mabel Kuether and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berro, Menasha. Post-Crescent Photos

Muscovites Raise Eyebrows At West's Higher Hemlines

By MONICA BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — It's the greatest East-West confrontation since Glassboro: miniskirts vs. Muscovites.

And the Russians are taking the hard line. One old woman in Gorky Park took a switch to an American girl and lashed the backs of her bare knees.

Girl Watching

Around the Intourist hotels, the foreign currency shops and the International Film Festival, Russians ogle the most scantily, most gaudily clad girls ever seen off the stage of the Bolsoi Ballet.

They're foreigners, mainly British, American, Scandinavian and German tourists.

All winter Moscow heard rumors of just how mini the miniskirt had become in the fabled, distant West. A few brave Russians raised hems a scandalous inch above the knee.

Knees Well Covered

But by spring the average dress still amply covered the usually ample Russian kneecap.

Now they're seeing the real thing—6 to 10 inches above the knee. And the psychedelic colors seem as surprising as the brevity in the drab Moscow setting.

One girl at a film festival party wore a crocheted, see-through "dress" of bathing-suit proportions over a body-stocking. Even the movie stars, not to mention people from the comparatively sophisticated Soviet cultural scene, were shocked.

Less sophisticated, less worldly Muscovites are not taking this invasion calmly.

The babushka—the word means grandmother but applies to any little old Russian woman—in Gorky Park was not alone.

An Australian girl and another babushka were seen in a tug-of-war all the way across a broad, busy street. The old woman was trying to pull the girl's hem down to her knees and the girl was frantically trying to escape.

Will the secretive Russians, who rejected Western "open skies" and disarmament inspection plans, yield to inspection of the upper legs?

Some of the younger tourists from such Communist countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia are wearing minis. Russian girls are envious—and experimenting.

Marriage Ceremony Performed

FREMONT — Miss Carla Nysse became the bride of Darrel Ehlke at 4 p.m. Saturday at Emanuel Lutheran Church, New London. The Rev. Frederick Heideman officiated at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Nysse, route 1, Fremont, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ehlke, route 1, Fremont.

The bride chose Mrs. James Barrington, Appleton, her sister, as matron of honor. Miss Mary Wagner was bridesmaid.

Ronald Ehlke performed the duties of best man for his brother. James Barrington served as groomsman. Allen Nysse and Edward Tesch seated guests.

A reception was held at the church.

Mr. Ehlke is employed by Bergstrom Paper Co., Neenah.

Marriage Announced

Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Elyse Wittkopf and Cory Lynn Anderson in a 2 p.m. June 24 ceremony at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Spread Eagle. Officiating at the nuptial rite was the Rev. J. William Robertson.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Wittkopf, Florence. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, 1018 Whittier Drive.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Roger Pfenning, Eau Claire, and bridesmaid was Miss Pamela Schuster.

Kirk Anderson performed best man's duties for his brother. Guests were seated by Charles Kwick and Allen T. Wittkopf.

The new Mrs. Anderson and her husband are graduates of Wisconsin State University-La Crosse where he will teach in fall. The bride will teach high school in LaCrosse.

Geraldine Dahl Tell Plans for July Wedding

KAUKAUNA — A July wedding is planned by Miss Geraldine Dahl and Donald Gosdeck. Their engagement has been announced by the bride elect's father.

She is the daughter of Herman Dahl, Marinette, and the late Mrs. Dahl. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gosdeck, 827 Desmoyer St.

The couple was graduated from Dr. Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn. Miss Dahl will teach in Columbus, Ohio, in the fall, her fiance will teach in Brillion.

Miss Streisand Begins Filming Of 'Funny Girl'

NEW YORK (AP) — "They give me a chair with my name on it," said Barbra Streisand. "So when do I get to use it?"

That wry appraisal of her first film making experience came Tuesday as the singer-actress paused between takes to catch her breath.

"When friends ask me what I did in the movie of 'Funny Girl,' I'll tell them I was a porter — the only porter in history to wear a sable hat," she said.

Then she picked up a suitcase in one hand, a makeup case and a bunch of yellow roses in the other and sprinted down an East River pier at the director's command.

"This is the hardest work I've ever known," she said later. "I had to be up at 6 in the morning. I'm not used to that. Normally I don't get up until 1. I'm used to theater hours."

Understanding Changes Soothes Menopausal Ills

Planning for her future and understanding clearly what is happening to her are apt to be the most potent medicines for the ills of the menopause. This is the message Drs. Elizabeth B. Connell, assistant professor of the New York Medical College and Eugene J. Slowinski, chairman of obstetrics and gynecology at Creighton University in Omaha, Neb., brought to colleagues attending a recent medical meeting in Washington, D.C.

Defining the menopause as a biological change in women requiring social and psychological adaptability, Dr. Connell pointed out that the age at which menopause occurs is advancing, beginning generally at about 45 years of age and ending at about 50. As Dr. Slowinski commented, "It couldn't happen at a worse time in a woman's life: She's often raising teen-agers; her husband is too busy to give her emotional support; she's just beginning to have health problems."

About 15 to 20 per cent of all women sail through the menopause with virtually no symptoms, according to Dr. Connell, and a small number experience really severe symptoms. Most of womankind is troubled, intermittently, by hot flush and flashes, weight gain, weight redistribution, abnormally profuse or irregular menstruation, headaches, crying spells, palpitations, memory impairment. Of course, not all women suffer all these problems.

Health Worries

As though these were not trouble enough, women begin to worry about their health at about this time. They know, in this age of instant and constant communication, that cancer, heart disease, arthritis and other ills strike older people.

Sex becomes worrisome to many women at this time. Facing a few wrinkles and a thickening waist they wonder whether they will continue to be sexually attractive. Sexual interest, Dr. Connell and Dr. Slowinski agreed, doesn't diminish, but it does begin to worry the menopausal woman.

Some, no longer fearing pregnancy, find sex more attractive. Others, associating sex only with reproduction, worry over the propriety of sex relations when the reproductive function is over.

Recognize Fears

Both physicians agreed that hormonal therapy, as well as other palliative therapy may be helpful to some women for some of their problems. But there is no panacea, they pointed out.

As important, according to Dr. Slowinski, is educating the woman about menopause. Recognizing the fears about general health, he points out frankly how important it is, especially at this point in a woman's life, to maintain good health habits.

He is reassuring about sex, explaining that recent research shows that women of menopausal age can be sexually active for about 25 more years. "I give my patients updated facts of life," he said.

Map Future

Since weight is indeed a problem at menopause, he places women on appropriate diets and urges regular exercise. The rubber tire where the old gracefully and beautifully."

Mother Shop-Lifts for Son; Observer Asks What to Do

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Today as I was standing in line at the grocery store I saw something I could not believe. If I had been told about this incident, instead of witnessing it with my own eyes, I would have thought it was a made-up story.

As the line moved toward the checkout counter we passed a rack of cigarettes, candy bars and chewing gum. In front of me stood a mother and her son, who appeared to be about 10 years of age. This mother picked up a candy bar, dropped it into her son's pocket and then she winked at him and put her finger to her lips, cautioning him to keep quiet.

I watched and listened carefully as the woman checked out her groceries. She did not say one word about the candy bar.

I am not asking what you think of a mother who would do such a thing. I know your answer to that one. What I need to know is what was my responsibility, as an observer? Please advise at once. I'm shook. — What A World

Dear World: If I had been in your shoes I would have followed the woman out of the store, taken her aside, away from the hearing of her son, and told her that she had obviously forgotten to pay for the candy bar. I would have further suggested that she make sure her son saw her pay for the candy bar because surely she would not want her boy to think his mother was a thief. If this were done in a gentle, non-accusatory but firm manner, you could have taught that mother a very valuable lesson.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What do you think of a girl who invites her boy friend to move into her home for two weeks while her mother is away on a trip with a man she is not married to? There would be no adults in the house — just the girl, her younger sister and my son. The excuse is that the mother wants a man in the house to watch the girls.

I had a talk with the young lady and told her that this was not my idea of decent behavior, either by her or her mother. She informed me that I am out of my mind, that this is a whole new world, and I am living in the dark ages. She then said, "My mother is a wonderful woman and just because she does not choose to live like you do does not mean she is immoral."

My son is so infatuated with this girl he can't see straight, let alone think straight. The more I talk, the deafer he becomes. I'd like your ideas on this. — Savannah Troubles

Dear Savannah: You don't say how old your son is, and this is an important factor. If he is 16 or 17 you ought to let him have it with both barrels, and snap him out of his deafness right now. If he is of legal age he can do as he pleases so save your breath to whistle Dixie.

Talking to the girl, and especially putting the knock on her mother was a mistake. You might have known she would not be receptive to your ideas. My advice is to stay away from her and stop fighting with your son about this mess. One day he may get tired of the girl but if you continue to criticize her he might hang on just to "prove" that he can live his own life.

Sandra Larsen

November Rite Planned by Miss Larsen

NICHOLS — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larsen have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Keith Moeller. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moeller, Bonduel.

The bride-elect is employed by Zwicker Knitting Mills, Appleton. Her fiance is a Marine Corporal stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Princess Pulls Gold Tassel Off Plaque Cover

DERWENT, England (AP) — Princess Alexandra yanked a bit too hard when she unveiled a plaque, and the ornamental gold tassel came away in her hand.

"Oops, sorry," said the cousin of Queen Elizabeth II before bursting into laughter.

Official Frank Rennoldson hurriedly whipped the cover from the plaque and the city's new reservoir was duly declared open.

"The princess asked if she could keep the tassel," he said Tuesday.

Miss Eve Arden Wins Chicago Theater Award

CHICAGO (AP) — The Sarah Siddons Society has named comedienne Eve Arden as the best actress of Chicago's 1966-67 theater season.

The society, a group of critics, theater goers and society leaders, selected Miss Arden from a field of 66 actresses for her work in the title role of "Hello, Dolly!"

Announcement of the award was made Tuesday. A statue of Mrs. Siddons, an 18th century British actress, will be presented Miss Arden next winter.

SHIOCTON — Members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 512, returned from the state convention held Saturday and Sunday in Madison, with 11 first-place awards in nine divisions.

Representing the area unit at the parley were Mrs. Earl Burton, Mrs. George Kennedy and Mrs. Raymond Muskavitch, delegates, and Mrs. Allen Gunderson, delegate-at-large.

The group's Americanism program recieved the Best Year 'Round Narrative report citation, as did the child welfare and community service program. The unit was honored for its promotion of the poppy program and "over the top" membership the past five years. These winning programs will be entered in competition next month at the national convention in Boston.

Mrs. Wendy Oberstadt was crowned this year's Miss Poppy Sunday by Miss Lori Verboven. Menasha Miss Susan Woulf won in the Tiny Tot division.

Mrs. Paul Doerfler, Kimberly, was named department chaplain.

Workshops attended by the delegates included those concerned with Americanism, child welfare, Community service and public relations.

Future Beauty Secrets Provided by Capsules

Ever since Eve took that first bite of the apple, beauty and the ever-changing standards for beauty have preoccupied women all over the world.

In its 100-year publishing history, a fashion magazine has reported the changes in beauty concepts from the pompadoured Gibson Girl to the tousle-haired Bardot. In its July issue, the magazine looks 100 years ahead to beauty in 2067.

Where do we go from here? Scientists predict more will be learned in the next five years about beauty improvement techniques than has been discovered in the past 5,000 years. If the crystal ball-gazers are correct, beauty aids in 2067 will be staggering. Pills will change the color of the eyes, turn a lady from blonde to brunette or redhead, and lighten or darken the skin. Other pills will be enough to straighten or curl the hair, make it grow or disappear. And can you imagine taking a pill to tighten the muscles so that a girdle isn't needed!

Rampage of Color

The predicters predict that the next century will see color on a rampage. The lady may have a spring-green face one day a twiligh-blue one the next, depending upon her clothes and mood.

The Elizabeth Arden researchers say that everyone will be able to have beautiful skin thanks to a spate of medically formulated cosmetics. Revlon feels that the future generation will have faces sculptured like living masks — a Roman nose today, a snub nose tomorrow. Charles of the Ritz sees make-up for the whole body, with weatherproofed hair unaffected by rain, wind or humidity. Other manufacturers like Helena Rubinstein are hard at work perfecting pills, sprays and cosmetics to withstand changes in outer space.

Now if geriatric research will just figure out how to keep us going until all this comes true!

Proper Cooking Can Enhance Corn Flavor

In popularity this fresh vegetable leads all the rest, and with peak-of-ripeness cars arriving daily in your supermarket, it's time to feast your fill. The following suggestions may help you enjoy fresh corn all the more:

— To kettle-cook: Pull husk from ear and break off stub. Using paper toweling, rub away any silk that still clings. Drop corn into a kettle half-filled with boiling water — no need to salt. Cook, covered, 5 to 10 minutes; lift out ear with tongs.

— T grill: Husk corn and remove silk; spread kernels with butter or margarine; season. Wrap each ear in double-thick foil, twisting ends to seal. Place over hot coals. Cook, turning often, 15 to 25 minutes, depending on how hot the fire is.

— To oven-roast: Peel back husk, leaving stub on, and remove all silk. Butter kernels; season with salt and pepper. Pull husk back in place; tie tips. Place in a shallow pan, but do not add any water. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 20 minutes.

— To cut kernels from cob: Holding ear upright on waxed paper, slice downward, two or three rows at a time. Try not to cut deeply into the hull. When finished, hold cob over measuring cup and press out remaining pulp and milk with the back of knife.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Eyeglasses Myths

Most lovelies rue the day they started wearing glasses. Specs, they wail, look too awful. But that's a myth, one of several about glasses.

Doubtless you've heard the old - wives' tale about how glasses limit your choice of hairstyles and hats. It's nonsense. If all three elements are suited to your face, they complement each other — and you, too. There's even an exception that proves the rule. It's an overlong bang. To avoid shaggy-dog effects, bangs must not tangle with your glasses.

Still another fable claims that eye cosmetics and eyeglasses are incompatible. And it's just not so, for the reason that frames call attention to your eyes and lenses sometimes magnify size. A subtle use of eye make-up is a means of outwitting your specs. When eyes are beautiful, who looks at glasses?

The final fiction about glasses has to do with their fashionability. Are they a minus or a plus fashion quantity? When they are co-ordinated in color and type to the clothes you wear, glasses are a handsome accessory. Several pairs are required to turn the trick, at least one for day wear and one for evening occasions.

Actually you lose nothing by wearing glasses — well-chosen and thought-through glasses — except the unattractive squint and frown lines that accompany poor vision.

Grandmother Arrives From West Germany

Oriental Twist Peps Up Old Standbys–Beef, Tuna

Tuna fish sandwiches and hamburgers are both summer favorites because they're simple to make, filling, and well-liked by the children. But anything can become tiresome if you serve it the same old way too often. With the addition of a few interesting ingredients, these two summer standards can be transformed into unusual and eye-appealing treats.

Next time the kids ask for tuna, try Oriental Tuna Sandwiches. These easy-to-prepare open-faced sandwiches, made on English muffins or slices of French bread, are topped with chilled Chinese vegetables and colorful avocado slices.

Tired of hamburgers? Spark your summer menu with Egg Foo Young-Beef Stacks, a tasty burger variation in which each meat patty is topped with an egg foo young patty, a slice of cheddar cheese and a dollop of sweet and sour sauce. An olive and cherry tomato "tower" atop each burger makes a special treat for the children. If preferred, minute steaks can be substituted for hamburgers in this recipe.

Each of these colorful dishes is knife-and-fork fare, and makes an excellent luncheon or supper main course particularly suited to porch or patio dining. Start the meal with soup, accompany the main course with a bowl of crunchy chow mein noodles or with some crisp bite-size egg rolls, which are available in your grocer's frozen food case, and round out the menu with iced soft drinks. You'll find that your new versions of the tuna sandwich and the hamburger take only minutes to prepare, and will please kids and adults alike.

Oriental Sandwich

- 2 cups drained and flaked canned tuna
- 1 can (5 oz.) water chestnuts, drained and chopped
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tbsp. finely chopped green onion
- 1 tbsp. lemon juice
- 2 tsp. soya sauce
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 4 English muffins, halved or 8 slices French or Italian bread, room temperature butter
- 1 can (16 oz.) chop suey vegetables, chilled
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 avocado, peeled and cut in thin slices

Blend tuna with water chestnuts, mayonnaise, green onion, lemon juice, soya sauce and curry powder. Toast muffins; spread with butter. Drain chilled chop suey vegetables and sprinkle with salt. Spread tuna mixture generously over buttered muffin and top with chop suey vegetables, garnish with thin slices of avocado.

Makes 8 servings

Egg Foo Young

Beef-Stacks

- 4 hamburger patties, ½" thick or 4 frozen minute steaks
- 1 pkg. (12 oz.) frozen egg foo young
- 4 slices cheddar cheese (3½ to 4 inch squares)
- 4 tbsp. sweet and sour Sauce
- 1 tbsp. dry sherry
- 4 stuffed olives
- 4 cherry tomatoes

Place meat patties or steaks in greased 8" square baking dish. To make "stacks," top each piece of meat with an egg foo young patty followed with a slice of cheese, then top each with a tablespoon of sweet and sour sauce. Spear each stack with a toothpick to hold securely in place. Bake in 375 degree oven for 30 minutes. Just before serving, mix egg foo young sauce (enclosed in frozen egg foo young package) with sherry, heat to boiling. Remove stacks from oven, place an olive and cherry tomato on the end of each toothpick and serve immediately, accompanied with pitcher of sauce.

Makes 4 servings

Egg Foo Young Beef-Stack and oriental sandwich are a delightful main course idea for summer menus. Easy to prepare and well-liked by children, they are an unusual variety of the old standbys, hamburger and tuna.

Paper Togs Becoming Million Dollar Fun

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The fun's in the bag — the paper bag — this summer.

Paper bikinis, paper surf jackets, paper bras, paper culottes, paper sandals-even paper wedding gowns and paper gray flannel suits. Temporary fashion has sent the nation on a wastebasket binge.

"Paper is in now," said Melvin E. Dawley, president of Lord & Taylor, the New York-based department store chain. "Only time will tell if it is a fad. If designing keeps good, it will be lasting."

"The whole area has begun to expand like crazy," said a spokesman for Kimberly-Stevens Corp., a major supplier of paper-type material which is 93 per cent cellulose and 7 per cent nylon.

Even Bigger

Americans spent $3.5 million on paper clothes last year when the first paper toggery was introduced. This summer the paper caper is bigger than ever. Designs are more elaborate, prints are colorful.

"We're doing fantastically," said William Guggenheim 3d, 28, a Yale graduate and former stockbroker who opened in Dispensable Disposables, a paper shop, on New York's Upper East Side last month.

He predicts it soon will be a $1 billion a year industry.

By 1980, paper will account for 25 per cent of the apparel business, predicts Oliver James Sterling, 30, a former Texas oilman.

In Production

Sterling set up shop just this past year and now has six plants turning out 15,000 to 20,000 items a day — items like cowl-collared caftans, ruffle-skirted mini-dresses, pant suits, evening culottes and tortoise shell-strapped evening dresses — all made from paper.

His newest item is a double breasted suit for men, to sell for about $12. "It looks like gray flannel," he says. "It should be great for businessmen and conventions."

Guggenheim stocks many of Sterling's items in his narrow shop, where paper sunglasses, paper bows, paper bracelets, paper jumpsuits and paper raincoats are pinned to the walls.

"Paper has become high fashion," Guggenheim says. "I see it as a forerunner of a disposable apparel industry."

It began almost inadvertently last year when Scott Paper Co. offered a paper A-line dress for $1 to promote its colored tissues. It was swamped with orders for 500,000 dresses.

Across Country

Since then department stores across the country have opened paper boutiques, and dozens of designers and manufacturers have jumped in. Paper prints now are sold by the yard.

There are matching bedspreads and curtains, chests of drawers in dazzling prints, whimsical lampshades, mirrors, chairs and a 7-foot daisy. $40 — all made from paper — at Paper Place, the shop the Brooklyn department store Abraham & Straus opened this spring.

A greeting card company, Hallmark, has come out with a splashy floral print dress — carefully coordinated with paper plates, tablecloth and napkins. Now the line is being expanded to include a set for a little girl's birthday party, a big girl's Christmas — and some matching paper wear for men.

Air-India advertised a paper sari in brilliant green with antique gold scrolls, bordered in royal purple, for $4.95. "Wear it to a barbecue," the airline invited. "It's fireproof. Only the neighboring princes will be set ablaze."

"We had 5,000 requests," an Air-India spokesman said. "We couldn't keep up with the orders and had to return the checks. Now we are having another 5,000 made."

American Girl Temporary Service, Inc., which employes about 20,000 women a year, turned to paper dresses to help recruit more.

To every woman who passed its tests, the temporary help firm handed out a paper dress, labelled inside — "American girls are the paper dolls that move the paper of American business."

"We just reordered 200 dozen and probably will double the order again," said Sabatino A Russo Jr., the president. "The dresses have been a great success. They probably increased our applications 15 to 17 per cent."

Remodeled Vanity Enhances Bathroom

A vanity mirror framed with incandescent bulbs in the manner of a stage dressing room provides a starring role — and adequate light — for the lady of the house in her beauty applications.

Ceramic tile on the vanity counter provides beauty for the room with the plus factors of easy cleaning and no damage from spillage.

Hot Sudsy Water, Soaking Remove Mildew Stains

Humid weather can cause mildew on fabrics kept in an unaired closet or room.

To remove mildew spots on cotton items first brush the spot, then put the item out in the sun to air if possible.

Then wash fabrics in hot sudsy water and dry in the sun. For stubborn stains, apply lemon juice and salt, or soak the item in liquid chlorine bleach and hot water.

Young Look Sparkles at Italian Show

By LEONORA DODSWORTH

ROME (AP)—The Fontana Sisters, Italy's famous fashion trio, have surprised Rome fashion presentations with a show full of vim and vigor.

These shrewd stylists would be the first to admit that a sporty young look has not been their image. But suddenly that has been changed with the collaboration of a talented young man who calls himself "Yorn."

County casuals in tawny tweeds teamed pedal pusher pants with dashing jackets and chunky turtle-collar sweaters. The models showed them at a spanking pace which pepped up the clothes even more.

Cute little "Alice in Wonderland" boots in white patent leather were laced up to the ankle. Stockings were in white rib with turnover cuffs.

Wide Belts

Capes in cream-smooth gabardine swung over calf-length skirts clasped round the waist with wide leather belts. Gold ball-bearing buttons studded patch pockets, cuff tabs and martingale belts.

Funnel-necked dresses were belted well south of the waist with big, shiny oval buckles in the same shade as the dress.

Shepherds' smocks attached to brief pleated skirts gave blousing a boost. The smocks were shirred in honeycob stitch around the neck and at the dropped waist line.

Innocent Look

All youth and innocence was a simple, skimming shape dress beaded in pink and white crystal with Peter Pan collar and shirt cuffs in white silk.

By night, waistlines climbed from the hips to a high Empire level. A brown velvet beauty had a deep flounced hem and sleeves. A brown satin bow prinked the scooped-out neckline in back.

Centinaro cropped her hems at the knee. Petite princess dresses fanned out at the hemline. Bias cuts created shapes that slithered over the body without indenting the waist.

Coats were constructed to give a small-boned look with belts and rows of buttons filling in the details.

Soldiers Square Ramp to Open Before Sale Day

Parking Facility Probably Will be Ready by Tuesday

Soldiers Square Parking Ramp will be opened before Appleton's annual sidewalk sale next Wednesday.

Frank Keuler, public works director, said today that it is not yet definite just what day the new ramp will be accepted by the city, but indications were it probably will be Tuesday.

In connection with finishing work being done on the new multi-level parking structure, the city council Wednesday night approved a board of public works request that the council's purchasing procedure be waived and an informal quotation of $1.968 by United States Steel Corporation be accepted for fencing and post installation.

Some Finishing Remains

There are other small finishing jobs remaining, Keuler said, but he explained that the areas in which the work is being done will be barricaded when the ramp is used during the sidewalk sale, which is expected to draw a large number of people to the city.

Keuler said there will be room for about 400 vehicles in the ramp on that day. Ramp capacity is 450 cars.

Although the cashier system will not be in operation when the ramp opens next week, there will be attendants who will collect a flat fee for parking.

Final Action Taken

In a related move Wednesday, aldermen took final action on an ordinance providing for the operation of the new ramp under a cashier type system.

The municipal code will provide that rates to be charged will be 10 cents for the first hour and 15 cents an hour for each hour thereafter, with a maximum charge of $1.50 per day.

Effective date for the rates will be the date of installation of equipment needed for the cashier operation

Mielke Reconsideration Denied

Threaten School Suit

BY BILL KNUTSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Threat of a lawsuit followed close on the heels of a city council vote Wednesday night which resulted in the denial of reconsideration of the Mielke property as the site for a proposed southside elementary school.

Thomas Thorson, Grand Chute town chairman, said immedately following the abbreviated council meeting, that legal action probably will be taken by Grand Chute to declare the two prior votes on the Mielke site "null and Void" because the number of votes allowed Grand Chute, as a member of the fiscal control board, was based on the town's 1965 equalized valuation and not the 1966 figures which would have allowed more votes.

Just prior to his statement, aldermen, in a matter of minutes, killed an attempt to bring the Mielke site up for reconsideration by failing to come up with the needed two-thirds majority vote to suspend rules so it could be heard under new business of the council.

Moves for Reconsideration

The fast moving chain of events — often marked by three or four aldermen asking for the floor at the same time — began when Ald. John Steidl (18th) moved for reconsideration of the Mielke property.

The council, on two prior votes, rejected the Mielke site in favor of the Hoover Park site.

Ald. Orville A. Strutz (17th) asked that Steidl be ruled out of order and City Atty. David Geenen agreed, ruling that the council "could not reconsider something that has already been reconsidered."

Ald. James Bethke (9th), one of the prime movers for construction of the new grade school on the Mielke site, cited council rules and challenged Geenen's ruling and that of Mayor George Buckley who ruled that Steidl's motion for reconsideration was out of order.

Vote to Sustain Ruling

Aldermen voted 11-9 to sustain the ruling, after which Steidl, who was not at the council meeting earlier this month

How They Voted

This is how Appleton aldermen voted on the suspension of rules to allow for reconsideration of the Mielke property as a southside school site:

For suspension of rules: Alds. Bethke (9th), Beyer (20th), Hoolihan (11th), Kalata (2nd), Mac Donald (7th), Schwarzbauer (10th), Steidl (18th), Stoegbauer (4th), Tews (5th) and Thompson (13th). Total 10.

Against: Ayers (12th), Errington (15th), Gertsch (19th), Groh (8th), Huisman (1st), Mullen (6th), Pointer (14th), Radder (16th), Strutz (17th), Wachtendonk (3rd). Total 10.

Ambulance Firm Operator Criticizes Model Ordinance

Seidl Says, 'It Stinks,' but Linzmeyer Finds No Objections

A model ordinance aimed at helping to regulate Appleton's ambulance service met with both preliminary approval and strong criticism Wednesday afternoon by owners of the city's two private ambulance firms.

Shown the model ordinance at a meeting of the city council's public safety committee, Harold Linzmeyer, operator of Lindy's Ambulance Service, said he could find no objections to its provisions. Most aspects of the ordinance were prepared, for national distribution, by medical, ambulance, and safety organizations, following years of research.

Larry Seidl, operator of Larry's Ambulance Service, after a brief review of the model ordinance, said of the proposal, "I think it stinks."

Both Seidl and Linzmeyer were given copies of the 18-page proposal for further study before the next public safety committee meeting July 25, at which time they can make further comments and recommendations.

Further Attention

Ald. John Ayers (12th), committee chairman, said that the model ordinance, distributed in Wisconsin by the State Medical Society, would get further attention in his committee, then would be passed on to the city council for referral.

Wednesday was the first time the ambulance operators had a chance to review the model regulation, which Ayers cautioned will probably be shortened and changed to fit the Appleton situation before final action is taken.

Ayers, in answer to Seidl, said the ordinance is needed to establish uniform standards for ambulance service and regulation. He said that such an ordinance would aid the ambulance services as well as help the city "keep a thumb" on the operations.

At one point following criticism by Seidl, Police Chief Earl O. Wolff replied, "You guys (ambulance operators) have created your own problems." He told Seidl that he had warned the ambulance operators some time ago that an ordinance would "come sooner or later" if they did not solve their problems.

Wolff charged that both ambulance operators "sing the same song" regarding the problems each contends he has with the other

Operator License

Although, as Ayers stated, several aspects of the model ordinance probably will be revised, one of the major provisions calls for the licensing of the ambulance operator, for a

Corpsman Hit By Schrapnel

Robert Joosten, 20, Little Chute, Dies In South Vietnam

LITTLE CHUTE — Robert Joosten, 20-year-old son of Mrs Walter Joosten, 603 E Main St., a Navy medical corpsman on patrol with an advance unit of Marines in Vietnam who was reported killed in action Wednesday died when his patrol was ambushed and he was hit by schrapnel fragments.

Joosten was a 1965 graduate of St. John High School where he was active in basketball and track events

He signed for a four-year tour of duty with the Navy in March, 1966, and following boot camp at Great Lakes Naval Training Station volunteered for Naval Corps School.

Service School

In April, 1967, after completion of training at Adcom Medical School at Great Lakes, Joosten was selected for Field Medical Service School at Marine base Camp Pendleton, Calif

He was then assigned to the Fifth Marine Division, a fighting unit in Vietnam.

Joosten is survived by his mother and a sister at home. His father died in November, 1966.

Right Time, But He Was Half Day Late

The man who came to dinner in Appleton Wednesday night found no other guests, and discovered he had missed breakfast.

John Schmitt, president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO, had accepted an invitation from, and intended to offer the cooperation of his office to, the business and industry leaders who met Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. to help organize the United Givers campaign

"Half Hour Early"

Arriving at the Conway a "half hour early", he asked the hotel deskman where the business leaders were gathering for the United Givers meeting.

At 7 p.m., when he called Art Malin, Red Feather campaign director, Schmitt said, "When the man told me he thought the meeting was that morning, I just silently walked away."

Unions Behind Plan

Schmitt told Malin unions are 100 per cent behind united giving, and he planned to have Wilbert Walter, community relations staff member with the state union group, spend about a week in Appleton.

Walter will meet with local unions, and help develop cooperation between labor and management for employe participation with United Givers.

County GOP Elects Mitchell New Chairman

Former Mayor Takes Outagamie Post Held By Murel Edinger

Clarence Mitchell, 312 W. Lindbergh St., mayor of Appleton from 1958 to 1966, Wednesday was named chairman of the Outagamie County Republican Party.

Clarence Mitchell

Elected by the party executive committee, he will fill the unexpired term of Murel Edinger, who resigned to become a state field representative with the organization backing George Romney for the Republican presidential nomination.

In accepting the post, Mitchell said, "I appreciate the confidence the executive committee has placed in me, and look forward to the challenging months ahead as we work to elect conscientious and dedicated Republicans to county, state and national offices. We want to build a strong party to better serve all of our citizens and I

Adjourns Until Aug. 14

Commission Withholds Campus Planning Fund

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The State Building Commission was stymied again today in its attempt to free funds for the development of final plans for the two new branch campuses of the University of Wisconsin.

On 4-4 votes the commission again tied over contending motions to allocate needed development money for both the university branch in Green Bay and Kenosha county or whether to allocate funds for only the Parkside campus in the southeastern part of the state.

On a 6-2 vote, the commission decided to adjourn until Aug 14, two weeks past the deadline set for release of funds if the universities are to be opened by September 1969

The funds needed for the preparation of working drawings and bid letting for the two campuses must be allocated by Aug 1, the commission was told, or the schools cannot open in September of 1969

The proposal calls for releasing $250,000 for each of the campuses to prepare the final plans for the $6.7 million Parkside campus and the $6.1 million Green Bay facility

Martin proposed the delay until Aug 14 because, he said, there still appears to be a deadlock

The state agency has been split over the campus development issue by evenly-balanced forces fighting the constructing of the Green Bay campus on the northeastern side of the city in preference to an Outagamie County-supported site on Green Bay's west side

Factional fights at the morning commission session split over whether the funds should be freed before the commission approves the necessary preliminary plans for the Green Bay campus

Led by Assemblyman David Martin, R-Neenah, the opponents of the Green Bay project argued that the preliminary Parkside plans now completed should be approved and the Green Bay proposal should be presented to the full commission at its August meeting

Approving just the Parkside plans would mean that just Parkside's $250,000 would be released Commission secretary Gerald Emmer told the commission the entire $500,000 is needed by Aug 1 if the campuses are to be opened as scheduled in 1969.

The Green Bay plans will be completed on July 28, Emmer said But a commission power, Sen Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside, said he could not attend a commission meeting between July 28 and Aug 20 and that the projects are too important to delay

Leonard is chairman of the commission's university affairs subcommittee which is overseeing the campus development

Martin argued that he cannot approve the plans without first

Council OKs Planning for Madison High

School Board Gets Authorization to Hire Architect

Unanimous consent was given by Appleton councilmen Wednesday night to authorize the hiring of an architect to prepare preliminary plans and specifications for a 12-room addition to Madison Junior High School

Councilmen were told that it is not necessary to advertise for bidders on the selecting of an architect

The Appeton Board of Education had asked last week that an architect be hired to prepare plans for the 12-classroom addition expected to cost about $500,000 The expansion recommended for the southside school includes two large areas on the ground floor and six rooms on the second level

High Level Bridge

With two aldermen dissenting, the city council also approved the interviewing of engineering

Marvin Satorius, 1108 W. Spencer St., was the taxi driver who is credited with possibly saving an elderly man's life when he collapsed Monday on S. Oneida Street.

Invited to College Avenue Grand Opening

Hope Offered 1-Day Mayor's Term

If a resolution passed unanimously by the city council Wednesday night has the desired effect "Mayor" Bob Hope will take the reins of city government for one day in September

The resolution, drafted by the man who would have to yield his chair to the internationally known comedian, asked that the Appleton City Council appoint Hope an honorary citizen of Appleton, have him officiate at the grand opening of College Avenue late in September and give him the honor of serving as "Mayor For A Day."

The resolution, drafted by Mayor George Buckley, will, as a result of council passage Wednesday, be sent to Hope.

Buckley Composed Resolution

Buckley, who composed the resolution Wednesday afternoon lists several "whereases," including

—"Bob Hope is under the mistaken impression that some official of the city referred to him as a Communist on some long past date."

—"Bob Hope is recognized in the City of Appleton as the the number one comedian in United States of America, not only because of his ability, but because of his clean, wholesome humor, which can be enjoyed by any family group in any city.

—"Bob Hope has devoted many long days, weeks, and months of his time, without remuneration, to entertain members of the armed forces of the United States wherever they may be stationed throughout the world.

—"The City of Appleton wishes to let Bob Hope know that he is respected and esteemed as an individual by us."

Rural Black Creek Man Fined and Sentenced On 2 Driving Charges

William G Jesse, 24, route 2 Black Creek, was sentenced to 30 days in the Outagamie County jail when he pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of driving after revocation of his license when he appeared in County Court Branch 2.

Judge Keller also revoked Jesse's license for a year.

The rural Black Creek man pleaded guilty to a second charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, and was fined $175 and costs or 90 days in jail, the term to run consecutive if the fine is not paid

Jesse was stopped by Seymour police about 2:30 a.m. July 20 on N. Main Street in Seymour.

Police Support Group Organized in Appleton

An organizational meeting of a proposed Appleton Committee on Police Support was held Wednesday night and plans were formulated to expand the group into a 'pep club' for local law enforcement agencies.

The meeting of 14 men was presided over by Don Krabbe, who had called the session and drew the group together.

Krabbe stated that one of the chief functions of the committee would be to add a measure of prestige to the policeman and a return to respect of law and order among the populace. He emphasized that while Appleton is not a disorderly community, it is growing to where the sheer size of the population leads to problems that must be handled by law enforcement.

Four members of the group offered to formulate a statement of policy for the committee as a whole to act upon. Harvey Priebe Jr., John Schreiter, John Van Dyke, and Gordon Wilson will meet to enumerate committee goals.

Krabbe emphasized that the group would not act as a pressure group or lobby organization, nor would they attempt to tell the police how to function. Schreiter stated that the move was "a long time coming" and felt that the committee could have a "tremendous impact" on the community.

Much of the work of the committee would be in a coordinating capacity, Krabbe added. There is really no tangible support that the group can make to a law enforcement agency, he stated, but just the fact that a group backing police support existed would bolster not only the police but the community as a whole.

Implementation of many various programs could begin soon, Krabbe said, with possible work to be done with PTA groups, civic clubs and schools.

A meeting of the entire committee is planned for Aug. 23, when it is hoped that definite policies can be formulated.

The Newly-Formed Appleton Committee on Police Support held its first meeting Wednesday night, and heard Don Krabbe, right, outline plans for adding prestige to police and respect for law. George Sim, left, and John Van Dyke were two of the 14 men to attend the meeting called by Krabbe. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Pair of Youths Plead Guilty to Driving Charges

Kenneth D. Gordon, 19, Two Rivers, was sentenced to 20 days in jail when he pleaded guilty Wednesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to a charge of reckless driving.

A 16-year-old Readfield youth today lost his license for 60 days on a similar charge.

Judge Gustave J. Keller also fine Gordon $100 and costs on the charge. Gordon pleaded guilty to a second charge of reckless driving, and was fined $50 or 24 days in jail.

He was stopped by Seymour police about 2:30 a.m. Wednesday on N. Main St.

Robert L. Wilz Jr., 16, Readfield, had his driver's license suspended for 60 days and was ordered to pay costs when he pleaded guilty in Branch 2 this morning to a charge of reckless driving.

Wilz was stopped by the State Patrol about 6 p.m. June 18 on Douglas Street in New London.

Powers Want to Control Arms, But Keep Exporting Them

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach says the administration is "taking a good hard look" at its role as a major supplier in the world's spiraling arms traffic

But Katzenbach cautioned: "That doesn't necessarily mean it thinks it's been wrong in the past, or that anything's going to change overnight. It's an awfully complicated problem—one that involves different kinds of problems in different parts of the world."

The administration's arms export policy has come in for increasing congressional criticism since the six-day Middle East war. Senators have talked of legislative restrictions on arms sales to potentially explosive areas. A House committee is scrutinizing the role of the Export-Import Bank in financing secret arms deals

So far, Pentagon and State Department sources indicate, there has been no hint of a major change in the policy under which the United States has sold or given away $46.1 billion in military hardware since 1949

The business-as-usual atmosphere continues despite two government-financed reports by a private consulting organization that indicate:

● The weapons used in virtually every one of a dozen regional conflicts since World War II have come from outside sources—primarily the arsenals of the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain and France.

● While more nations will begin producing their own hardware in the next decade, "the majority of local conflicts will be fought primarily with imported weapons."

● The introduction of weapons into already tense regional situations has not infrequently "provoked or hastened the outbreak of fighting."

● The end of one regional conflict usually is the signal for a renewed arms buildup that leads almost inevitably to further fighting at a more dangerous level.

● Unless there is cooperation among major powers to curtail arms deliveries, arms traffic will continue to a point where, for example, strategic ballistic missiles may be deployed through the Middle East by the early 1970s

The reports were prepared by Browne & Shaw Research Corp., of Waltham, Mass., a regular Defense Department consultant In "Project Diffusion," a study of the worldwide spread of combat planes and missiles, the organization concluded "the most pressing problem of U.S. military export control policy is the establishment of a more uniform view within the government

"Some official spokesmen are urging industry to increase its export sales of military equipment. Others at a very high level have deplored the cost, particularly to developing countries, of purchasing such equipment.

"Regional arms buildups are too rapid, and the United States is one of four principal suppliers. The public announcement by high U S officials that the United States, out of its concern over the diffusion problem, was conducting a review of its military export policies, would attract international notice and find support among policy-makers in other countries "

At present, no such public announcement seems imminent. One disgruntled munitions control expert in the government remarked "bureaucratic inertia dictates that our policy will go on. The senior members of the administration don't know what is going on. If the President wanted to know tomorrow the quantity of munitions sold to the Middle East in the past two years, no one could tell him. Nobody knows.

"We've built up a little empire here, and no one is willing to stand up and make a decision that this can't go on. Nobody's in charge "

What is the extent of the worldwide traffic in arms?

The United States alone, since 1950, has given other nations 8,540 jet fighters, 20,279 tanks, 30,340 missiles and rockets, 29,716 mortars, 2.1 million rifles, 1.4 million carbines, 146,780 machine guns, 359,423 trucks, 3,698 personnel carriers, 3,292 training planes, 36 destroyers, 24 submarines and 33 tugs.

In the Arab-Israeli war, U S-built Patton and Sherman tanks were used by both Israel and Jordan. The brief war involved weapons from the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, and—in smaller numbers—Italy, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, West Germany and Sweden

In one of the most authoritative reports on the worldwide munitions traffic, the Institute for Strategic Studies commented:

"It is ironic that the major powers—in particular the United States, Britain, and Russia—which have consistently argued for restrictions on the dissemination of nuclear weapons, have at the same time pursued large military aid and sales programs of conventional weapons to countries outside the direct East-West confrontation, and in areas where active or potential local disputes exist."

Hike in Medicare Cost Under Study

Hospital, Medical Expenses Are Higher Than Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee plans to push for a hike in the payroll tax for medicare to meet skyrocketing increases in hospital and medical costs

That's the word from congressional sources, who indicated Wednesday government estimates of hikes in such costs were off better than 100 per cent

The committee originally believed President Johnson's plan to extend medicare to the disabled as well as aged could be accomplished by upping the taxable base of an individual's income from $6,600 to $7,800

But sources said the panel has found that hospital charges, expected to jump about 7 per cent a year, instead are climbing at a 15 per cent rate

Sources said the panel informally has decided on a Social Security tax boost equivalent of four-tenths of 1 per cent on the tax base of $7,800, half paid by the employer, half by the employe

Other planned increases in taxes — to expand Social Security coverage and benefits — could cause a jump of more than $100 a year from employes earning $7,800 or more, it's estimated.

As the committee grappled with Social Security, House Republican Leader Gerald R Ford — speaking a day after President Johnson renewed his bid for an income tax hike—said the increase could be avoided by slashing spending

Ford zeroed in on the antipoverty program in telling newsmen that some federal spending could be cut without harming over-all programs

McNaughton, who was about to become secretary of the Navy, was photographed for the last time Wednesday morning during a breakfast at the Biltmore Forest Country Club, Ashville, N C With McNaughton were his wife and 11-year-old son Theodore, both also killed when a Piedmont airliner crashed with a small plane over North Carolina (AP Wirephoto)

Tributes to Dead Secretary

McNaughton Near Top, Still Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson cited "the rare breadth of his abilities" and Defense Secretary Robert S McNamara talked of his courage his integrity and his devotion to this country "

Those were among the saddened tributes toward John T McNaughton, 46, newly appointed secretary of the Navy following his death Wednesday in a plane crash in North Carolina

But in the small Indiana town where McNaughton was born, a lifelong friend sounded a more personal note

"He was a smart chap alert and moral," said Allen Jones of Bicknell, a town of about 4,000 population in southwest Indiana

"Perhaps I can tell you what he was not," added Jones "He was not a climber He always said he was from Bicknell—even though he left here when he was 7 or 8 "

McNaughton whose wife Sarah and 11-year-old son Theodore also died—along with 79 others in the crash of a Piedmont Airlines commercial flight and a small private plane near Hendersonville N C—had been nominated by Johnson to succeed Paul H Nitze as Navy secretary

The nomination already had won Senate confirmation McNaughton would have stepped into the post Aug 1

It would have been the highest government job yet attained by a man whose career was widely varied and highly successful McNaughton earned degrees from DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind Harvard University and England's Oxford which he attended on a Rhodes scholarship

He served as a Navy lieutenant on ships in the Caribbean North Atlantic and Pacific during World War II

Jones said when McNaughton's ship was torpedoed in the Pacific the youthful officer personally climbed down the side to inspect the damage then calmly steered the ship into port

McNaughton joined the government after the war then became editor of the Pekin (Ill) Daily Times from 1951 to 1953 He went back to Harvard to teach law before returning to government work

Before his promotion as Navy secretary McNaughton had served for three years as assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs — a post that occupied him with Vietnam a great deal in recent months

In the McNaughton home hangs a photograph showing him waving a paper as a meeting breaks up in the Cabinet room

Johnson signed the photo and added this inscription "Mac John you may speak now

Soviet Ships Still Off Egypt

Seven-Day Visit Extended Upon Cairo Invitation

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The Soviet fleet task force visiting Egyptian Mediterranean ports is prolonging its stay indefinitely, reliable sources here said today

The arrival of the Soviet warships 10 days ago, ostensibly for a seven-day visit, caused a stir after the Soviet admiral in charge declared his force was "ready to cooperate with Egyptian forces to repel any aggression "

An Egyptian Foreign Office spokesman declined comment today when asked how long the Soviet warships' stay was likely to be extended beyond the original week, which ended Monday Informed Cairo sources, however, said the Egyptian government had invited the Soviet fleet to prolong the visit indelinitely

The Soviet task force originally was composed of 12 ships 4 at Alexandria and 8 at Port Said Its strength increased by two destroyers in the past two days

U. S. to Give Expo Building To Canadians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will give the City of Montreal the 20-story-high geodesic dome housing the American exhibit at Canada's Expo 67, the U S Information Agency said today

USIA chief Leonard H Marks was to formally present the big structure to Montreal's Mayor Jean Drapeau today as "a symbol of the warm friendship between Canada and the United States "

A USIA spokesman estimated the cost of the 200-foot-high dome — the tallest building at the site of the Canadian exposition — at about $5 6 million

USIA said the Canadians have not yet decided how they might use the dome pavilion It noted the Canadian government is considering turning the entire Expo 67 site into an international research and development center

Organizing Guerrillas

Guevara 'Very Much Alive'

CAMIRI, Bolivia (AP) — Regis Debray, a young French writer awaiting trial in Southeast Bolivia, says Ernesto "Che" Guevara organized the Bolivian guerrilla movement but is no longer in the country

Debray, 26, an admirer of Fidel Castro, told newsmen he did not see Castro's Argentine associate whose whereabouts has been a mystery since the spring of 1965 But he emphasized, that Guevara is "very much alive" and in Latin America

Contradicting Debray, Ciro Roberto Bustos, an Argentina painter, said he and Debray met and spoke with Guevara in Bolivia earlier this year

Bustos 35 and Debray were arrested April 20 as they emerged from a guerrilla camp Bustos is expected to be the government's chief witness at Debray's military trial on charges of collaborating with the Communist guerrillas

The two men were interviewed separately at 4th Division military headquarters here where they are being held in different buildings

Debray said he felt pessimistic about his own future but optimistic as to the future of his ideals and the future of socialism in Latin America

He has written a book "Revolution Within the Revolution?" in which he says the success of the Cuban revolution can be duplicated almost anywhere in Latin America He stresses that guerrilla warfare is the only road to triumph

Debray, who could get a maximum sentence of 30 years if convicted said he entered Bolivia early in March to do a newspaper report on the Bolivian "Army of National Liberation" the Communist name for guerrilla movements in the hemisphere

Bustos said he arrived Feb 28 and met Debray en route to this oil town 360 miles southeast of La Paz The first guerrilla clash with Bolivian troops occurred March 23

Curfew Imposed on Neenah Teen-agers

NEENAH — With surprise ease, and a minimum of discussion, the council adopted a curfew ordinance Wednesday in an attempt to control vandalism on city streets and in the parks.

The vote was 9-1, with Ald. Donald Gomoll, Seventh Ward, registering the only dissenting vote.

The move, which will get youths 16 years and under off the streets by 10 p.m. on week nights and by midnight on Friday and Saturday, was backed by school officials, youth workers, police officers and a group of citizens who had succeeded in gathering 650 signatures on petitions supporting a curfew ordinance.

The council had deferred action on the curfew at the special July 12 meeting, feeling the issue hadn't been aired enough to receive the sentiments of the general public.

Frank Pushes

Ald. Robert Frank, Fourth Ward, who has been the leader in the push for a curfew, principally because of increasing vandalism in his ward, called for action Wednesday since he felt the aldermen had received sufficient time to contact their constituents.

Frank pointed to the mounting acts of vandalism in the city this year, saying that damages in the parks for the first six months of this year already exceeded the $1,134 loss figure of 1966. Damages to schools this year are approaching last year's totals with six months to go, he said.

Ald. Joseph Kraus, Ninth Ward, asked whether Neenah would be the only community in the area with a curfew ordinance. He also questioned the method of age identification to be used by youths.

In Menasha

The Menasha public safety committee has been awaiting the results in Neenah before studying a similar ordinance for Menasha.

Mayor Carl Loehning added the Town of Neenah was interested in such an ordinance. "I'm quite sure they'll pass an ordinance similar to ours," he said.

Gomoll objected to the ordinance, because of the possible costs of enforcing it and unrealistic hours.

He said that 10 p.m. was a "little early" for the summer months and claimed 11 p.m. would be "more realistic." Gomoll further stated enforcement of the ordinance would require considerable records to determine the first and second offenses. "It's going to take a bookkeeping department" to keep up with the offenders, he claimed.

"I know there's going to be considerable costs involved," he said. Gomoll said he agreed with the "intent" of the ordinance but wondered if the expense of enforcement would offset the damages caused by vandalism. He felt the police department would ask for additional manpower to enforce the curfew and costs could run up to 12,000.

Ald. Peter Fara, Third Ward, remarked, "We're making a mountain out of a molehill." He said if the costs of enforcing the curfew were to soar, any future council could repeal the ordinance.

Fara said the curfew would be just a "tool" for the police who already know the "worst violators" and could straighten out the problem without additional costs.

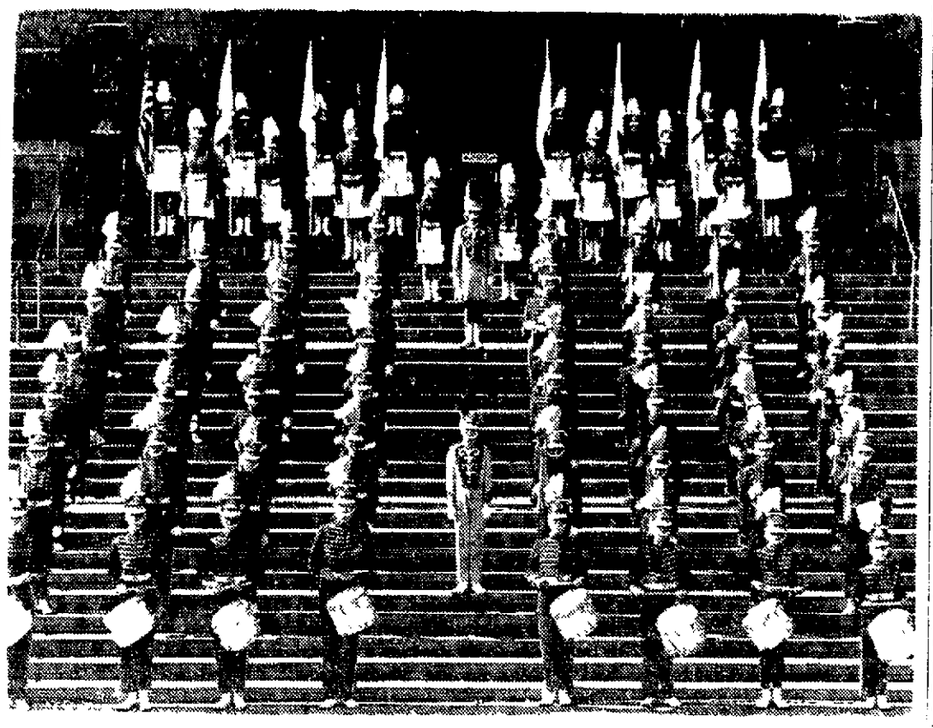
Other Action

In other action, the council okayed the continuation of the lighting program for Doty Park.

A resolution, prepared by the Menasha - Neenah Relief Commission in opposition to Assembly Bill 928 was unanimously passed by the council. The bill would abolish the one-year residence requirement for relief payments.

A petition to change the name of Ellen Court to Grant Place in the EHS Plat was referred to the plan commission.

The council deferred action on banning parking on W. N. Water Street in the YWCA block since the ordinance didn't include the exception of Sundays. City Atty. Charles Schaller said he would check the parking code to determine if Sundays are exceptions to the law.



The "Imperials" of St. Patrick Church in Milwaukee, winners of last weekend's drum and bugle corps competition at the Wisconsin American Legion Convention in Madison, are one of the champion outfits which will appear in Appleton Sunday. The group will compete in the eighth annual Fiesta de Los Americanos drum and bugle corps competition which starts at 2 p.m. at Einstein Junior High School's Witte Field. The fiesta is sponsored by the Americanos Drum Corps of Appleton.

Changes Sought In Neenah Core

Redevelopment Commissioner Cites Needs

NEENAH — Abbott Byfield, chairman of the Redevelopment Authority of Neenah (RAON), started the education program about downtown development Wednesday when he told Neenah Kiwanians that "it's not a question of if change is needed, but what kind of change do we want."

He pointed out that many of the buildings in the downtown core are not only old from an age standpoint, but also out of date from the standpoint of suitability for modern merchandising.

Furthermore, he said, the downtown traffic problem has increased greatly in recent years.

Byfield's talk at Ridgeway Country Club was the first speech made by redevelopment commissioners on the coming development effort.

Spelling out some of the tentative concepts of the authority, Byfield said plans are "to encourage maximum use of private capital — at the same time not blocking possible use of federal funds."

There is "precious little money" available for federal aids, Byfield said, and pointed out there are $30 in pending requests for every dollar available.

"If for no other reason than timing," the authority prefers the private fund approach, he said.

The chairman also clarified the authority's position on the use of condemnation for downtown projects. "The bad effects (of condemnation) are so great, it's to be avoided in every possible instance."

"We intend to avoid it like the plague," he added, "using it only as the last resort."

Town Shows Increase in School Costs

MENASHA — The Town of Menasha will pay a slightly larger share of Menasha Joint School District taxes next year, and the city's burden will lighten correspondingly, state tax officials have determined.

City Clerk - Comptroller Harry Kind has been notified that state equalized valuation is up about $20 million in the entire district, with the increase divided almost equally between the city and the part of the town lying in the school district.

Last year, the city held about 71 per cent of the total equalized valuation and paid that percentage of the school taxes. The town paid slightly over 28 per cent, based on a similar percentage of the valuation.

The new figures give the town 30.94 per cent of the valuation and tax load and the city 69.06 per cent.

The city's valuation was listed at $105,641,200, an increase of $10,159,650. In the portion of the town east of Little Lake Butte des Morts and in the school district, the valuation of $47,328,500 represents an increase of $10,038,500.

The increases are unusually large for a single year but they are believed to be largely the result of a state reappraisal of all taxable real estate and property in Winnebago County last year, which resulted in large increases particularly in land values, with the Twin Cities posting some of the highest jumps.

Over Annexation Ordinance

Kampo Severs Ties With Menasha

MENASHA — After reading the city's ordinance annexing 303 acres including the Banta Midway Plant from the Town of Menasha, Town Chairman Roland Kampo says he is breaking relations with the city.

Kampo complained that the city had broken its promise not to use the settlement of last year's sewer and water dispute against the town in annexation matters.

"This is it. They've broken their agreement. I'm having nothing more to do with them," said Kampo. "Their word is no good."

Kampo's strong reaction offers little encouragement to the suggestion by City Atty. Richard Steffens Tuesday that a citizens' committee including residents of both city and town start discussing consolidation of the two municipalities, as an alternative to the slower method of annexation.

But despite his strong words, Kampo gave no indication of when or in what manner the town plans to challenge the annexation, although he has previously said there would be a legal effort to block it.

Used As Evidence

A section of the Banta annexation ordinance states that the annexation will "in no way hinder the operation of the town sanitary district," and uses the terms of the settlement of the sanitary service dispute as evidence.

It states that the town requested the city to provide service in certain portions within the town sanitary district "under the town's belief that the city could service such areas more economically than Sanitary District No. 4."

Kampo produced a copy of the stipulation settling the dispute over water mains. In it, both parties agreed "that the City of Menasha's consent to extend its water services at the request of the town board and Sanitary District No. 4 into territary under their jurisdiction shall in no way be used by the City of Menasha as an argument or advantage for annexation of these areas;

"And by the same token, the City of Menasha's consent to have Sanitary District No. 4 serve areas annexed to the city subsequent to Sept. 1, 1965, and now in litigation, shall not be used by the Town of Menasha as an advantage or argument for contesting said litigation now pending."

The statement concerning pending litigation referred to the town's unfinished lawsuit attempting to nullify the city's 1965 annexation of 183 acres extending beyond the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

Bergstrom Sales Rise, Profits Dip

Net Earnings of $601,000 Listed For Six Months

NEENAH — Bergstrom Paper Company, in its six months report to stockholders, released today, reported net earnings of $601,000, or $1.02 per share of stock, compared with $736,000, or $1.22 per share, during the first six months of 1966.

Net sales increased from $10,587,000 in 1966 to $11,319,000 during the first half of 1967.

In their message to stockholders that accompanied the report, Nathan H. Bergstrom, chairman, and H. R. Moore, president, said "In the second quarter, usual markets suffered severely and backlogs vanished. We were hard put to keep full crews. We were determined to hold our work force in a period of keen competition for labor. The result was poorer operating efficiencies.

"These are difficult times for all of us at Bergstrom Paper Company."

They continued, "We believe that there is a demand for paper building. We hope that our customers and customers of our industry will carefully evaluate this condition and act accordingly.

"It is doubtful that the consuming public throughout the world will have patience with those presently responsible in management to meet the demands when they arrive."

Winneconne Secession Declaration Imminent

WHERE - CONNE — Things were happening here today as friends and strangers milled in and out of the Village Hall.

The rumblings of a secession declaration became stronger, with events at the lost village on the Wolf River likely to come to a head tonight.

The citizens have called a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. today in the Village Hall. Board President James Coughlin was mum this morning when asked about the intent of the meeting.

Unusual money began to be seen around the village as preparations mounted for the annual Winneconne midwest stock outboard races.

One tall gentleman sidled up to a soda fountain just before noon today, laid "a buck" on the counter and demanded, "One Fort Sumter frappe."

"The buck" he offered in payment sent conjecture skyrocketing.

"Man, it said one dollar all right, but it was a thin piece of plywood, about 3 inches wide and 4 inches long, printed on its face were the words Sovereign State of W——, issued on secession day July—, 1967.

Five Questions Face Voters in School District

KIMBERLY — Voters of Joint School District No. 6 will be asked to vote on five issues Monday, four referendum questions to be brought up at the 8 p.m. annual meeting at the Senior High School, and the election of school board members.

Voting for the latter will be held from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Senior High School with the winners announced at the meeting. Running with opposition for a second 3-year term from the Towns of Buchanan and Harrison will be Francis Gossens.

Two candidates seeking to represent Kimberly for a 3-year term will be Eugene Schelfhout, who seeks a fourth term, and Patrick Netzel, a newcomer to school politics.

Questions to be voted on at the annual meeting will determine whether the annual election of school board members should be held in April, with the regular village election; whether the school district should purchase the Kimberly Village Hall; whether the school district should purchase 1.39 acres of land from Combined Paper Mills to permit addition to Janssen School and whether .096 acres of unused school property should be deeded back to Combined Paper Mills.

pledge my full cooperation with party leaders on every level to achieve that goal."

Mitchell now is a manufacturers' and sales representative for makers of equipment and supplies sold to municipalities, towns and other governmental units.

Mitchell was an Appleton alderman from 1949 to 1958 and served on the Outagamie County Board from 1953 to 1956. While in the mayor's office he was on the executive committee of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, and a member of the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the National League of Cities. He also was active in the American Waterworks Association, the Wisconsin Public Works Association and on the executive board of the Association of Wisconsin Planners.

He has been active in GOP circles for many years, including service as co-chairman of the 1966 Republican Party corn roast and in party fund raising activities.

Mitchell is a past president of the Northside Kiwanis Club, and served as lieutenant governor of Kiwanis in 1956 and district chairman in 1957 and 1958. He is a member of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce and on the executive committee of American Legion Post No. 38 in Appleton.

The new party chairman has served on Gov. Knowles' task force on Medicare and has been on the executive committee and policy committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission. He is serving his second term on the executive board of the Association of Wisconsin Planners.

A 32nd degree Mason and Shriner, he also is a member of the Appleton Elks lodge and the Moose. He was chairman of the 1966 Babe Ruth Baseball State Tournament and is president of the state American Legion Convention which will be held in Appleton in 1968.

Mitchell is president of Men of the Church at First English Lutheran Church and vice president of the Appleton Conference of Men of the Church. He has long been a supporter of various youth activities including the Sons of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and the Appleton Soap Box Derby. He is president of the East Central Wisconsin District for Muscular Dystrophy and advanced gifts chairman for the Heart Fund.

Adrift on Winnebago

Fishing Trip No Fun For GI Home on Leave

CHILTON — A route 3, Chilton serviceman home on leave, was rescued from Lake Winnebago Wednesday night after rowing 4 hours trying to reach shore.

Albert G. Bowe, 21, was fishing off Brothertown area shoreline about 3:30 p.m. when his outboard engine broke down. He attempted to row back toward shore but the strong easterly winds swept the craft far out onto the lake.

After four hours adrift, he was spotted by Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Gerhartz, Stockbridge, about 3 miles off shore from Asylum Point, near the West shore. The Gerhartz' and another couple were returning from a boat trip to Oshkosh. He had drifted about 11 miles.

Bowe waved to the Gerhartz boat. Gerhartz, seeing that Bowe was exhausted, attached a line to Bowe's boat and towed him for 1½ hours before reaching the harbor at Calumet County Park. There he was taken to the park shelter house.

Bowe's mother, Mrs. Albert G. Bowe Sr., had notified the Calumet County Sheriff's Department at 7:51 p.m. that the serviceman had not returned home.

The Sheriff's Department, along with the Neenah police boat, Conservation Department boats and a Conservation Department airplane out of Oshkosh had been out searching for Bowe since before 8:30 p.m.

After resting at the shelter house, Bowe was returned to his home in Chilton by Mr. and Mrs. Gerhartz.

Attempt to Free UW Planning Funds Stymied

being able to examine them. In a hot clash with Leonard, Martin said he wants to study the plans completely before approving them and Leonard reminded the Neenah lawmaker that no one had questioned his analysis for the commission as chairman of the state universities subcommittee.

Hundreds of hours have been spent by the subcommittee in detailed study of the Green Bay and Parkside proposals, Leonard said. But Martin could study the plans additionally, if he desires, he added.

Behind the struggle lie the elements of the monumental political battle which is raging over the fate of the Green Bay institution.

Proponents of the Green Bay campus refused to split the two projects, although the Parkside plans are about one month ahead of development of the Green Bay proposals.

The campus backers fear opponents, led by Assembly Speaker Harold Froelich, R-Appleton, will move to kill the campus if they are not successful in their fight to move the site.

Led by Leonard and Gov. Warren P. Knowles, the proponents of the two campuses are refusing to split the two projects to insure that the powerful political support of southeastern Wisconsin lawmakers favoring the Parkside project stick with the embattled Green Bay forces.

Martin, at an early July meeting of the commission, said he would be prepared in August to vote for approval of the complete $500,000. He then thought that the session would be held as scheduled on Aug. 14.

But attempts by both sides to change votes on the issue led to the calling of the special meeting today in hopes by Knowles and Leonard that one of the site foes could be convinced to change his position.

Martin again said today he believes he can vote to approve the projects after approving the preliminary planning documents but said he must see the Green Bay proposals before voting on them.

Leonard reminded Martin that, at the last meeting, Martin bypassed an opportunity to study similar Parkside plans — and Martin said he would like to study those as well.

Ordinance Would Control Ambulances

fee of $10 per year for each ambulance.

The ordinance also proposes standards for operator licenses, including those dealing with health, sanitation, and safety; required equipment, and insurance. The ordinance also would have the city clerk as the ambulance license officer, who would be in charge of making investigations regarding the license applicant and inspection of vehicles and equipment. After a license is issued inspections would be made twice a year.

Other highlights of the model ordinance include:

Each ambulance would have two attendants.

A designated health officer would be given authority to inspect and certify ambulances for adequate and required equipment.

Provisions for the licensing of ambulance attendants and drivers including character investigations and the issuance of authorization permits by the chief of police. The license fee would be $2 per year.

Ambulance attendants would have to be at least 21 and would have to complete a specified training course and take periodic refresher courses.

Attendants would have regularly scheduled working hours and it would be a violation of the ordinance for attendants to consume intoxicants during such hours.

Other sections of the model ordinance deal with the revocation of licenses, obedience to traffic laws and penalties for ordinance violations.

Ambulance services, under the model ordinance, would have their licenses revoked for answering calls solely by monitoring police radio frequencies — an alleged problem in Appleton.

Paper Mills Close Today

One Union Holds Out in Dispute At Port Edwards

PORT EDWARDS — Despite an overwhelming 201-to-6 vote of Nekoosa - Edwards Paper Co. Local 52 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Wednesday night to accept a company contract offer, pulping operations have ceased at the Nekoosa and Port Edwards mills, because another local is holding out.

A. A. Bernhardt, production manager, said this morning that of the four operating unions at the company, Local 59 remains the only one to have failed to accept the company offer. As of this morning, no further negotiations were scheduled.

Terms of settlement with Local 52 include a 17.54 cent per hour wage increase amounting to a 5.74 per cent hike and added fringe benefits. The union had asked a 20 cent per hour increase.

Operations were shut down at the Port Edwards Sulphite mill at 3 p.m. Wednesday and at the Nekoosa mill at 7 a.m. today.

consultants interested in conducting a peliminary study of the proposed Oneida Street high level bridge.

The 17-2 vote authorizing the interviews found Alds. Al Stoegbauer (4th) and E. J. Mullen (6th) dissenting. The proposal came out of a public works board meeting Tuesday. At that time Frank Keuler, public works director, said the list of potential consultants had been narrowed to four.

Ald. Roy Pointer (4th) said the city was not "committing itself" to a bridge program by simply interviewing consultants.

Ald. John Ayers (12th) added, "The city could always use the information." The board of public works will interview consultants.

In other action at Wednesday night's hour and a half meeting, councilmen:

Formally accepted the offer of F. W. Means Co. to purchase six acres of land in the city's west side industrial park at a cost of $4,490 per acre. A new plant will be constructed at the site within five years. Wednesday night's council action also authorized the city attorney to draft the documents conveying the property to the Means firm.

Accepted the $59,032 base bid of the Wieseler Construction Co. of Appleton for concrete paving about 2,000 feet of North and South Island streets and construction of a boat ramp in Lutz Park, and accepted the $19,250 base bid of the Ted Coppens Construction Co., Kimberly, and the $13,390 bid of the John McHugh Excavating Co. of Appleton for sewer and water lateral installation in various parts of Appleton.

Hilbert, Menasha Girls Fined for Speeding, Inattentive Driving

CHILTON — Two motorists paid fines totaling $110 for traffic violations when they appeared Monday before Judge D. H. Sebora in County Court.

Fined $60 and costs for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 55 m.p.h. zone was Jeanette M. Thiel, 21, route 2, Hilbert. She was arrested June 24 in the Town of Woodville, one mile west of State 57 on County Trunk B.

Susan A. Rochon, 19, route 1, Menasha, was fined $50 and costs for inattentive driving. She was arrested March 21, in the Town of Harrison, on State 114.

Injured Youth Taken to Doctor by Policeman

A five-year-old Appleton boy was taken to a private physician about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday after a policeman found him with a bleeding deep cut on his left leg.

The policeman, who was working a radar speed watch in the 100 block of S. Douglas St., said the boy wandered over to his car from the direction of the railroad tracks. The youngster said he cut his leg on broken glass.

Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Grand Chute Threatens Suit in Site Selection

when the last school site vote was taken then made a new motion that the Mielke site be approved.

His motion was seconded by Ald. Arthur Hoolihan (11th), but Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) along with other councilmen, objected, saying it was just a repeat of the earlier motion to reconsider.

The next move came when Steidl, acting on an opinion from Geenen, moved to suspend council rules and take the Mielke discussion up under new business. Bethke seconded the motion.

Strong objection to suspension of the rules came from Strutz, who said, "We've been told by the school board for some time now that if we don't get going on the school site soon, it will be too late for 1968."

Hoover Site Available

He noted that at the last council meeting, the fiscal control board of the Appleton School District voted to make the Hoover Park site available and that the school board was supposed to make a study to determine if the site was acceptable.

"That's where it stands now," Strutz told aldermen.

A tie vote to suspend the rules killed the attempt to bring the Mielke site discussion to the floor. Thirteen votes were needed to provide the two-thirds majority needed for rules suspension.

The council meeting was adjourned at 9:05 p.m. immediately after the vote.

Special Meeting Set

Supt. of Schools William Spears said this morning that a special board of education meeting will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in his office "to consider the Hoover Park site and other south side school sites." The city council's board of public works will take up the issue at a meeting Tuesday.

Thorson, Grand Chute chairman and a member of the fiscal control board -- along with Appleton aldermen and representatives of the Towns of Buchanan and Menasha which comprise the Appleton School District -- said Wednesday night that there have been conferences with Don Herrling, Grand Chute town attorney, and it was on the basis of that and the action by the council that a lawsuit will be started.

Thorson had maintained that Grand Chute was entitled to 101 more votes on the fiscal control board when it voted on the Mielke site, on the basis of increased equalized valuation. Votes are based on equalized valuation.

"Chance For Litigation"

Herrling, contacted at his home right after the council meeting, said "there is an excellent chance for litigation here."

He questioned several decisions of the city attorney as regard the site decision deliberations, and repeated Thorson's contention that the wrong equalized valuation figures were used to determine Grand Chute's voting basis.

Herrling said that legal action "could be started by Friday." He continued, "We're prepared to go ahead and test this in court."

The town attorney indicated that first steps might be the filing of a writ of mandamus and an injunction order against the city to prevent further action on the school site.

'Waste of Taxpayers' Money

Mayor Vetoes Request To Attend Convention

Showing that what's good for the employes is good for the boss, Mayor George Buckley turned down a request by the city council Wednesday night that he be authorized to attend — at city expense — the Congress of Cities convention in Boston July 27 to Aug. 2.

The motion to send the mayor to the convention was made Tuesday in the board of public works meeting by Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), who explained Wednesday night that the personal contacts that could be made at such a conference would be "invaluable."

Pointer added that he felt the city should get all information possible because of the large capital improvement program being undertaken here.

However, Buckley said to councilmen, "I have no desire whatsoever to go to Boston," and added "it would be a waste of the taxpayers' money." He said he could receive a full written report of conference activities after it is over.

Buckley has opposed sending city officials and employes to out-of-state conferences almost from the time he took office.

Hayley Mills Has a New Image On, Off Stage

21-Year-Old Actress Hopes to Dispell 'Pollyanna-Walt Disney' Aura Forever

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - The more avid movie fans long have displayed a reluctance to allow their favorites to grow up. Many followers of Judy Garland still see her as the wide-eyed Dorothy of "Wizard of Oz" searching over the rainbow, rather than as a woman with more than the usual troubles of middle age.

Likewise those who have followed the career of Hayley Mills —you loved her in "Parent Trap," thrilled to her in "Summer Magic"—will find trouble adjusting to the new image in which she has cast herself, on and off the screen.

'Her New Self'

Hayley visited here after a six-city tour in which she exhibited her new self. Significantly, she has been accompanied by the co-producer-director, with his twin brother John, of her latest film, Roy Boulting, with whom she is unabashedly in love. This despite the fact that he is 53 and still married.

"The divorce has been going on for four long years," remarked Hayley, who recently turned 21. "Such things move very slowly in England."

"As for our future plans, I can't say, really," added Boulting, a slender man with hair combed over his forehead. Beatle style.

British Courts 'Funny'

"If I were to say I can scarcely wait to be divorced so I can marry Hayley, it might very well prejudice my case. The British courts are funny that way; they like to make the final determination."

The new film, "The Family Way," also seems likely to upset the Hayley Mills fans. She has gone the way of all flesh for actresses nowadays. The film features a controversial scene in which she steps out of a bathtub and is viewed from the rear. The sequence almost caused "The Family Way" to be condemned by the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures.

Discuss Censure

Boulting said that he had received "an impassioned telephone call" from a Warner Bros. executive, importuning him to come to New York and discuss the matter with the Catholic officials. The director was told that the 70-odd reviewers for the group thought the film was excellent, yet it could not be passed because of strictures against nudity in films.

"Then I suggest you return to your bishops and have them change the rules against nudity; I will not take out the scene," declared Boulting after due consultation.

Rating Changed

Later he was notified that the condemned rating had been changed to "recommended for adults with reservations."

"There is nothing offensive in the scene," Hayley insists. "It happens so naturally that it moves right with the rest of the film."

"Absolutely," Boulting agrees. "The view of Hayley is not done for prurience; it will corrupt nobody. Only morons and idiots would be offended. Fortunately not many of them go to movies."

Hayley expects the new film to remove forever "the Pollyanna-Walt Disney" aura which has marked her career.

"After all, one can't go on playing young girls forever," she reasoned, "and there are so many exciting parts for girls in their 20s nowadays."

"Exactly," said Boulting. "Hayley couldn't continue like Mary Pickford, playing the curly-haired little darling until she was 40 years old."

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9 Channels 11-6-9 — The mysterious lure of surfing gets a quick once-over on Hit the Surf which is supposed to examine the rugged sport and its addicts. Actually there isn't enough time for a full documentary on the many young people who literally devote their entire lives to the sport and who have created the cult of the "beach bums." Roy Crump and Kemp Aaberg explained the sport and its adherents and lovely Andrea Dromm provides a feast for the eyes. (C)

6:30-7:30 Channels 4-5 — Jimmy Dean gives an ingratiating performance on Daniel Boone, playing a man much like Daniel: a tall, good-natured woodsman. Only Dean is also an escaped convict. (C-R)

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Tallulah Bankhead livens up the TV screens guesting on the old Luci-Desi Comedy Hour. It's a funny bit revolving around a stage play being produced for a local PTA in which Lucy and Lula are deeply involved. (R)

7-7:30 Channels 11-6-9 — F Troop continues to look more and more like Batman and you may wonder in this playful episode why Sergeant O'Rourke and Corporal Agarn don't don capes and fly to the hills. Vincent Price turns up as Count Sforza (c.q.) of Transylvania, and his white face and blood red lips are enough to frighten several tribes of Hekawis. (C-R)

7:30-8 Channels 4-5 — Star Trek wanders along with a fairly interesting episode which features David Opatoshu as a curious leader of a seemingly peaceful space nation which is reluctant to establish diplomatic relations with one of its neighbors. Why? That's the question and it annoys Captain Kirk and Mr. Spock who are soon drawn into a battle that they somehow feel they have no business being involved in. (C-R)

8-8:30 Channels 11-6-9 — Delightful Marion Lorne lends her pixilated presence to Bewitched in an episode that squarely pins the blame for last year's Great Eastern Blackout on her blundering attempts to get a piano unstuck from a stairway. (C-R)

8-10:45 Channels 2-7-12 — The Thursday Night Movie has Cantinflas, Mexico's favorite comedian, in a silly romp titled, "Pepe." Its clumsy script which has him playing a ranchand eager to retrieve his beloved horse which was sold to Dan Dailey, a motion picture producer. Most of the time is given to cute cameo appearances including the likes of Jimmy Durante, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Frank Sinatra, Maurice Chevalier, Jack Lemmon, Debbie Reynolds, Judy Garland and the late Hedda Hopper and Ernie Kovacs. (C-R)

9-10 Channels 4-5 — The Dean Martin Summer Show Starring Your Host Vic Damone is a skillful blend of song and dance with a little acrobatic act (The Canestrelli trampolinists) thrown in for good measure. Singer Don Cherry joins the regulars, Carol Lawrence and Gail Martin. Damone's best is "Strangers in the Night." (C)

Special Events

Attic Theatre — (through Saturday) Never Too Late at Lawrence Music-Drama Center at 8:15 p.m.

Music Theater: Green Bay — (through Sunday) A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum at 8:15 p.m. at St. Norbert College.

Peninsula Players — (through Sunday) Luv at 8:30 p.m. (7:30 p.m. Sunday) at Theatre-in-a-Garden, Fish Creek.

Green Ram Theatre — (opens Friday) Right You Are if You Think You Are by Luigi Pirandello at 8:30 p.m. at summer theatre midway between Baraboo and Wisconsin Dells.

Picnic Opens Saturday At Darboy

DARBOY — The American Legion Post's annual picnic opens Saturday evening at the Darboy Club parking lot and grounds. The event runs through Sunday.

Special feature will be the barbecue chicken. Serving will start at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Rides will be available for the children. There will be live music in the beer garden.

Post commander Ray Buchberger and vice commander Pat Berben serve as co-chairmen of the picnic; Lawrence Kiel, picnic grounds; Richard Belongea, lighting; Pat Stumpf, workers, and Ronald Friebel, purchasing agent. Other stand chairmen are Art Alesch, Tom Beach, Don Sanderfoot, Alois Probst and Gordon Mader.

Auxiliary members will serve the chicken and sponsor other stands. Co-chairmen for the auxiliary are Mrs. John Spieings and Mrs. John Lamers.

Oshkosh Man Admits Disorderly Conduct

WAUPACA — Carlton R. Pfalzgraf, 21, 1311 Cedar St., Oshkosh, pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and was fined $25 and costs Wednesday when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court.

Pfalzgraf had been charged with theft after he took two candles from a Town of Royalton beer bar July 16 but the charge was reduced to disorderly conduct on the recommendation of the district attorney.

The candles Pfalzgraf took were valued at $2 each.

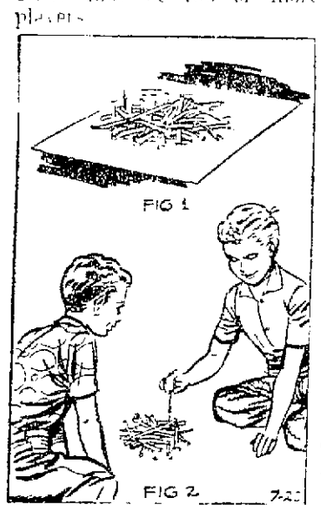
Play Giant Jackstraws With A Large Handful of Twigs

BY CAPPY DICK

A game of Giant Jackstraws played with twigs is today's Summer vacation fun-project for young readers. Because only twigs are needed — and these can be found almost anywhere outdoors — the game can be played at a moment's notice. There may be two or more players.



Start With a Pile

Gather a big handful of twigs — 30 or 40 of them (Figure 1). Dump them in a heap on the ground.

The players take turns lifting twigs from the pile, one at a time (Figure 2). The idea is to do this without moving any other twigs.

If a player succeeds in taking a twig from the heap he gets another turn. As soon as he has accidentally moved a twig other than the one he is trying to lift he must give up his turn to the next player.

When all the twigs have been removed the game ends. Victory goes to the player who has collected the most twigs.

Good Deed Traps Woman's Big Toe

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — Adela Kacprzyk befriended a neighbor Tuesday and ended up with her right big toe imprisoned in the tailpipe of a small foreign car.

Firemen freed her from the car and doctors at a hospital freed her toe from a length of exhaust pipe the firemen had left.

It all happened when Mrs. Kacprzyk went outdoors to empty garbage. She noticed her neighbor's car had rolled 300 feet down an alley and had come to rest against a retaining wall. She and the neighbor pushed it away from the wall but the car rolled back and trapped Mrs. Kacprzyk's toe.

Young Astronauts Leave Capsule

SOUTH LYON, Mich. (AP) — Two dirty but happy 11-year-old boys emerged Tuesday after four days in a wooden earth-bound "space capsule."

The junior astronauts, Dale Kern and David Boatman, had the spacecraft moored in the backyard of the Kern home. Mrs. Kelvin Kern, Dale's mother, kept the boys supplied with food and things seemed much like real space exploration—except that every eight hours each boy got a 10-minute toilet break.

CHAMPIONSHIP - A-B-C FLIGHTS

- Post-Crescent Championship Travelling Trophy
- Flight Awards
- Merchandise Prizes
- Special "Patience" Award to the Wife, Mother or Girl Friend of the Tournament Champion

In keeping with its policy of helping to provide events of the greatest public interest such as the Ski School, Bowl O Rama and Master Angler programs, The Post-Crescent invites its readers to participate in the 1967 Fox Cities Amateur Men's Golf Tournament Saturday and Sunday, August 19 and 20. Site of the tourney will be Appleton's Reid Municipal Golf Course. Participation is open to all male golfers; however, time restrictions may make it necessary to limit the number of registrations. Deadline for entry is Wednesday, August 16. Pairings and tee off times will be published in The Post-Crescent, Thursday, August 17. All contestants not appearing at the times to which they are assigned will risk disqualification.

Participants will qualify for the four flights — Championship, A, B, C — during the first 18 holes of play on Saturday. Winners in each flight will be determined on the basis of the total score for the two days of play.

Top prizes have been selected including a special "patience" award which will go to the wife, mother or girl friend of the tournament champion. The Post-Crescent also will present a handsome traveling trophy suitably inscribed.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE — AUGUST 16

Registration blanks like the one printed here — will appear periodically in The Post-Crescent and will be available at area golf courses. These should be filled out and mailed or brought to "Golf," The Post Crescent, 306 W. Washington St., Appleton, Wis., 54911. The $4.00 entry fee must accompany each registration. Daily green fees are not included. Make checks or money orders (ONLY) payable to The Post Crescent. All fees will be returned in the form of trophies and merchandise awards. Entries also may be delivered to Post-Crescent offices in Neenah, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac.

Cubs Remain One Game Back With 7-2 Win Over Atlanta

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Asked about Nolan's pitching, St. Louis Manager Red Schoendienst just nodded his head.

There wasn't much he could say about the rookie right-hander's performance Tuesday night — he gave up just four hits and struck out 12 in seven innings as the Reds built up a 2-0 lead.

But then his arm tightened up and he left in the eighth with Dal Maxvill on with a double and none out. St. Louis went on to tie it in the inning and win it 3-2 in the 12th when Gerry Arrigo walked in a run.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago stayed one game back of first-place St. Louis by beating Atlanta 7-2. Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 2-1 in 11 innings, Los Angeles shaded Philadelphia 3-1 in 11 and the New York Mets swept Houston 8-4 and 7-2.

Greets Reliefer

After Maxvill's double, pinch hitter Alex Johnson greeted reliever Ted Abernathy with a double to drive in a run. Then after two were out Roger Maris singled home Johnson.

Cubs' pitcher Joe Niekro drove in three runs with a double and sacrifice fly as the Cubs won their fifth straight.

Pittsburgh's victory, brought about by Gene Alley's bases-loaded single, snapped Mike McCormick's winning streak at eight games.

Jerry May led off the 11th with a triple and then McCormick intentionally walked the next two batters before being relieved by Frank Linzy.

Alley hit Linzy's first pitch off second baseman Tito Fuentes' to give the victory to Dennis Ribant, who went the distance.

Victory on Walks

Bout Stopped in Fourth Round of Slated 12-Rounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier passed up the eight-man elimination series aimed at choosing a successor to Cassius Clay, but there's no longer any doubt that he's a man to be reckoned with in the heavyweight picture.

"I'm just gonna let them fight it out," Philadelphia Joe said through a big grin after he had disposed of Canadian champion George Chuvalo in four bloody rounds Wednesday night.

"Let 'em fight, then we'll see," he said of the WBA sanctioned tournament to fill the title most of the world's boxing commissions have lifted from Cassius Clay.

Won All Pro Fights

Frazier, 23, who has won all 17 of his pro fights, came in at 204½ for the scheduled 12-round bout. And he was the 4-1 favorite over the veteran Canadian, 217¼, who had never before been stopped in 63 bouts, including losses to Clay and Floyd Patterson.

Chuvalo, 29, simply was no match for Frazier. Joe clumbed all over him from the opening bell. He opened a cut under Chuvalo's right eye in the first, staggered him in the second, turned his face into a bloody pulp in the third and stopped him in the fourth.

Referee Johnny Colon waved it over 16 seconds deep into the fourth round when the gory Chuvalo cringed away from a Frazier attack, turned his back and stepped away.

Plans for Minor Tour Suggested

Meets Would Take Up Slack Created by Invitation Tourneys

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association took first steps Wednesday toward secondary—or minor league—pro golf tour.

Max Elbin, PGA president, announced that the PGA tournament committee had approved plans to schedule supplemental tournaments for those players not competing in invitation events.

He said that sponsors of the invitational events—such as the Colonial at Fort Worth, the Bob Hope and Bing Crosby tournaments—had indicated a willingness to contribute to the purse of the proposed tournaments.

Elbin said the satellite tournaments would be held in cities which are not large enough to accommodate one of the big tournaments on the PGA tour.

Interest Grows

In other words, while leading players are competing for $125,000 in the Colonial, lesser known players may be shooting for $15,000 to $25,000 at a place like Odessa, Tex.

There is a tremendous and growing national appetite for golf which these supplemental tournaments will serve," Elbin said, "at the same time providing for opportunities for the large number of regular tour players who are forced to be idle during invitational tournaments."

Jack Burke, who with Jimmy Demaret runs the famed Champions course in Houston, has suggested that five per cent of the big tournament purses be set aside for the conduct of minor tournaments.

Myrel Olson Paces Horseshoe Qualifiers

COMBINED LOCKS — Myrel Olson, Appleton, tossed on 73 ringers out of 100 shoes to lead qualifiers in Wednesday night competition as action in the State Horseshoe Tournament got underway.

Qualifying will continue tonight, Friday and Saturday morning and then shooters will be placed in five different divisions. Actual competition in elimination matches will start Saturday afternoon and finals will be run off Sunday.

Top horseshoe shooters from throughout the state will be competing and there will be A, B, C, D, and E classes.

Olson's 73 ringers brought a total score of 234, also high for the night. Next in line was Harold Bond, Fond du Lac with 62 ringers out of 100 and 214 points. Third highest was William Schlaack, Fond du Lac with 55 ringers and 195 points.

Other scores recorded on the first night included: Joe Dollevoet, Little Chute, 44 ringers and 183 points; Harold Potter, Appleton, 48 ringers and 182; Howard Rosenthal, Van Dyne, 47 and 180; Merlin Wildenberg, Little Chute, 49 and 177; George Schroeder, Appleton, 47 and 175; Robert Vanden Boogart, Little Chute, 43 and 169; Victor Befus, Oshkosh, 45 and 168; Tony Hietpas, Little Chute, 40 and 163; Harold Lamers, Kimberly, 34 and 144; Ralph Wildenberg, Kimberly, 28 and 136; Dan Voltel, Oshkosh, 32 and 132; Elmer Schultz, Oshkosh, 22 and 119; Harold Steig, Oshkosh, 28 and 118; Gerry Kamps, Combined Locks, 18 and 94; George Swokowski, Kimberly, 19 and 82 and Walter Van Eperen, Little Chute, 3 and 44.

Packers Pick Up Capp From Lowell Giants

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers have obtained another young football player

Coach Mike Holovak of the American League's Boston Patriots dropped linebacker Dick Capp from his roster when he learned the former Boston College player will report to the Packers on return from military duty Friday.

Capp played with the Lowell Giants of the Atlantic Coast Conference last year and said he wanted to play with the Patriots. But the Lowell club said he was the property of the Packers under terms of a working agreement between the two clubs.

BATTING — Tommy Davis, Mets, cracked three singles, a double and a grand slam homer, driving in four runs and scoring twice as New York swept a doubleheader from Houston 8-4 and 7-2.

Fish and Bugs Biting Well

Anglers Battle Mosquitoes

MADISON (AP) — Squadrons of mosquitoes strafed Wisconsin anglers last week "taking blood even with repellent in it."

However, some bugged fishermen did swat away the swarms long enough to land some whoppers, the State Conservation Department's fishing log said Wednesday.

Wardens along Lake Winnebago and the Mississippi River said walleyes were biting just as consistently as the bugs. One 31-inch walleye was hooked in the North Fork of the Flambeau in Price County.

Muskie Success

In the northwest, northeast and southern zones, bass were snared. The Chippewa River in Pepin County was a hot spot for smallmouths as were a number of streams and lakes in Lafayette, Walworth, Grant and Richland counties.

Six northern counties reported success for muskellunge fishermen. One 50-inch trophy musky was pulled from Lake Duroy in Price County; another 35-pounder was taken from Lac Vieux Desert in Vilas County.

Northern pike were active in 16 scattered counties, with Big Eau Pleine Flowage and Lake Wausau in Marathon County and Sawyer County's Chippewa Flowage rated especially good.

One 42-inch northern was given up by the Waupaca Chain of Lakes and another 41-incher was plucked from Lake Namekagon in Bayfield County.

Panfish was the mid-summer's staple in 43 counties. Polk, Oconto, Buffalo, Kenosha and Sauk Counties boast the best all around panfishing. It was bluegills in most places, white bass in the Mississippi and big perch in Lake Winnebago.

Trout Fishing

Trout fishermen found the best success in 15 counties, with the Upper Brule in Douglas County topping the list.

An 11¾ pound rainbow was flipped into a boat near Sturgeon Bay. Lake trout were still being taken by fishing deep in Lake Superior and Big Green Lake.

High winds kept many boats in Iron County, but those who braved the breeze returned with lakers weighing from 10 to 14 pounds.

Again this week, repellent, netting, smudge pots and fly swatters should be crammed into creels to ward off the clouds of mosquitoes.

West in 16-2 Triumph Over Kaukauna

GREEN BAY — Green Bay West put together six hits and a pair of walks for seven runs to snap a 2-2 tie en route to a 16-2 rout of Kaukauna in the Valley Legion League here Wednesday.

The victory propelled Green Bay's Northern Division-leading record to 9-1 while Kaukauna owns a 4-6 mark.

Dennis Gutzman capped the six-inning outburst with a 2-run triple, one of his two hits. Jerry Tagge also had two safeties for the winners.

Dave La Borde tripled and singled and Quinn Vanden Heuvel had two hits for the losers.

Gutzman went the route for Green Bay, yielding eight hits, striking out six and walking one.

Tom Vils, the first of three Kaukauna hurlers who was knocked out of the box in the sixth, took the loss.

Mrs. Korbuly Upsets Mary Beth Nienhaus

1-Up Win Posted on Extra Hole

GREEN BAY (AP) — A student, a darkhorse and two veterans make up the field in today's semifinals in the Wisconsin women's golf tournament.

Carol Jean Sorensen of Racine, 19-year-old student at Arizona State University and seeking her third straight crown, meets Mrs. Harry Korbuly of Marinette, a darkhorse.

Mrs. John Erickson of Madison, wife of the Wisconsin basketball coach and a three-time runnerup in the tournament, faces Mrs. Seone Gehrke of Green Bay, who neglected her game in the last three years.

Today's matches on the Oneida course are 18 holes, with the 36-hole finale set for Friday.

Wednesday Action

In Wednesday's action Miss Sorensen eliminated Kathy Curran of Antigo, 5 and 4; Mrs. Korbuly upset Mary Beth Nienhaus of Appleton in 19 holes; Mrs. Erickson ousted Mrs. John Clauder of Milwaukee, the six time champion, 3 and 2, and Mrs. Gehrke defeated Mrs. John Speer of Milwaukee, 8 and 6.

After her victory Miss Sorensen said, "I wasn't hitting my drives as well as I hoped but I was able to keep the ball in play. I missed only two greens."

Miss Neinhaus sank a 15 foot putt to win the 18th hole and force a playoff but Mrs. Korbuly landed her approach shot one foot from the flag and won with a birdie four.

Mrs. Erickson, even at the turn, was two under par when her match ended on the 16th hole.

Mrs. Gehrke hit every green but the fifth—395 yards—in regulation and took a par four on it. She took single putts on four greens, sinking shots of 8 to 12 feet.

Ortiz Leads Foxes To 5-4 Triumph; Take League Lead

Jose Slams Out Three Hits; Kokor Picks Up Fourth Victory

QUINCY, Ill. — Appleton's cat-like centerfielder Jose Ortiz slammed three hits, including a fifth-inning double that drove in two runs, and stole his 38th base in leading the Foxes to a 5-4 victory over the Quincy Cubs Wednesday night.

The win boosted the Foxes into a ½-game lead in the Midwest League over Decatur. It was Appleton's sixth win in nine games with the Cubs this season.

Right-hander Steve Kokor gained his fourth victory for the Foxes, but needed relief help from Durant Cooper in the seventh. Quincy used three hurlers with starter Jesus Hernaiz taking the loss.

Two in Second

The Foxes jumped on Hernaiz for two runs in the second, got another in the third and two more in the fourth for a 5-0 lead before Quincy started its comeback.

Art Kusnyer led off the second with a single to right and raced to second when Jim Dunegan let the ball get away. He was safe at third when the Cubs messed up Joe Monty's fielder's choice and then came home on Hernaiz's wild pitch. Monty later scored on Tom Henvey's infield roll out.

Ortiz angled and stole second to begin the third frame and Karl Simon got credit for a double to right as Ortiz stopped at third. Art Hunter then came through with a sacrifice fly to plate Ortiz.

Monty Singles

Another infield fielder's choice gave the Foxes the opportunity to score its last two runs. Joe Monty led off the fourth with a single and was safe on a play at second on Chuck Brockmann's grounder. Tom Hervey and Steve Kokor struck out, but Ortiz then rap-

Berggren's Wins Extra-Inning LL Duel From Miller

Jeff Kottke scored the tying and winning runs after doubling both times as Berggren (10-6) downed Miller Electric, (8-9) by an 8-5 count in the Roosevelt Division of the Appleton Little League.

Berggren's tied the game, at 5-5, in the sixth on a pinch single by Mark Welhouse to drive in Kottke and force the game into extra innings.

In the extra frame, Kottke doubled again and scored.

Rick Gorman was the winning pitcher and Martin the loser.

Mark Nelson had three hits for Miller.

Clemente Willing to Forget if Murtaugh Willing to Forgive

By IRA MILLER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente says he's willing to forget if Danny Murtaugh is willing to forgive.

The brilliant right-fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates wants to keep his past feud with Manager Murtaugh just that — in the past.

It has never been much of a secret that there was no great love between them during the 7½ years Murtaugh managed the Pirates through 1964.

And when he was named manager again on Tuesday — and Clemente proceeded to sit out his first three games — speculation ran high that old wounds had been re-opened.

But, says Clemente, it isn't so.

Pure Coincidence

He says he's anxious for an injured left knee to heal so he can get back in the line-up. It is, he said, pure coincidence that he was forced out the line-up at the time Murtaugh was hired.

It just so happened that Murtaugh's appointment and Clemente's injury coincided with a national magazine article in which Clemente puts the rap on his boss.

"Nobody had better years under Murtaugh than me," Clemente said in the story. "But he acted like he didn't appreciate me. Instead of being friendly, he needled me."

When Murtaugh arrived on Tuesday, his first official act was to hold a meeting with the players. He followed that with a private meeting with Clemente in the manager's office.

Neither had anything to say at the time but Wednesday night Clemente said they discussed several matters, mostly pertaining to the club in general.

Dr. Joseph Finegold, the Pirates' team physician, says Clemente will probably be able to return to the line-up tonight or Friday.

Hornung Optimistic About Results of Tests

Admits He Has Had Difficulties With Arm Since Jolting Tackle

HOUSTON (AP) — Paul Hornung began Wednesday a new series of medical tests aimed at determining whether the famed halfback will continue his career with the National Football League's new club at New Orleans.

Hornung told a news conference the decision on whether he will play with the New Orleans Saints will be based on reports from tests at the Mayo Clinic and Houston and tests to be taken later at the Scripps Clinic at La Jolla, Calif.

"The final decision will be made by the Saints and myself," he said. "I should imagine I will know within two weeks one way or another."

Both Hornung and Dr. Hoyt Withers, a general surgeon, said they are optimistic.

Going to Wait

"I'm optimistic but I'm going to wait until all the results are in," Hornung said. "But there's doubt in my mind or I wouldn't be here."

"I am optimistic, too, I really am," Withers said. "But it will be up to Paul to have a chance of putting himself permanently. That's it."

Hornung said he has had difficulties with his left arm and shoulder since he was jolted severely while tackled last October while playing with the Green Bay Packers in Chicago against the Chicago Bears.

"My neck was jammed back and, at times, I couldn't use my left arm," he said. "But I started exercising with weights six months ago and doctors have indicated continued work will restore 100 per cent use."

No Pain

"He had temporary paralysis in the early stages but the functions returned," Withers said. "The very surprising thing about the case is that Paul has had no pain."

Both Hornung and Withers summarized reports that the halfback already has been told that another severe jolt in a football game could cause serious and permanent injury.

"I don't know where those reports got started," Hornung said. "I've been told nothing of that nature. The only reason I'm here is to get a very thorough examination. We want two or three opinions and will weight the results carefully after all the reports are in. If they indicate no serious risk I'll continue to play football."

Withers said the Houston tests should be completed by Thursday night.

Scott Steffens Hurls Two Wins To Lead League

KAUKAUNA — Scott Steffens ran his record to 6-0 for the season as he hurled his Kaukauna Athletic Club team to two wins in Northside Junior Softball League action last week.

The team scored an 11-5 win over VFW and a 19-3 win over Gustman's. Other games had Andrews Oil dump Gustman's 7-3 and VFW top Andrews 13-7. VFW is second with a 3-3 mark. Leading hitter is Ricci Giordana with a .632 average followed by Gary Bartels with .579 and Don Vanevenhoven with .550.

In Midget League play the Fire Department downed WHBY 22-12 and Giddings and Lewis 12-2 to hold first with a 5-1 mark. Tillmany won 11-10 over G and L and 15-11 over WHBY to tie the latter for second with 3-3 marks.

Reed Giordana is leading hurler with a 5-1 record while Doug Mattek leads the hitters with a .600 average followed by George Dereks with .588 and Kirk Brandt with .529. Kevin Kamps hit the lone homer in last week's games.

Doering's Super Valu, Bank of Kaukauna and Ploetz Electric all have 4-2 records to lead Pee Wee League play. Homers for the week were hit by Mark Van Grinsven, 2, Dan McCarty, Ed Zerisek and Gary Roehrborn.

Decatur '9' Loses Lead On Rainout

Decatur lost its share of the Midwest League lead with Appleton as its game with Wisconsin Rapids was rained out while the Foxes tipped Quincy, 5-4.

The Foxes are now a half game ahead of Decatur.

Dubuque remained within a game of Appleton as Barisoff stopped Clinton on four hits, 3-0.

Quad Cities erased a 5-2 deficit to take a 7-5 lead and then scored a run in the bottom of the eighth after Waterloo had tied the count in the top of the frame to win, 8-7. Bob Perruchon cracked a 2-run homer for Quad Cities.

Boston, Angels Gain on Sox In Ever-Tightening AL Race

Tony Conigliaro Triples; Doubles Twice; Leaders Drop Third in Row

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Conigliaro is back in uniform—a baseball uniform—and has the Boston Red Sox marching steadily toward the front of the line in the American League.

The right-handed slugger, counting cadence with his bat, has been drilling baseballs off walls and over them since returning from two-week Army Reserve summer camp June 3.

The surprising Red Sox took another step Tuesday night as Conigliaro slammed two triples and a double, powering Boston to a 6-4 victory over Baltimore and moving the Sox 1½ games from league-leading Chicago.

The White Sox made it possible by losing to California 5-2, their third straight defeat.

Falls Again

Boston also pulled within a half-game of second-place Minnesota, which fell again to Kansas City, 9-6.

In other American League games, Washington beat Detroit 4-2 and Cleveland halted the New York Yankees 5-2.

The Red Sox have been standing far back in line watching most everybody go by since 1958, the last time they finished in first division. They were picked for the tail end again this year, but stunned everyone by keeping in step with the leaders all the way.

Tuesday night they won their sixth straight game.

After Mike Andrews cracked a three-run homer to get things started in the fifth inning, Conigliaro tripled home the two decisive runs after an earlier double.

Insurance Marker

He added an insurance run in the eighth with another triple, scoring on a passed ball.

The light-hitting White Sox, needing a bat like Conigliaro's, stumbled this time over Jack Hamilton and Minnie Rojas, who combined to pull the Angels only 2½ games back with their 30th victory in 42 games.

Hamilton hurled into the seventh inning and led 5-2 as Tom Satriano knocked out Joel Horlen, 11-3, with a two-run double in a three-run fourth inning, and Bobby Knoop and Jimmie Hall followed later with solo homers off Bruce Howard. Rojas came on to save his 14th game.

Minnesota missed a third straight chance to gain a tie for first place when the Athletics broke loose for five runs in the eighth inning, highlighted by Ozzie Chavarria's tie-breaking two-run single.

Doubled in Two

The Twins had gone ahead in the seventh when Cesar Tovar doubled in two runs and Tony Oliva singled in another, and Bob Allison's solo homer in the eighth made it 6-4.

Paul Casanova broke a ninth-inning tie at Detroit when he singled in his second run of the game for Washington's ninth victory in 10 outings. Another run scored on the play on a throwing error.

The loss left Detroit 3½ games back in the ever-tightening race.

Tony Horton supplied the clincher for Cleveland, tripling home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning and then scoring when Yankee third baseman Roy White failed to cover the base on the throw from the outfield. Rookie Vern Fuller, just up from Portland, followed with a home run as the Indians ended a five-game losing streak.

W-F Legion Team Downs New London

WEYAUWEGA — The Weyauwega-Fremont American Legion team raked two New London pitchers for 12 hits and a 7-2 triumph Wednesday.

The host team scored twice on two walks and singles by Jack Montgomery and Cordell Ernst in the first inning and was never headed. Pitcher Chuck Koehler helped his own cause with a run-scoring double in the fifth.

New London scored single runs in the fourth and ninth frames. Rick Gorges brought Bill Rickman in with a sacrifice fly for the first marker and Ted Huber came home on a wild pitch after doubling for the second.

Chuck Koehler went the route for the winners, striking out three and walking three. Starter Don Berglund, who gave way to John Thorn in the eighth inning, absorbed the loss. Berglund struck out five.

Quarter Horse Programs Set At Manawa

Shows Aug. 5, 6 Will be Staged At Rodeo Arena

MANAWA — A weekend of registered quarter horse shows will be held at the rodeo arena on Aug. 5 and 6.

The Rodeo City Riders Saddle Club, Manawa, will sponsor the Saturday show and the Tri-County Saddle Association, Appleton, is in charge of the show on Sunday.

Each show will have halter classes beginning at 8:30 a.m. and performance classes at 1 p.m. The program will also include four youth activity classes. Trophies, ribbons and prize money will be awarded. In addition, a high point trophy and $25 cash will go to the horse earning the most points at both shows.

The two shows are approved as official point shows by the American Quarter Horse Association, the Wisconsin Quarter Horse Association and the Badger Quarter Horse Association.

Jack Brainard, nationally known quarter horse man from Rochester, Minn. will judge the Saturday show, and Kenneth R. Ecker, Argos, Ind. will do the judging on Sunday.

A party and dance will be held at the grounds Saturday evening. Lunch and refreshment stand will be serving throughout the weekend.

Miss Mary Simons, New London, is secretary for the Saturday show, and Miss Carol Woldt, Appleton, will serve in that capacity Sunday.

Veteran Stonebreaker Signs With Saints

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The signing of veteran Steve Stonebreaker Wednesday has bolstered the New Orleans Saints' linebacking corps.

Stonebreaker worked out with the Saints at California Western University, signing his 1967 contract after a mid-afternoon meeting with club president John Mecom Jr. Terms of the pact were not revealed.

Ruth Schmidt Jolts 609 in Summer Loop

Ruth Schmidt blasted a national honor count of 609 to highlight action in the Ladies Twilight Bowling League at the 41 Bowl Wednesday night.

Ruth crashed games of 192 and 196 and then closed with a 221 line.

In the same league, Evelyn Myers came within three pins of a national set as she socked games of 208 and 211 and a 597 set.

Barbara Rumlow had a 123 triplicate in the Twilight loop.

Top Honors Go To Diavolo in Michigan Race

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — Pete Sterns' Columbia-50 yacht, Diavolo, won top honors Tuesday in the 60th annual Chicago-Mackinac Race, beating a starting field of 163 boats in the meet which began Saturday.

Diavolo was the seventh boat to cross the finish line Monday in the 333-mile race, but won by posting the best corrected time in the handicap standings.

Flying Buffalo, from Detroit's Bayview Yacht Club, won second division honors for the second straight year and finished second over-all, about six minutes behind Diavolo.

Diavolo's elapsed time was 45 hours, 47 minutes and 34 seconds, corrected to 39:32.23. Flying Buffalo, owned by Maury Declerq and Karl Ness, had an elapsed time of 51:58.33 but her corrected time with handicap was 39:39.07.

Charley Kopovic's Gypsy, sailing out of Milwaukee, Wisc., had the best elapsed time of 44:37.06, but her corrected time of 39:47.50 was good for third place over-all and runnerup to Diavolo for first division honors.

Huebner's 555 Series Paces 'Cook-Out'

Bob Huebner socked a 555 series to pace the men, while Cleone Rohloff rolled a 202 game on her way to a 525 series to lead the women in Tuesday night's Cook-Out League at Sabre Lanes.

Shirley Wyland cleaned the 5-7-10 split, and Ken Rohloff knocked over the 6-7.

ped his 2-run double to left field.

A pair of singles by Greg Werdick and Fred Rodriquez sandwiched around Jerry Szukala's double produced two runs for Quincy in the fourth. The Cubs added another in the fifth on Werdick's double, and then tallied their final run without a hit in the fifth, when Art Kusnyer dropped "Pete" Peters 2-out fly ball in right with Rodriquez on base.

The Cubs finally chased Kokor from the mound in the seventh with two outs, but Cooper came in to put out the fire. He allowed just one hit in the last 2 1-3 innings of relief work.

Ecuador Davis Cup Team Bows Out in Clay Courts Match

Guzman Victim of Marty Reissen; Ashe, Richey Advance to Quarters

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ecuador's surprising Davis Cup team was on the outside looking in today as the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament reached the quarter-finals

Francisco Guzman, hampered by a sore shoulder, was a third-round victim of U. S Davis Cupper Marty Riessen, Evanston, Ill , 6-3, 6-2 Wednesday.

"It's impossible to play against a good player like Riessen without being in top shape," said Guzman, the key to Ecuador's victory over the U S team in the Davis Cup interzone finals in Ecuador last month "I was all right before the match, but I just couldn't play"

Guzman, 21, joined teammate Miguel Olvera, 28, on the sidelines Olvera was beaten in the second round Tuesday by top-seeded foreigner, Ray Ruffels of Australia

Move Up

Top-seeded Arthur Ashe Richmond Va who lost to both Olvera and Guzman in Ecuador advanced to the quarter-finals with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over Chile's Pat Rodriquez While Cliff Richey, the second seeded defending champion also moved up with a 6-2 6-4 win over Jamie Fressly, New York City

The San Angelo Tex ace contributed both U S victories in Davis Cup play

Injury whose injury could cost Ecuador of a chance to avenge its losses in doubles play denied that the early elimination indicated that the wins at home were flukes

He noted that he and Olvera went to the finals in doubles competition at the Western Tournament at Indianapolis last week before losing to Riessen and his Davis Cup partner Clark Graebner He also pointed out that he defeated Riessen in straight sets before bowing to Graebner and Mike Belkin in the finals

It Was Possible

It was not impossible and out of reach that we can beat the United States Guzman said

"We got to the finals and we played them on their own courts We showed it was possible for us to win.

"But how can you make the quarter-finals if you have to play Riessen in the third round? If I had to play Mickey Mouse, I could make the semifinals"

Riessen is fourth-seeded in the tournament, which is being played on clay, which U S. players say is much faster than that in Ecuador and better suited to their power game.

Top-seeded Mrs Billie Jean King Long Beach, Calif , world's ranking women's player, advanced to the quarter-finals with a 6-1, 6-3 win over Marilyn Aschner, Hollywood, N Y Cliff's sister, Nancy, seeking a fifth straight singles title, moved up by beating Diane Matzner, West Hempstead N Y , 6-1, 6-3 Nancy is seeded second

George Seewagen, New York City, was the only unseeded player to crack the quarter-finals He got there with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Mexico's Luis Garcia

In Quarter-finals

Others in the quarterfinals include Ruffels a 6-3, 6-2 winner over Herb Fitzgibbon, Garden City N J Belkin, a 6-2, 6-2 winner over Mexico's Marcelo Lara Ron Barnes of Brazil a 6-4, 6-4 victor over Bailey Brown, Bronxville N Y and John Cooper of Australia a 6-1, 6-4 winner over eighth-seeded Zan Guerry of Lookout Mountain Tenn

Joining Mrs King and Miss Riessen in the women's quarter-finals were third-seeded Rosemary Casals San Francisco, a 6-3 7-5 winner over Valerie Ziegenfuss San Diego Calif fourth seeded Tory Ann Fretz, Los Angeles a 6-3 7-5 winner over Pixie Lamm Oakland Calif and fifth-seeded Peaches Bartkowicz Hamtramck, Mich , upset third-seeded foreigner Lesley Emanuel of South Africa 6-3 7-5

Other quarterfinalists include Kerry Melville of Australia the top-seeded women's entry who defeated 19th runnerup Stephanie De Fina Hollywood Fla 6-0 6-4 Karen Krantzcke Australia second-seeded foreigner in an 8-6 6-2 winner over Becky Vest, Jackson Miss , and Kathleen Harter, Seal Beach Calif , 2-6 6-1 7-5 winner over Linda Tuero Metairie, La

In the opening round of doubles play top-seeded Clark Graebner Beechwood Ohio and Riessen defeated Mike Marcin and Jim Rombeau Studio City, Calif 6-3 6-2

Mrs King and Miss Casals the top-seeded women's pair, didn't play

Pete Kliefoth Is the Leading Hitter on the Appleton Babe Ruth League baseball team which begins play Friday in the state tournament at Eau Claire. The Appleton team won the district title at Rhinelander last weekend and drew a bye in first round play today. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Waupaca Legion Tips Wittenberg By 8-2 Margin

WITTENBERG — Waupaca's Legion team scored eight runs off starter Terry Duchowski in the first three innings and made them stand up for an 8-2 win over Wittenberg Wednesday.

Ken Tappa was credited with the victory after going the first five innings and Dan Peterson finished up. Mike Kersten went the rest of the way for Wittenberg

Waupaca scored three runs in the first on hits by Bob Solberg, Al Thompson, and Gary Poskie and came back with four more on three walks and two hits, including a 2-run double by Terry Martin.

Jerry Aanonsen accounted for both Wittenberg runs with a double in the eighth inning Bob Stanke, who had been hit in the head by a pitched ball in the previous night's game showed no ill effects as he slugged two doubles and a single to lead Wittenberg in hitting

Old-Timers Game Slated For Aug. 5

An old-timers baseball game will precede Appleton Foxes-Decatur contest at Goodland Field Saturday, Aug. 5.

A team of former Fox River Valley stars will face the Old-Time Ball Players Association, of Milwaukee.

Arrangements for the game have been made through Elly Luderus, secretary of the Milwaukee group. Former professional and semi-pro players on his roster include Johnny Logan, Ken Keltner, Hal Peck, Kenny Jungels, Eddie Granitz and others.

Howard Bowers will manage the Fox Valley group. Among players who may be on his roster are Dave Koslo, Stu Locklin, Phil Condu, Earl Furlow, Don Boya, "Bud" Koehlnke, Dick Fass and Roger Vanderwyst. Bowers said he hopes to hear from others in the area who would like to appear in the game.

Baur Wins on Dean's 1-Hitter

U. S.-Chinese Confrontation Still in Future

Peking Taking Its Time; Enemies Will Always be Around

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk raised the lid just enough for a brief look inside a box of dynamite—Red China of the future—a subject which seems to be getting scant public attention.

Yet, it will haunt this country, probably for generations.

In the midst of one of his infrequent news conferences he warned Red China and Asian Communists generally against "taking any comfort" from Britain's decision to withdraw militarily from the Far East by the mid-1970s.

Countries in that area, he said, are bent on defending their freedom. And he said they have the help of various nations, including the United States. "We'll get on with the job," he added.

He didn't explain how this country—after its experience in Vietnam—would help other Asian countries against aggression. Would it mean possibly the involvement of the United States for generations?

That there is critical trouble ahead with Red China seems certain.

At the moment it has stayed out of the Vietnam war perhaps for one of several reasons, some of them cynical.

It has been having enough internal trouble to keep it busy for a while without getting into a war with the United States.

If there is one thing clear from China's present internal discord, it is that Mao Tse-tung wants above everything for his place of eminence to be the dominant force in his country not only for long after his death.

Things Might Change

The spectre of a war with the United States might [illegible] if he felt he could not establish his own [illegible] could not [illegible].

Further, the Red Chinese have been concentrating for years on developing hydrogen bombs and missiles. They have had phenomenal success so far with the bomb development. A war might knock the whole program [illegible].

But the fact that the Red Chinese have been silent about is being put to [illegible] to communize [illegible] there [illegible] there is [illegible].

What if [illegible] the bomb fails? Is destroyed and the missiles to carry it for instance of power in Asia will change and perhaps change to the world. Therefore, it is satisfied cynically to stridly be while the Vietnamese war goes on.

Suppose the North Vietnamese are forced to withdraw by the American forces. And, suppose further with American help South Vietnam then creates a non-Communist democratic government.

This could last for some years but only so long as the massive-loaded Chinese found it convenient until China decided it was time to move in, either directly or indirectly with local Communist forces.

Would the United States then be willing to risk an atomic war with China for South Vietnam? Or by then through fear and fatigue would South Vietnam be far more ready to accept Communist domination.

If this happens, then all of this country's sacrifices for Vietnam in these days will have been for nothing.

Other Neighbors

Or suppose a nuclear China began pressuring the other neighbors around its vast perimeter. Would their present resistance to communism, strong today when the United States and not Red China is the nuclear power, then melt?

It seems obvious that as China grows in nuclear strength the various local Communist parties within China's neighbors will feel strengthened and become more active.

The best hope for this country is that a more reasonable group will take over Red China's leadership when the fanatics of Mao's generation die off. At best this is only a hope, and maybe not a sound one.

What lies ahead looks like a nightmare.

Sasnowski '9' Wins 3 Games to Retain Baseball Loop Lead

KAUKAUNA — Sasnowski Pontiac (6-1) won four games in Southside Junior Baseball League action last week to hold first. Laydwell Floors (4-3) won two to retain second.

Leon Franzke tops both the pitchers and hitters with a 4-0 hurling mark and a .611 batting average. Tom Nagan is runner-up with a 3-0 hurling record and Al Borchardt, who clubbed two homers during the week, is second in batting with .563. Jim Luedtke has .474.

Look Drugs and Haas Hardware share Midget League honors with 3-1 records.

Bill Newhouse has a 2-0 hurling record and Scott Lunda is 3-1. Top hitters are Tom Vanden Bosch .750, Ron La Plante .600 and Bill Jansen .556.

Driver Hospitalized With Leg Fracture After 6-Car Crash

KAUKAUNA — Nichols driver Les Nitzke was in good condition today in the Kaukauna Community Hospital with a fractured leg following a grinding 6-car smash-up in the semi-feature race at the KK Sports Arena Wednesday night.

Nitzke, who also suffered a cut on the lip and a broken tooth, will undergo surgery Friday to repair the broken leg.

Nitzke was caught near the middle of the pack as the field for the 15-lap semi-feature came down the straight-away for the green flag. The roll bar in his car was broken as several cars bounced into his auto.

When the race was re-started, M. J. McBride of Shawano rode home the winner, while Stan Gracyalny, Kimberly, finished second and Randy Whitney, Pickett, got third.

Clyde Schumacher, who turned in the fastest time in the trials with a 28.62 second clocking, captured the 20-lap feature race. Ted Peters, Green Bay, grabbed second place and Roger Paul, Bear Creek, wound up third.

McBride was the night's lone double winner, also taking the first heat race. Other heat winners were Stan Gracyalny, Bob Kempen, Hilbert, and Roger Paul. Dennis Coonen of Darboy was the victor in the demolition race.

Second places in the heats were taken by Nitzke; Whitney; Schumacher and Ray Trudell, Appleton. Thirds were garnered by Bill Schievelbein, De Pere; Jerry Muenster, Green Bay; Ted Peters, Green Bay and Mike King, Green Bay.

Betsy Bates Places First in 2 Diving Tests

Betsy Bates captured a pair of firsts in diving to pace the Appleton YMCA in the Junior Olympic meet in Waukesha recently.

Miss Bates won top honors in the 13-14 girls 1-meter low board and 3-meter high board. Rose Mary Van Susteren placed second in the same division of the low board.

Leslie Swalby captured seconds in the 15-17 girls 1-meter and 3-meter boards. In the 1-meter board, Beverly Kuck was fifth and Paula Pierre sixth, also in the same division. In the 3-meter board, Paula Pierre was fifth.

In the 15-17 boys division, Steve Sprissler was second in the high board and fourth in the low board.

Racine Man Leads In Sailing Regatta

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)— Sandy Rapp of Racine, Wis., took the first day lead Wednesday in the senior division of the International Penguin Class Sailing regatta.

Rapp scored 26 points in the opening two of five races scheduled in the championships for the 11½-foot sailboats.

Bob Smith of Thousand Oaks, Calif., was second at 23.7 followed by Frank Flaherty, Milwaukee, Wis., 19.1.

Thirteen boats are competing. Two races are scheduled Thursday with the finale on Friday.

Thilmany Drops Match But Continues Lead In Advanced Tennis

KAUKAUNA — Thilmany dropped its first match of the season last week in recreation competition for advanced boys but held the lead with a 6-1 record.

Kaukauna Athletic Club holds second with a 5-4 mark. Winners for the week in singles were Dan Rogers, twice, Pat Kehoe and Pat Brautigan.

In intermediate action Thilmany leads with a 25-12 mark followed by Giddings and Lewis with an 18-9 record.

Dan Bleckinger, Garcia Team To Win in Clay Courts Doubles

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dan Bleckinger of the University of Wisconsin and Oshkosh teamed with Mexico's Luis Garcia Wednesday to beat Stan Pasarell and Alberto Carrero, Puerto Rico, 6-2, 6-2 in an opening round doubles match at the National Clay Court tennis tournament.

Bleckinger and Garcia were pitted against Ecuadorian Davis Cup team Francisco Guzman and Miguel Olvera in the second round today.

The Big Ten champion's sister, Joanne Bleckinger of Oshkosh, was a loser Wednesday as she and Beth Jassoy of Milwaukee fell before the Mexican team of Elena Subirats and Patricia Montano, 6-0, 6-2.

Barbara Mueller and Barbara Davidson, both Milwaukee, gave Linda Tuero, Metairie, La., and Roberta Baumgardner, Tuscaloosa, Ala., a struggle before bowing 6-3, 10-8.

Peachy Kellmeyer, Charleston, W.Va., and Peaches Bartkowicz, Hamtramck, Mich., defeated the Milwaukee team of Marion Read and Marilyn Miquistan, 6-2, 6-0.

Giants' Morrall Appears Healthy Again in Drills

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Fran Tarkenton and Earl Morrall reported early to the New York Football Gaints camp Wednesday and worked out with the club.

Morrall, who suffered a broken right wrist in a practice session last fall, was throwing freely. Coach Allie Sherman commented "Earl is throwing as well as he ever has."

With the addition of the two veteran quarterbacks, Sherman shifted rookie Bob Post into the defensive secondary as a temporary move. The Giants also have quarterbacks Tom Kennedy and rookie Hank Washington in camp.

Although the veterans are not due until Saturday, fullback Bill Triplett, former St. Louis Cardinal, was among the early birds.

Sherman canceled an afternoon workout because he plans a rookie scrimmage session Thursday morning.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, OUTAGAMIE COUNTY COURT—IN PROBATE
File No. 24-660

In the Matter of the Estate of DOROTHEA GALL, Deceased.

On the Application of the executor of the estate of Dorothea Gall, deceased, late of the City of Appleton, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, for the allowance and adjustment of his account, for the allowance of debts or claims without filing, for the determination of who are the heirs of the deceased, for the determination of the inheritance tax, for the assignment of the residue of the estate, and the adjudication of the termination of joint tenancy or life estate, if any,

IT IS ORDERED:

That the application be heard and determined at a term of the Court to be held in and for the County of Outagamie, at the Court House, in the City of Appleton, on the 1st day of August, 1967, at the opening of Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard;

Branch No. 1

ORDER APPOINTING TIME TO PROVE WILL AND HEIRSHIP AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Matter of the Estate of John Berghuis, Deceased.

A petition having been filed, representing that John Berghuis, late of the Town of Buchanan, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, died testate, and praying that the Last Will and Testament of deceased dated September 29, 1965 be admitted to probate, and that Letters Testamentary [illegible] of Administration with the will annexed be granted, and for determination and adjudication of heirship;

IT IS ORDERED

That said petition be heard at a term of Court at the Court House in the City of Appleton, County of Outagamie, State of Wisconsin, commencing on the 15th day of August, 1967, at the opening of Court on that day or as soon thereafter as the petition can be heard.

That the time within which creditors of the deceased shall present claims against such estate for examination and allowance is hereby fixed and limited up to and including the [illegible] day of October, 1967.

That all claims against the deceased be examined and adjusted by the Court on the [illegible] day of October, 1967, at the opening of Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard.

Exclusive Through this Paper!

LIGHTNING OUT OF ISRAEL is the first, and probably the best, of the hard back books on the Middle East war.

It is big, colorful, impressive volume—7¼ by 10½ inches, 160 pages, with more than a hundred photos, about a third in full color—many never before published.

It tells the full story of the six-day war and the events leading up to it—not just in terms of military movements and air strikes but through the eyes of men and women actually involved as fighters or civilians.

A team of famed byline correspondents of The Associated Press, world's largest news gathering organization, has done a superlative writing job on it.

And through this newspaper the book costs only $2! To reserve your copy, fill out and return coupon with check right away.

Racial Riots Break Out in Minneapolis

Trouble Sparked by Women At Festival Fighting Over Wig

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Scattered Negro fighting and vandalism broke out late Wednesday night as the city celebrated its annual Aquatennial Night parade in a carnival atmosphere.

The trouble started in the form of street fights in downtown Minneapolis.

Police Chief Calvin Hawkinson said the first incident occurred during the parade when two Negro women began fighting over a wig one was wearing.

Thirteen Negroes, six of them from St. Paul, were arrested during the night. Nine persons — including a fireman, hit by a rock while fighting a market fire on Plymouth Avenue, and two policemen — were treated at city hospitals for injuries suffered in the melee.

Rock Throwing

Police reported the arrest of three St. Paul Negro youths arrested during the downtown disturbance after a woman had been hit with a rock. Police said the trio had been agitating a group of Negroes and were shouting "black power."

Gov. Harold LeVander said the disturbances might have been triggered by delays in mailing federal Youth Opportunity Program checks to some youths. He said he knew of no outside agitation involved in the incidents.

Main trouble centered on a two-block stretch of Plymouth Avenue, about two miles from the main business district festivities area, and some five blocks west of early morning vandalism and looting last summer.

A food market was the scene of a fire at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday which apparently triggered the North Side violence.

Firemen battling the blaze were driven back by youths throwing rocks and bricks. Seven other businesses, most of them owned by Jews, reported broken windows but no considered looting.

Steel-helmeted police armed with shoulder weapons were brought in immediately.

Rosendale Woman, Child Die in Crash

Freight Train, Auto Collide South of Ripon; 3 Injured

Two rural Rosendale persons were killed and three others injured Wednesday night when a car they were riding in collided with a Milwaukee Road freight train south of Ripon.

Dead on arrival at a Ripon hospital were:

Muriel Pinch, 40, route 1, Rosendale, and

Pamela Nest, 8, route 1, Rosendale.

According to Fond du Lac County authorities, the station wagon driven by Stanley R. Pinch, 42, approached the crossing, marked only by stationary signs, and skidded 146 feet into the side of the train. The vehicle was dragged down the tracks 40 feet before coming to a halt.

Suffering injuries, most of broken bones and cuts and bruises, in the accident were Jill Pinch, 8; Catherine Nest, 12, and Donald Nest, all route 1, Rosendale. Pinch, the driver, escaped injury.

The accident was one of two in the state Wednesday night which resulted in two fatalities.

Two persons died and seven were injured in a three-car crash late Wednesday in Walworth County.

Riot Measure Might Turn Into Civil Rights Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A antiriot bill that won overwhelming House approval Wednesday night may become the vehicle for civil rights legislation when it reaches the Senate floor.

The bill, which would make it a federal crime to travel across state lines with the intent of starting a riot, has been condemned by civil rights groups as an anti-Negro measure.

They are expected to try to get pro-civil rights senators to offer as amendments to the riot bill at least part of the civil rights package that died in the Senate last year.

House Assent

In the House, where stricter rules prevented such amendments from being offered, the bill sailed through 347 to 70.

The vote against the bill was larger than expected. Last year a similar measure was approved 388 to 25, but died in the Senate.

The bill would fix maximum penalties of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine for anyone convicted of using interstate facilities to incite, organize, encourage or carry on a riot.

Its author, Rep. William M. Cramer, R-Fla., said it should jail such "hatemongers" as black power advocate Stokely Carmichael, Robert Shelton of the Ku Klux Klan and George Lincoln Rockwell, the American Nazi leader.

Celler Opposed

Dissenters led by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said the bill at best was an ineffective gesture and at worst could be an unconstitutional infringement on free speech and assembly.

But with the recent examples of Newark and Plainfield, N.J., and other riot-torn cities fresh in its mind, the House rejected such arguments.

"The man on the corner wants to know if you're for riots or against them, and I'm against them," said a member who privately doubted the value of the bill but felt he had to vote for it.

Mexico Uncovers Plot Of Red Chinese Coup

Mexican Authorities Say this is part of a 12-ton supply of Communist Chinese propaganda seized Wednesday in Mexico City from what was called a subversive group planning to overthrow the Mexican government. Thirteen persons were arrested in the alleged "popular socialist" plot. (AP Wirephoto)

Communists Planned New Regime

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican authorities say they have squelched a $1,680-a-month plot financed by Red China to overthrow the government and set up a Communist regime.

Acting Atty. Gen. Julio Sanchez Vargas announced the arrest of 13 men Wednesday night, but an alleged leader of the conspiracy apparently was safe in China.

Eleven Mexicans, and two reputed guerrilla experts, a Venezuelan and Salvadorean, faced a court appearance today to answer charges of planning a campaign of sabotage, terrorism and insurrection in cities and across the Mexican countryside.

Communist Named

The government named former Mexican Communist Party leader Javier Fuentes Gutierrez as one of the chief plotters but said he had flown to Red China June 30, using a forged passport and an assumed name, in company with another leftist leader, Federico Emery Valla.

A government statement also implicated a member of Congress, Rafael Estrada Villa. But there was no mention of any charges against the legislator, who was said to be visiting Cuba.

Sanchez Vargas told a news conference the group planned to establish a guerrilla school at an isolated jungle spot in Chiapas state in southeast Mexico.

He said Peking was using the Mexican branch of the official New China News Agency to channel $1,680 a month into the conspiracy. Mexico does not maintain diplomatic relations with Red China.

Charge Judgeship Promised

Lorge Accused of Making Deal

MADISON (AP)—Compromise talks on traffic safety have been trapped in the crossfire of angry charges over the rumor that a court appointment was planned for a state senator as a political payoff.

"That is an outright lie," said the senator, Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, who demanded an investigation by the attorney general.

The blowup between Lorge and Assemblyman David Obey, D-Wausau, who reported the rumor, halted the compromise committee's work on Gov. Warren P. Knowles' traffic safety bill for at least one day.

The Senate-Assembly committee was slated to resume the search tonight for a settlement on Knowles' controversial proposal to set a statewide minimum age for drinking beer at 21.

Short Session

The afternoon session Wednesday lasted only eight minutes in the angry exchange between Lorge, the chairman; and Obey, the only Democrat on the committee.

The young Wausau Assemblyman asked Lorge to answer a rumor that Knowles had promised the chairman an appointment as judge if the governor's safety proposals were approved.

"Of course, the remark is not true," snapped Lorge.

The burly lawmaker from Bear Creek demanded that Obey name his sources and stopped the meeting to ask Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette for an investigation when Obey refused.

La Follette told Lorge, "You can rest assured our office will conduct an appropriate investigation."

Statehouse Reporters

It was learned Obey gave the attorney general's office the names of two statehouse reporters who had asked him about such a rumor. One newsman said he was only a bystander while the other declined Wednesday to identify his source.

The 45-year-old lawmaker said, "The governor at no time has offered me any appointment, nor have I discussed it with him nor would I think of doing so."

Lorge's fellow Republicans sided with him in a 5-1 vote to halt the talks until tonight after the dispute erupted.

The exchange of charges offered the committee a convenient rest in its apparent stalemate over the drinking age, the only issue yet to be settled.

Private Plane Off Course

Navy Secretary, Businessmen Among 82 Dead in Air Crash

HENDERSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The newly named secretary of the Navy, business executives, their wives and at least 10 children were among 82 persons killed in the flaming collision of a big jet airliner and a small private plane.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration said the small twin-engine private plane "was about 12 miles south of where it should have been," in the crash Wednesday over western North Carolina mountains.

Wreckage and bodies showered down over a wide stretch of the resort area near the city of Hendersonville in the Blue Ridge foothills.

Missed Camp

The main part of the airliner missed a crowded youth camp by only 50 yards.

No one on either plane survived.

There apparently was no warning before the crash, witnesses said.

The smaller craft swept out of the mountain haze and ripped a huge gash in the airliner's side. The smaller plane blew up, some of it welded to the fuselage of the bigger craft.

The collision occured at 12:01 p.m., just three minutes after the Piedmont Airlines 727, carrying 74 passengers and a crew of five, took off from the Asheville airport en route from Atlanta to Washington.

3 Aboard

The smaller plane, a Cessna 310 heading for Asheville, carried two Missouri businessmen and its pilot.

John T. McNaughton, 46, who was scheduled to become secretary of the Navy in about two weeks; his wife, Sarah, and their 11-year-old son, Theodore, were aboard the airliner. Theodore had been attending a summer camp, and his parents had come to take him back to Washington.

The passengers included about 30 food brokers from across the country. They had gathered in Atlanta and Asheville for the flight to White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., for a convention of the Stokely Van Camp Co.

Hours after the crash, a team of investigators from the National Transportation Safety Board, headed by ex-Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, recovered the airliner's flight and voice re-

Second Accident For Fatal Jet

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The Piedmont Airlines 727 jetliner that collided with a private plane in flight near Hendersonville Wednesday killing 82 persons had been involved in a previous collision.

The $5 million Boeing-built plane known as the "Manhattan Pacemaker" was struck by a car May 25 while being towed to maintenance facilities across a public road from the Smith Reynolds Airport at Winston-Salem.

The woman driving the car was hospitalized, and damage to the plane was $25,000. It was out of service a week.

Poet-Historian Odell Shepard Dies at 82

WATERFORD, Conn. (AP) — Odell Shepard, 82, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, politician and historian who once said man's future "will be a long, dark journey into the light," is dead.

He died Wednesday at Lawrence and Memorial Hospital in New London, near his early-colonial cottage on Jordan's Cove.

"It is a dark night in which we are living now," he told a group of neighbors at a Christmas carol sing when he was 81, "and there seems no probability it will get lighter for some time to come."

Nearly three decades earlier, in 1937, Shepard's "Pedlar's Progress, the life of Bronson Alcott, "won" Pulitzer Prize.

Later, from 1941 to 1943, he was the Democratic lieutenant governor of Connecticut.

U. S. Combat Toll Dips 107 in Week

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in combat in Vietnam last week was 107 less than the week before, and U.S. troops strength also decreased by 5,000 men, the U.S. Command reported today.

The number of enemy killed last week also dropped — 1,877 compared with 2,150 the week before.

American combat casualties last week were 175 killed and 1,443 wounded, the latter an increase over 1,170 wounded a week earlier.

Presidential Aides Put Under Tighter Security Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has tightened security regulations covering officers and enlisted men chosen to work around President Johnson.

It said in response to questions that "this change was a normal periodic revision and was not prompted by any specific security incident."

The tightening action came in an Air Force document issued July 6 over the signature of Gen. J. P. McConnell Air Force chief of staff. It requires that national agency checks on Air Force men being considered for assignment to what is called "presidential support activity" will be renewed if such a check is more than one year old.

Previously, a two-year interval was permitted.

A national agency check involves querying various government agencies such as the FBI, military intelligence and the CIA to determine whether there is any derogatory information of a security nature relating to the man in question.

The revised regulation also requires the wife of a man picked for assignment around the President to be a U. S. citizen. Hitherto, only the man had to be an American citizen.

The regulation covers all Air Force personnel assigned to "duties that involve their regular or frequent unescorted entry to presidential facilities, modes of transportation or activities."

Aircraft Workers

Among these are aircraft technicians and crews, communications installation or repair specialists, aircraft refueling personnel and the like.

The security requirements extend to members of the Air Force honor guard, who sometimes line up at the ramp of the presidential airplane, and members of Air Force bands and other musical groups which sometimes entertain where the President is on hand.

They even apply to military social aides who are stationed in the White House during some of the formal receptions given during the year.

Beyond the security checks, no man may be assigned to any full or part-time duty around the President unless specifically approved by the White House.

Prisoners Caput Captured

10 South Korean Marines Surprise 150 Viet Cong in Jungle Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Ten South Korean Marines ambushed about 150 Viet Cong in the jungle Wednesday night, killed 32 of the Communists and took four prisoners, Korean headquarters reported today.

The brief but successful ambush in coastal Quang Ngai Province was the heaviest ground fighting reported, but a company of American paratroopers located a Red prison camp in the jungle and freed 22 emaciated Vietnamese captives, including three women. There was no sign of any Americans in the bamboo stockade.

The Korean Marines caught the Viet Cong company moving inland through the jungle about eight miles north of Quang Ngai City. The Korean squad was strung out along the trail and opened up with machine guns and a rain of grenades and mortars.

No Casualties

The fight lasted only a few minutes before the Communist troops plunged back into the jungle, leaving 22 weapons behind in addition to their dead and captured. The Koreans suffered no casualties, their headquarters reported.

The U.S. Command reported a comparative lull in the ground war for the 10th consecutive day and a decline in the number of Americans killed last week. The command said 175 Americans were killed, 1,443 wounded and 38 missing, compared with 282 killed, 1,170 wounded and one missing the week before.

Despite the lull in ground fighting, the air war against North Vietnam continued unabated with new raids on Hanoi's rail lines to Red China and oil dumps and other supply targets up and down the coast.

Intelligence Tip

The American paratroops acted on an intelligence tip to surprise the Communists at the jungle prison camp in Quang Ngai Province, in the northern 1st Corps area.

The Americans from the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade hacked their way through the jungle Wednesday and opened up on the guards around the camp who fled. The GI's plunged through the 10-foot bamboo wall, across a trench boobytrapped with sharp punji stakes and into the small clearing of bamboo huts.

They found a dozen men shackled in leg stocks and all the prisoners weak from hunger. They included three women, three South Vietnamese soldiers, two village chiefs who had been kidnaped and one national policeman.

Helicopters took the prisoners to the paratroopers' base hospital for treatment and questioning.

School Budget Up At Shiocton but Tax Rate Is Down

$2.8 Million Valuation Increase Offsets $35,000 Spending Hike

SHIOCTON — Although the board of education proposes a 1967-68 school budget increase of $35,000, the tax rate of $17 per $1,000 is down $1 from last year.

Main reason for the lowered tax rate is a $2,853,800 raise in the equalized valuation of the school district.

To be presented at the annual meeting at the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. Monday, the $567,710 budget shows the largest increase in teachers' salaries, up about $30,000 from 1965-66. The other major increase is in transportation, and includes the purchase of two small buses.

Aids Change

Receipts indicate $226,532 to be raised in local taxes with $17 rate. State general aid will decrease about $8,000 to $260,000. Handicapped aid will increase $10,500, for programs carried on in the school the past term.

All other receipts are expected to remain about the same. They are: student fees, $1,500; elementary aid, $9,100; transportation aid, $21,500; foster children tuition, $550; common school income, $725; driver education, $1,700; national defense emergency education $3,025, and federal aid to agriculture and homemaking $2,125.

Under disbursements, administration will increase from $13,600 to $15,688; instruction, $291,551 to $317,226; health, $155 to $175; transportation, $48,411 to $56,455, operation, $41,640 to $43,175; maintenance, $11,623 to $11,900; fixed charges, $10,532 to $11,450; capital outlay, $18,806 to $16,600, and community services $278 to $450. Debt service will decrease from $48,616 to $47,610.

Show Deficits

The lunch program cost $2,744 in 1966-67, and is estimated at $4,035 in 1967-68. Interscholastic athletics are expected to show a deficit of about $6,167 again next year as will the band program which cost $4,397 last year.

Cash on hand at the end of the year is estimated at about $30,000.

Two board of education members will be elected at the annual meeting and present incumbents Milan Ratsch and Norman Knorr were the only two persons to file the declaration of intents by July 3. Their names will be placed for nomination without the customary motion from the floor.

Brillion Firm Sends Rototiller To Vietnam

$1,000 Piece of Equipment Donated By Ariens Co.

BRILLION — An Ariens rototiller valued at $1,000 was presented Tuesday afternoon to World Vision International, a global relief agency, to help equip a vocational and agricultural school in the central highlands of Vietnam.

Jim Franks, Midwest Director of World Vision International, accepted the gift from Francis Ariens, vice president - secretary and co-owner of the Ariens Co.

Also on hand at the presentation were the Rev. Theodore Jordan, pastor of the Zion Evangelical United Brethren Church, Forest Junction, and Donald Schnell, representing the Men's Brotherhood group of that church. On behalf of the group, Schnell presented to Franks $1,200 in cash, two 5-horsepower gasoline engines, three sewing machines and three pairs of crutches for use by the Vietnamese mountain people.

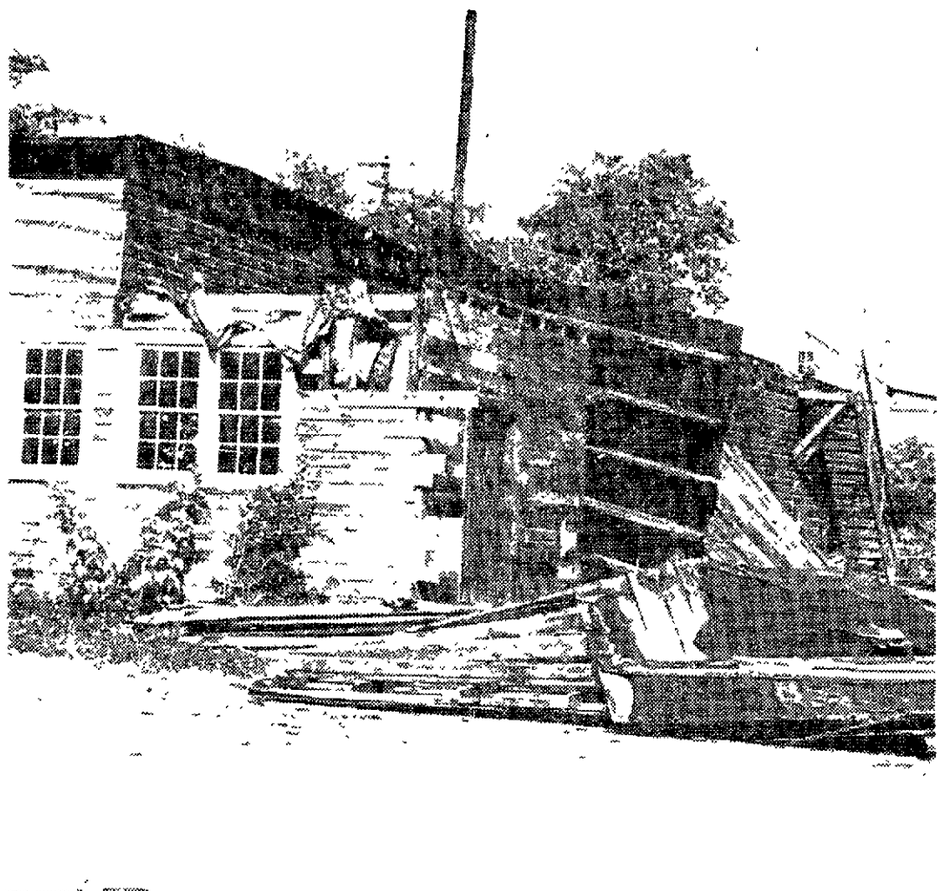
U. S. Pays Freight

World Vision is an international, interdenominational Christian organization approved by the Agency for International Development (AID). The group has shipped more than $1,000,000 worth of equipment, foods and supplies for the destitute in less than a year. The United States government pays freight expenses from port to port on relief goods sent overseas because World Vision is AID-approved.

The trade school located in Dalat, Vietnam, will directly help about 20,000 relocated tribes people, and indirectly aid many thousands more, according to Schnell.

Amherst Flower Show

AMHERST — The Amherst Garden Club will present a flower show Aug. 26 in the Community Hall. The July meeting of the group will be at the home of Mrs. Inez Iverson, with Mrs. Gust Peterson assisting. Members will tour local gardens after the meeting.



A 72 by 100-Foot Shed on Tenth Street, Clintonville, is being torn down by the Barker Insurance Agency. The shed was once used by a lumber company. When the area is cleared, the city will sign an agreement with Barker for use of the land for off-street parking. The city's cost is estimated at $4,000 to blacktop and improve the area for parking to increase the capacity to 100 cars. The driveways for the entrance and exit also have been improved. A strip along the Pigeon River will be landscaped. (Laib Photo)

Okay Greenspan Funds for Seymour, Shiocton Projects

Outagamie Village Gets Money For Lake Park Development

Greenspan agreements have been approved for two Outagamie County communities, according to Leland Mulderm, chairman of the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The agreements will be formally presented to local officials Tuesday.

The Seymour Community School District will receive a grant of $3,671 toward the purchase of 13 acres of cropland in a 21.5 acre plot for recreation and open space. The plot is part of the former Leon Samson farm which was purchased by the district for future school expansion and the Greenspan grant comes in the form of a reimbursement. The area qualified for funding under the federal program because part of it will be used for recreation and physical education activities.

Total cost of the 13 acres is $10,400. Cost sharing conservation assistance of $1,300 also was approved.

Shiocton will receive $5,000 toward purchase of 45.8 acres of cropland for its community recreation area including the proposed lake. Cost of the acreage was $10,000. Cost sharing conservation assistance totaling $4,590 also was approved.

The Village of Shiocton's deadline for bids on the lake is 8 p.m. Aug. 9. Successful bidders will be notified by Aug. 14. A successful bidder on the well project also is expected to be chosen by then so the two projects can be developed simultaneously.

The Soil Conservation Service has developed plans for the lake park and will provide engineering services for the lake. Work is expected to start by late August, according to Vernon Geiger, Outagamie County soil conservationist. With good weather, the lake could be dug in two weeks and the banks of the dike seeded this fall.

Greenspan, authorized under the Cropland Adjustment Program is part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's program to shift land from crop production to conservation and public uses. The program is administered by the State and County ASCS offices.

Three Injured In Accident

Crash Occurs in Dense Fog on 10 Near Weyauwega

WAUPACA — Two Weyauwega women were hospitalized here Wednesday when the car in which they were riding went out of control while attempting to avoid a head-on crash with a truck and instead, struck a car.

The mishap occurred at about 7 a.m. in a heavy fog 2 miles south of Weyauwega on U. S. 10.

Carol J. Wagner, 17, route 1, driver of the car, and her sister, Mrs. Alfred Behm, 23, Weyauwega, both suffered cuts and bruises. They were taken to Waupaca Riverside Hospital. Their condition is satisfactory.

Virgil A. Paap, 33, route 2, Weyauwega, driver of the second car suffered leg bruises but did not require hospitalization.

According to Waupaca County traffic police, Miss Wagner was traveling south when she swerved to the right to miss a truck which had crossed the center line. Her car hit the shoulder of the highway and she lost control. The car went back onto the highway and struck the Paap car which was following the truck.

Paap confirmed Miss Wagner's statement that the truck had crossed the center line but did not stop.

Both cars were listed as demolished.

Lakes Group Picks Directors

Clover Leaf Area Members Told of Sanitary District

CLINTONVILLE — Three directors were elected Saturday night at the annual meeting of the Clover Leaf Lakes Protective Association.

They were Melvin Taylor, elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of Ray Bever who moved from the area; Franklin Goetsch, re-elected to a three-year term, and Ted Jaskolski, elected to a three-year term to succeed Fred Shaffer, who declined re-election. The board will elect officers at its August meeting.

Herb Foth of Foth and Porath, consulting engineers of Green Bay, spoke on water pollution and forming of a sanitary system. A question and answer session followed.

Committee reports also were given.

Interviewers for Census Sought

Census interviewers are being sought to conduct interviews in Outagamie County by the U.S. Department of Census.

Short tests will be given to interested persons 10 a.m. Friday at the civil service testing room of the Appleton Post Office.

Interviews will be made throughout Outagamie County in a three-week period starting next Monday. Applicants for the job must have a car and be a minimum of 18-years-old.

Calumet County Census Takers Begin Training

HILBERT — Calumet County interviewers for the housing census, to be conducted by the United States Department of Census, will meet at the village hall at 8:30 a.m. Monday for assignments and training.

Tests were taken recently, and those selected for the job have been notified.

The census is expected to be completed in two or three weeks. All information will be confidential, and residents are asked to cooperate with the census taker.

Luther Leaguers To Attend Convention

AMHERST — Three members of the Amherst-Nelsonville Luther League will be attending the International Luther League convention held in Dallas, Tex., next month. Kathy Fleming, Amherst, Peggy Packer and Dean Onan, Nelsonville, will be leaving by chartered bus on Aug. 10, with Miss Jane Alm, Nelsonville, going as a counselor.

Facilities Needed for Juveniles

Advisory Group Will Study Use of Temporary Home

Possible sites and foster parents for a facility for temporarily homeless juveniles will be sought by a citizen advisory committee to be appointed by Outagamie County Juvenile Judge Raymond P. Dohr.

The judge announced the coming formation of the committee late Wednesday morning after a meeting of county officials and citizens concerned with providing county facilities for juveniles, under court jurisdiction.

Dohr said the committee will consist of 15 persons suggested to the court by the executive committee of the Citizens Committee on Juvenile Detention, a group which has been active in promoting the need for sheltered care facilities.

The juvenile judge also asked the county welfare department to investigate a county-owned home which might be suitable for use as a temporary housing facility.

A home which previously had been suggested as a possible site, located on the new county airport property, was called "unavailable" by County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler.

He indicated that a concrete proposal should be brought before the board if action is desired. "You come with the package and I don't think you'll have any trouble with the county board," he said.

Terminology Confusion

Some confusion was raised over terminology for the receiving home. Alfred Eggert, county welfare director, said that two types of facility have been mentioned, and a distinction was necessary.

He indicated that a detention facility would replace quarters now in a separate section of the Outagamie County jail, while a sheltered care facility would take care of juveniles who had committed no crime but had nowhere else to stay besides the jail.

"We've got two needs," he said. "Let's keep them apart. We need both."

It was not clear to some observers when the meeting ended which type of facility would be recommended. Mrs. E. M. Turrentine, head of the citizens group, told The Post-Crescent later, "We are looking for a facility for temporary care of juveniles not needed to

Fishing Trip No Fun For GI Home on Leave

CHILTON — A route 3, Chilton serviceman home on leave, was rescued from Lake Winnebago Wednesday night after rowing 4 hours trying to reach shore.

Albert G. Bowe, 21, was fishing off Brothertown area shoreline about 3:30 p.m. when his outboard engine broke down. He attempted to row back toward shore but the strong easterly winds swept the craft far out onto the lake.

After four hours adrift, he was spotted by Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Gerhartz, Stockbridge, about 3 miles off shore from Asylum Point, near the West shore. The Gerhartz' and another couple were returning from a boat trip to Oshkosh. He had drifted about 11 miles.

Bowe waved to the Gerhartz boat. Gerhartz, seeing that Bowe was exhausted, attached a line to Bowe's boat and towed him for 1½ hours before reaching the harbor at Calumet County Park. There he was taken to the park shelter house.

Bowe's mother, Mrs. Albert G. Bowe Sr., had notified the Calumet County Sheriff's Department at 7:51 p.m. that the serviceman had not returned home.

The Sheriff's Department, along with the Neenah police boat, Conservation Department boats and a Conservation Department airplane out of Oshkosh had been out searching for Bowe since before 8:30 p.m.

After resting at the shelter house, Bowe was returned to his home in Chilton by Mr. and Mrs. Gerhartz.

Waupaca Buys Site For School at King

Elementary Plant to be Built Soon

WAUPACA — A 30-acre site, which will be used for a future elementary school in the King area, was purchased for $20,000 Tuesday by the Waupaca School District.

The farm land sold by Robert Erickson, is on the north side of County Trunk Q near the intersection with State 22, south of King.

Payments for the site will be made over a 10-year period, Supt. George Hendrickson said.

At the June 27 meeting, the board purchased 65 acres of land on the southeast side of the city at a cost of $50,575. This site will be used for a new high school.

Approve Classrooms

In other business, the board approved agreements to rent additional classroom space for the coming year from the Trinity Lutheran Church and St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church.

One room will be rented from Trinity for $1,900 for the school year, and three rooms from St. Mary Magdalene at $1,350 per room.

Cost of the room at the Lutheran church educational wing, will include all desks and equipment and janitorial service. The school will provide equipment and janitorial service for the rooms in the new educational center of the Catholic church.

Plans now call for a kindergarten class at the Lutheran church room and three lower elementary classes at the Catholic church.

Hire Teachers

Contracts were approved for Mrs. Beverly Braun and Mrs. Betty Spindt who will teach on a half-day basis. Mrs. Braun will teach three classes of high school English and Mrs. Spindt, high school speech classes.

A contract also was approved for Layner Moen to operate a school bus. Moen, who owns and operates the only contract-bus for the school district, will be paid $288 per month, a 5 per cent increase over last year's contract.

A meeting to discuss the 1967-68 budget was set for 7:30 p.m. July 25. At that time the proposed budget for the coming year will be completed, Henderickson said.

Had Rare Reaction

Clintonville Tot Aided By Red Cross Program

CLINTONVILLE — A rare reaction to a small pox vaccination has made a Clintonville family keenly aware of the Red Cross blood programs value.

Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, 164 W. Main St., knew about the program but never imagined it would reach into their lives.

The incident, related by Mrs. Keith Beggs, local Red Cross blood chairman, occurred in spring.

When the Thomas' second child, year-old Matthew David, received a smallpox vaccination, his 3-year-old sister, Jennifer Lynn, also became ill with symptoms similar to those of the baby.

Need Special Serum

Fortunately, the family physician had explained to Mrs. Thomas that other persons occasionally react allergically to vaccine received by someone else. When this happens, a special serum, Vaccinia Immune Globulin (VIG), distributed only by the American Red Cross, is required.

VIG, processed from the blood of donors newly vaccinated against smallpox, stops the action of the vaccine. One donor is needed for every five milliliter of the serum.

After examining Jennifer, the physician called the Red Cross consultant in Chicago. Permission was given to the Badger Red Cross Blood Center in Madison for the release of the serum. It was immediately sent by air to Clintonville where it was administered to Jennifer the next morning. The tot made an uneventful recovery while her brother, Matthew, had a normal reaction to his vaccination.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile in Clintonville will be located at the Veterans Memorial Building from 1 to 6 p.m., Aug. 7. Prospective blood donors are asked to call Mrs. Raymond Schulz, donor recruiter chairman, to make an appointment. Scheduled appointments will help the Red Cross volunteers arrange for the orderly processing of donors through the center.

New London Jaycees Start Fund for Park Shelter House

NEW LONDON — The Jaycees have set aside $14,000 in a special fund for a shelter house and restrooms for Pfeifer Park.

The group plans to prepare bids soon. Any funds from the balance at the end of this year would also be used.

The Jaycees hope to build the restrooms and cement slab for the shelter house this year.

In other business at a meeting last week, Roger Pitt was appointed to investigate the possibility of sponsoring a carnival as a project.

It was reported the group went $47 in the red on its Fourth of July celebration, which included fireworks and a prize drawing.

Waupaca Man Injured When Car Overturns

WAUPACA — A 24-year-old rural Waupaca man escaped serious injury about 11 p.m. Tuesday when the car he was driving went out of control, struck two large rocks and overturned.

County traffic police said Donald L. Miller, route 4, Waupaca, was driving east on Smokey Valley Road, 4 miles northwest of here when he lost control of the car.

Miller, who suffered cuts on his left hand, was thrown from the car when it rolled. The 1953 model car was demolished.

School Census Shows Decline In Population

47 Fewer Persons Of Student Age in Clintonville District

CLINTONVILLE — A total of 3,410 persons less than 20 years of age resided in the school district as of June 30.

This is a decrease of 47 from the 1966 figure of 3,457. Of the total, 1,717 were boys, 23 less than a year ago, and 1,693 were girls, 24 less than a year ago.

The drop occurs in children under 4 years with 543 this year compared with 591 last year, or 48 less. The 1967 total for ages 4 through 19 is 2,867, or one more than the total for 1966.

The school census figures show that 3,051 persons in the district live in Waupaca County, 34 less than in 1966; 218 in Outagamie County, a gain of 12, and 141 in Shawano County, 25 less than in 1966.

Comparison Breakdown

In other comparisons of the total persons under 20 years of age living in the school district, according to the June 30, 1967 census, the City of Clintonville has 1,639, a drop of 46 from 1966; Village of Embarrass, 136, down 4; Town of Bear Creek, 269, down 7; Town of Larrabee, 563, a gain of 40; Town of Matteson, 377, down 16.

Model A Buffs Plan Gathering at Waupaca

WAUPACA — A record number of Model A Ford buffs are expected to turn out for the fifth annual Model A Ford Reunion scheduled here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

This year's event at the Waupaca Conservation Club campgrounds is being sponsored by Model A Restorer's Club from the Nickle A Region, Wisconsin Region, Central Wisconsin and Miliwaukee.

Marlin Haase, Waupaca, said more than 100 Model A's are expected to participate. Last year, 68 cars were entered in the competition.

Activities will get underway Friday with registration from 7 to 9 p.m. At 1:45 p.m. Saturday, the group will tour the Chain O' Lakes Area, Little Hope, and the city of Waupaca in their cars. A brief stop will be made at Bethany Home so that senior citizens of the home may have a look at the old cars so familiar to them, Haase said. A stop will also be made at Whispering Pines Park.

Judging of the cars will take place at the campgrounds after the tour. The banquet will be held at the Oakwood Supper Club where a large tent will be set up for the buffet style chicken and ham dinner.

Several visitors will be in costume for the banquet and costume judging will take place after dinner, Haase said. As an added feature this year there will also be a contest for children's costumes.

Car games will start at 10 a.m., Sunday in an area near the campgrounds. The public is invited to attend the games, Haase said. Game events will include slow drive, gas shut off and run, blind line stop, center clamp stop and partner's water race.

Committee chairmen in charge of this year's reunion are Bob Delaney, Green Bay, meet coordinator; Ed Moehrke, Madison, registration; Harry Hoppa, Wisconsin Rapids, cook out and dining spot; Marlin Haase, Waupaca, tour route and camp site; John Madison, Milwaukee, car games, and Mrs. Delores Hammer, Chilton, costume judging.

School Board Head Resigns At Manawa

Stewart Craig Was President Past Five Years

MANAWA — School board president, Stewart Craig has resigned his position on the board of education after 10 years of service. He was elected to the board in 1957 and served as clerk until 1962 when he was elected president.

Thomas Hoffmann has filed a letter of intent to be a candidate to represent Zone 1 of the district, formerly represented by Craig. He will be unopposed.

Also unopposed is Lester Miller of Zone 2, Town of Little Wolf. Miller is presently treasurer of the board.

Polls will be open from 1 to 8 p.m. July 24 for election of the two members for three-year terms. Polling place will be the high school fieldhouse.

The board will meet after the election to name new officers.

Auction Planned Sunday at Shiocton Legion Clubhouse

SHIOCTON — Plans for fund-raising auction scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday at the American Legion Clubhouse were completed last week by the post and its women's auxiliary.

Proceeds will be used to repair and renovate the clubhouse, which also serves as a community center.

All items to be sold will be donated. Members of the auxiliary will serve lunch throughout the afternoon.

In other business, the post voted to endorse the suggestion by Paul Doerfler, district Americanism chairman, pertaining to the daily display of the American Flag adopted recently at the Outagamie County Council of the American Legion.

Mrs. Raymond Muskavitch, auxiliary president appointed the following committee heads: Americanism, Mrs. Leroy Conradt; Badger Girls State and education and scholarship, Mrs. Marlin Schwandt; child welfare, Mrs. Muskavitch; community service, Mrs. Donald Ronk; civil defense, Mrs. Frank Beyer; constitution and bylaws, policy and code, parliamentarian Mrs. Allen Gunderson; foreign relations, Mrs. Earl Burton; junior activities, Mrs. Dale Nichols and Mrs. LeRoy Conradt; legislation, Mrs. Dennie Bedor; membership, Mrs. William Young, Mrs. Richard Nelson and Mrs. Paul Winterfeldt; music, Mrs. Donald Ronk; national security, Mrs. George Kennedy; publicity, Mrs. Donald Curtiss, Mrs. Allen Gunderson and Mrs. Kennedy; rehabilitation, Mrs. Marian Conradt and Mrs. Nelson; sunshine, Mrs. Nelson; executive committee, Mrs. Russell Omholdt and Mrs. Ervin Colwitz; Mrs. Winterfeldt, named as purchasing agent.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to the out-going president, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Pinkerton and John Gusmer.

The budget committee will meet Tuesday to prepare the 1967 budget which is tentatively scheduled to be presented to the board of directors Aug. 1.

The fund drive will start in early October, Nelson said.

Clintonville AAL Branch Slates Picnic

CLINTONVILLE — The annual Aid Association for Lutherans local branch picnic will be at 12:15 p.m. Sunday at the Bucholtz Park, near the municipal swimming pool.

Clintonville AAUW To Repeat Book Sale

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Branch of the American Association of University Women Book Fair will be repeated from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday in the Winkel building here.

The Wednesday Sidewalk Daze Sale was so well received and contributions of used books so extensive, that the committee felt the sale should be extended another day.

A large selection of new paperbacks again will be available.

Former Chilton Man Arrested in Sheboygan

CHILTON — Gordon Flaherty, 33, Sheboygan, formerly of Chilton, was arrested Sunday in Sheboygan on a bench warrant issued by Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane.

Cane issued the warrant after Flaherty failed to appear in court July 12 to answer non-support charges. Sheriff Irvan Vice brought Flaherty back to the county and he is scheduled to appear July 26 before Judge Cane.

Drive Leader Appointed

Edward Kramer Also Vice President of Waupaca Campaign

WAUPACA — Edward Kramer was named vice president and fund drive chairman for the 1967 Waupaca Community Chest at a board of directors meeting Tuesday.

A budget committee also was named. It will consist of Harvey E. Nelson, community chest president, Kramer, Melvin Mather, Frank Egan, LaVern Hanke, John Nimlos, Kenneth

Veterans Home Employes Favor Bargaining Pact

KING — By an overwhelming 198-3 margin, members of Local 555 Grand Army Home Employees of the Wisconsin State AFSCME, AFL-CIO, voted Wednesday to have a collective bargaining agreement with the state.

Grand Army Home employes previously belonged to Local 555 of the AFSCME but had no collective bargaining agreement, Frank Kropilnicki, spokesfor the employes said.

Certification will follow in approximately one week Kropilnicki said after the election.

Dale Board of Review To Meet Monday Night

DALE — The Board of Review will meet at the town hall Monday night to complete the review of the assessment roll.

Bloodmobile Falls Short Of Quota

NEW LONDON — The Red Cross Bloodmobile received only 91 pints of blood here last week, 34 under its quota of 125, Mrs. Elroy Stern, general chairman reported.

The local chapter awarded the first five-gallon pin to Jerome Freiburger. Harry Wright received a three-gallon pin. Mary Kittlison and William Kepner received two-gallon pins and Gil Laberg and Joseph Gates received one-gallon pins.

Sale of Impure Milk Costs Chilton Man $50

CHILTON — Melvin Hoerl, route 2, was fined $50 and costs Monday when he appeared in Calumet County Court on a charge of selling impure milk.

Hoerth was charged by Clarence Hilbert, state milk inspector, with illegally selling impure milk July 3 to the Charlesburg Cheese Factory which is owned and operated by Glen Thielmann.

Clintonville Women Plan Antique Show and Sale

CLINTONVILLE — Women of the United Methodist church are busy with final plans for the second annual Antique Show and Sale, July 27 and 28.

Twelve professional Wisconsin antique dealers from Menominee, Milwaukee, Afton, Racine, Eagle River, Stevens Point, Onalaska, Wisconsin Rapids, Appleton and Bloomer will participate in the show.

The show will open at 10 a.m. July 27 and run to 9 p.m. Hours July 28 are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A salad buffet luncheon will be served both days from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. A Country Store featuring hand-fashioned items, rag rugs, old-fashioned penny candy, baked goods and other delicacies will be open both days.

Pie or cake with coffee will be served in the Coffee Shoppe from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Fred Holmes, Mrs. Joe Stein and Mrs. Lewis Thomas are coordinating the work of the committees. Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service are responsible for the many phases of work for the show. Mrs. Sherwood Lorenz and Mrs. Walter Denney are in charge of publicity.

Monday Night Club Has New Officer

WAUPACA — Miss Elizabeth Johnson was installed as second vice president of the Waupaca Monday Night Club at a recent meeting. Miss Johnson will replace Mrs. Rita Smith who resigned. Mrs. Henry Vanderwalder was the installing officer.

In other business Mrs. James Vaughn, president, reported on the recent state convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Woman's Clubs held in Oshkosh and Mrs. Robert Mather, presented program plans for the coming year.

The meeting was held at the Salan Cottage on McCrossen Lake.

Robert Joosten, 20, Little Chute, Dies In South Vietnam

LITTLE CHUTE — Robert Joosten, 20-year-old son of Mrs. Walter Joosten, 603 E. Main St., a Navy medical corpsman on patrol with an advance unit of Marines in Vietnam who was reported killed in action Wednesday died when his patrol was ambushed and he was hit by schrapnel fragments.

Joosten was a 1965 graduate of St. John High School where he was active in basketball and track events.

He signed for a four-year tour of duty with the Navy in March, 1966, and following boot camp at Great Lakes Naval Training Station volunteered for Naval Corps School.

Service School

In April, 1967, after completion of training at Adcom Medical School at Great Lakes Joosten was selected for Field Medical Service School at Marine base Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He was then assigned to the Fifth Marine Division, a fighting unit in Vietnam.

Joosten is survived by his mother and a sister at home. His father died in November, 1966.

Ordinance Eliminates Year-to-Year Terms Of Works Director, Department Heads

WAUPACA — The positions of city engineer and three department heads will no longer be on a yearly appointment basis if an ordinance read at a recent city council meeting is eventually adopted.

Affected by the proposed ordinance would be the city engineer, street department, water department and sanitary department superintendents. With the present system, all are appointed on a year-to-year basis each April.

Under the new ordinance appointments would be long-term and officials could be removed for cause only.

The positions are held by Iver Oerter, city engineer; Neil Rasmussen, street department; Richard Petersen, water department, and Gene Sorensen, sanitary department.

The ordinance will go into effect 60 days after the second reading, which is scheduled for the Aug. 1 council meeting.

Sick Leave

A sick leave program also was approved for all city employes paid on an hourly basis. Employes will receive one-half day sick leave per month with a maximum of six days. The new program will be retroactive to July 1. Until now the hourly employes had no sick leave benefits.

The council also recommended a $2,600 annual increase in rent for the Armory from the Wisconsin National Guard. The National Guard now pays $1,400 per year and the three-year lease is scheduled to expire soon. The proposed rent has been set at $8,000.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said the National Guard unit is using the armory much more than it did at the start of the present lease. More space also is being used in the building, he added. Matheson recommended that the rent be increased to $6,000 but after a short discussion among aldermen it was recommended that it be increased to $8,000. The proposal for the increase will now be submitted to the National Guard.

It also was pointed out that because of the National Guard use, several city recreational programs had to be curtailed.

Matheson closed the discussion on the issue with, "I don't care if the National Guard renews its lease or not."

Director of Community Services and Welfare to be selected and [illegible]. There are [illegible] applicants.

He added, "We need some [illegible] to assist in the [illegible] of a facility. What can we start to do to solve the problem?" Minutes later Dohr [illegible] to appoint the committee.

The advisory committee, [illegible] the state statutes, will assist the juvenile court and serve as a go-between for the court and the public, interpreting the functions and actions of the court.

Committee Help

"The committee can be invaluable in putting together the package the county board desires," Luce said.

Sheriff Norbert Marx agreed there is a need for a temporary sheltered care facility for juveniles. "There's no place to put them," he said, referring to children who cannot stay in their homes. "These type of children don't belong in jail."

Mrs. Turrentine indicated the citizen's committee has recommended an eight-bed facility, staffed by a foster couple, which could take care of juveniles who were sent to the county jail detention section only because there is no receiving home in the county.

Suggest Controls

Luce suggested that controls be set up for such a sheltered care home so that it didn't turn into a detention facility.

Eggert added, "A sheltered care facility will be filled most of the time, leaving little room for detention. If you're going to set up a detention facility, keep it detention."

Mrs. Turrentine said that hopefully the detention facilities could be removed from the county jail sometime in the future or separated more from the adult section than it is now.

Juveniles staying in jail use the same admittance facilities as the adult prisoners.

[illegible] Martin, director of [illegible] and Leonard [illegible] could [illegible] the plans additionally, if [illegible] be added.

Behind the struggle lie the [illegible] of the monumental [illegible] Battle which is raging over the site of the Green Bay [illegible].

Proponents of the Green Bay [illegible] contend to split the two [illegible], although the Parkside [illegible] are about one month [illegible] ahead of development of the Green Bay proposals.

The campus backers fear opponents, led by Assembly Speaker Harold Froelich, R-Appleton, will move to kill the campus if they are not successful in their fight to move the site.

Led by Leonard and Gov. Warren P. Knowles, the proponents of the two campuses are refusing to split the two projects to insure that the powerful political support of southeastern Wisconsin lawmakers favoring the Parkside project stick with the embattled Green Bay forces.

Martin, at an early July meeting of the commission, said he would be prepared in August to vote for approval of the complete $500,000. He then thought that the session would be held as scheduled on Aug. 14.

But attempts by both sides to change votes on the issue led to the calling of the special meeting today in hopes by Knowles and Leonard that one of the site foes could be convinced to change his position.

Martin again said today he believes he can vote to approve the projects after approving the preliminary planning documents but said he must see the Green Bay proposals before voting on them.

Leonard reminded Martin that, at the last meeting, Martin by-passed an opportunity to study similiar Parkside plans — and Martin said he would like to study those as well.

Doves and Hawks in Moscow

New York Times correspondent Harrison Salisbury, who won a Pulitzer Prize for his articles from the Soviet Union a decade ago, is back in Moscow. And he reports that Russia as well as the United States is having high level struggles between the doves and the hawks.

Among the doves, according to Salisbury, are Premier Kosygin, party secretary Brezhnev and President Podgorny. But while this would seem to include the major powers in the Kremlin, the hard line faction among the military has considerable influence. The fiasco in the Middle East where the Soviet-backed Arabs went down to humiliating defeat has increased the tension.

The hawks argue that the United States, by not compromising in Vietnam, by recognizing the Greek military junta and by its backing of the major arguments of Israel, is seeking to change the balance of world forces in the American favor. Salisbury reports that a leading hawk, former Communist Party chief Yegorychev, was dismissed from office because of his vehement arguments in favor of creating a military crisis in some other part of the world to take the spotlight off the Arab defeat in the Middle East. Another hawk, Alexander Shelepin, was demoted, also reportedly because he agreed with Yegorychev.

The top hierarchy in the Kremlin has made it clear who is in control by the demotions. But this does not necessarily mean that the whole affair will blow over. The humiliation felt by Russia after it was forced to remove its missiles from Cuba was one factor in the expulsion of Khrushchev several months after the event.

The Russians are suspicious of a couple of other incidents in regard to the United States. One of course is the publication of the articles by Mrs. Svetlana Alliluyeva and even the fact that the United States finally gave her sanctuary in this country. Another, oddly enough, is the publicity given to the use of the hot line telephone by President Johnson in directly contacting Premier Kosygin at the time of the trouble in the Middle East. While this certainly sounds encouraging as far as Russian-American relations are concerned, the Soviets were annoyed because it lent credence to the Red Chinese claims of American-Russian cooperation.

It has been widely reported that President Kennedy sent troops to Vietnam in great part because he felt the United States needed a moral victory after the Bay of Pigs fiasco which reflected so badly upon his administration. The same sort of excuse for intervention in another part of the world could easily sway Russian leaders.

Kenya and Mississippi

The United States sends billions of dollars in economic help to underdeveloped countries. Thousands of its Peace Corps workers are contributing to the dissemination of information which can help other peoples live better lives. But a team of doctors studying conditions in six counties in Mississippi said that they are "not one whit better than conditions in the northern part of Kenya."

The poverty-stricken families are primarily Negro and originally they were being helped by the Child Development Group of Mississippi. But Senator John Stennis charged that the group was involved with some black power factions of the area. The Office of Economic Opportunity investigated and the funds were cut off. Subsequently money was regained for all of Mississippi except the six counties where conditions appear to be the worst. Currently a new group called Friends of the Children of Mississippi has been organized, gets some federal money and assistance from the Field Foundation of New York.

The causes for the near starvation of hundreds of young children are varied. In general the fathers of the families have long ago disappeared. One mother charged that she could no longer find work because she had enrolled a daughter in a previously all white school. Fifteen people may live in a two room house with no indoor plumbing. The children eat watermelon, black eyed peas, grits and gravy but there is seldom assurance of a meal to come. Lunch programs in the schools have not been usual. Some get their only meal of the day from Head Start programs. There is apathy, resignation, no ambition and not even much resentment or bitterness.

Of course the adults are to blame in part. But when political antagonisms become involved, something is seriously wrong. One thing alone is sure. The hungry children are not to blame.

Youth Conservation Camps

Five years ago the state of Wisconsin launched a unique experiment in natural resources conservation education when a modest slice of the money appropriated for the new Outdoors Recreation Act was dedicated to the financing of several youth camps in woodland environments to provide outdoors work experiences for apt high school boys chosen by their high school principals.

The results thus far have shown, as the State Recreation Committee informally concluded the other day when it received a progress report on the camps, that this was one of the most imaginative proposals ever conceived by the educators and conservation officials who presented it to Gaylord Nelson, then governor, when he successfully promoted his plan for the enlargement of outdoors recreational resources.

There are three of the camps, each enrolling about 200 boys during two sessions each summer. Thus perhaps 3,000 young men have thus far been exposed to the charms of wilderness life and have been instructed in the practical values of forest and stream improvements and the many other tasks to which they have been assigned during their camp stays. Many of them from city environments, no doubt, would not have had such learning experiences without the provision of these camps.

Their knowledge and their skills and experiences and appreciation of the beauties of nature and nature's ways may be communicated to their schoolmates upon their return, as the state officials explained when they reviewed the report. More than that, they will soon become adults, raising their own families, taking part in the civic affairs of their neighborhoods and the political process of the state community, and will reflect the principles of natural resources conservation among their neighbors.

It is somewhat disappointing that enrollments lately have been slowing, and that competition for places in the camps is not as keen as in the beginning. Obviously the more plentiful paying job opportunities in the summer season are reflected here, as the officials in charge conceded when they raised the stipend for camp attendance from $18 to $20 a week effective this year.

It may be also that there remains a degree of misunderstanding about the nature and purpose of the camps, since the State Welfare Department has been chosen to operate them. It needs to be emphasized that the Welfare Department is involved only circumstantially. It has the experience and the staff to operate the facilities. The Conservation Department does not. But there ought to be no stigma of "welfare" or "corrections." The Conservation Department runs the program and supervises the work schedules, and any boy who is chosen to enroll in the summer camp program is by definition a superior kind of fellow.

Real Work of Kellett Act Implementation Is Just Now Starting

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The basic assumption of the men who devised and enacted the new state government administration reorganization law was that the extravagant proliferation of independent services over many decades had dangerously diluted the constitutional power, authority and duty of the executive branch of the state.

Wyngaard

As the preface to the act put it in what is perhaps an elementary but necessary paragraph, it is the duty and responsibility of the Legislature to devise policies and programs and to review them periodically in the budget-making process, and it is the job of the governor to carry them out efficiently and effectively.

With an unreasonable number of subordinate agencies, the governor was increasingly handicapped in doing his job, as the reorganization act explained, and as no serious or detached observer of state affairs can deny.

But it would be a serious miscalculation to assume that the task has now been finished. In brutal fact, it has scarcely begun. The most difficult challenge remains. The blueprint has been drawn. Now, the infinitely complex, difficult, delicate, and perhaps dangerous -- in political terms -- job of constructing the state administrative establishment according to the new design must begin.

LONG PULL

It may be two or three years, perhaps four or five, before the job is completed in the terms indicated by the rough sketches set out in the Kellett Act, as it will doubtless be known in state history. Already principal state officials doubt that effective integration of programs ordered in the act can be achieved without physical centralization. But the Madison office space problem is a severe one, and it will become worse before it is resolved.

In many cases official titles will be changed. There will be delicate problems in personal relationships, as rank and power are adjusted, and as authority in some cases is reduced, in others enlarged, in yet others shared by men who during all of the earlier years of their state service had only a nodding acquaintance with each other.

The matter of official state agency stationery is a trivial one. But it illustrates, nevertheless. Perhaps half of all the agency letter heads in the big state administration will be redesigned. The Department of Administration issued a freeze order on stationery supplies several months ago, although it was highly uncertain then that the reorganization proposal would survive the mauling it was getting in the Legislature.

PRECEDENT FOR TASK

The creation of the Department of Administration six years go, as one of the principal events during the gubernatorial term of Gaylord Nelson, suggests some of the problems and challenges of bureaucratic adjustment to change.

That consolidated agency was the first solid recognition in modern times of the weakening position of the executive resulting from the diffusion of duties over more bureaus, departments, commissions, boards and divisions than any man could pretend to understand, not to mention supervise.

But even after the passage of those years, there is a powerful but unpublicized resistance and resentment toward the powers and activities and personnel of the Department of Administration among the other services. There is often a fear that because the governor leans so heavily upon [illegible] administration [illegible] career and his appointees [illegible] the statutory powers of the independent agencies is being eroded, and there [illegible] have put the responsibility where the statutes say that the public assumes they have. Wayne McGraw named to the position of administration commissioner a few days ago by Gov. Knowles, is doubtless aware of such sentiments [illegible] service in the department.

Anarchic Passion to Smash Real Factor Behind Newark Race Riots

BY WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

What happened at Newark? You would think we would all know for sure. After all, there are (at the last count) thirteen hundred persons arrested, so that there are plenty of people around to interrogate. How will the typical interrogation go? Here is how most of our moralizers hope it will go . . .

Magistrate: Mr. Jones, why did you burn down the corner delicatessen store?

Buckley

A: Because of my sense of despair.

M: Why do you feel a sense of despair, Mr. Jones?

A: Because my people have been persecuted for four-hundred years.

M: But you do realize that there are laws against burning down delicatessen stores? Especially when the manager and his wife are still inside the store?

A: Laws schmaws. Have you never heard of civil disobedience? Have you never heard of Martin Luther King? Have you never heard of the dialectic of violence?

M: What are you talking about, Jones?

ANY PROTEST OK

A: Just this, Whitey. You and all the other judges and all the lawyers and the reformers and the whole bloody white power structure, aren't doing enough for the people [illegible] your profit-seeking great-granddaddies uprooted from their native hearths, and it is only fitting under the circumstances that we should protest by whatever means are at our disposal. An editorial writer for the New York Times makes an acute historical analogy between what we did at Newark and what you people did at the Boston Tea Party. "Calmer people were so aghast" — after the Boston riot — "That they suggested that the ministers and rabble-rousing patriots who incited this riotous act become turnspits in the kitchens of the English nobility." In the 21st Century they'll be building monuments to the heroes of Watts, and Buffalo, and Cincinnati — and Newark.

M: But surely you realize that the effect of what you did is likely to be exactly the opposite of what you desire? White hearts will harden against you —

A: Hearts schmartz. The point about rioting is precisely that it works. The Reverend Fred Shuttleworth, a very holy man, and the principal assistant to Martin Luther King, said about a new park being built in the riot area of Cincinnati, "A lot of people think they got that because of the rioting, and I think they are right. Non-violence didn't get it."

A: And you can't go around exploiting races you disapprove of.

M: I sentence you to thirty days, suspended sentence.

A: Remember, judge, it'll be THE fire next time. We let you off easy this time.

M: I appreciate that, Mr. Jones. Thanks very much.

But of course it won't be that way. There is probably only one Stokely Carmichael out of a thousand rioters. Governor Hughes, of New Jersey, is a liberal prominently identified with the civil rights movement, and after observing the riot for seventy-two hours he arrived at a conclusion.

"It was plain and simple crime and not a civil rights protest," Gov. Hughes said. At other moments he called it, rather loosely, an "insurrection," a "rebellion," in which case it was surely among the most futile and chaotic rebellions ever recorded. There was no hope of coming to power. There was no prospect of a radically altered relationship, save possibly for the worse. There were no concrete objectives listed, not even a new park or swimming pool.

NOBODY REALLY KNOWS

It is rumored -- it is nothing more than a rumor -- that the proximate irritations were the failure of the Mayor to appoint a Negro member to the School Board, and the displacement of a number of Negro families by a public building -- which, if it had not been built in the ghetto, would perhaps have caused as much resentment. But nobody knows for sure.

At another point, the Governor said that economic misery was the root cause of the riot, and it is true that the unemployed in Newark are at double the national rate -- yet that only makes for 8-9 per cent. Was there a master choreographer? Stokely? The Communist Party? No, though the Governor does believe that some of the rioters were from out of town, and that some of the snipers were expert marksmen, practised in evasive tactics.

What fueled the riot was of course a raging disease of the spirit which is unrelated to statistical abstracts having to do with unemployment and economic opportunity. It is the anarchic passion to smash, the phrase of Herbert Agar as he surveyed the wreckage of Europe under communism and fascism during the thirties. That spirit has got to be contained, and the National Guard can only accomplish so much. The Shuttleworths and the Kings and the New York Times' need to return to philosophical bedrock, and do a little hard labor on history and morality and the causes of civilization, and of the fall of civilizations.

Looking Backward

Gen. Jackson Teases Good Ladies

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 20, 1867.

While a procession of ladies was marching up the street to the council chambers on Saturday evening (the liquor traffic was under discussion and the good ladies were temperance society members), an aged and venerable darkey (called Gen. Jackson and a pioneer of the Town of Freedom) stepped up with fife in hand and placed himself at their head.

He played "John Brown" for a half a block or more until jerked off the walk by one who hadn't an ear for music.

It is reported that "Gen. Jackson" will enter a complaint with Secretary of War Stanton, and ask that troops be stationed here and martial law at once be proclaimed!

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 16, 1942.

Gustave J. Keller, Appleton, chairman of the state Democratic organization committee, announced his candidacy that day for governor.

John R. Kimberly, Neenah, former assistant chief of the bureau of industry branches for the War Production Board, was in line for promotion to chief of the WPB. He would, if named, succeed Philip D. Reed, who was transferred to London.

Instructors for the Appleton Military Institute program of pre-military training at Pierce Park included Capt. Orville Muenster, chief of staff, Sgt. George Kerrigan, Lt. Walter Melchior, Sgt. Rudy Haase, Sgt. Peter King, Sgt. Robert Kranhold, and First Sgt. Peter Guckenberg.

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 18, 1957.

Three University of Wisconsin students from the Appleton area were chosen for advanced training in the AFROTC. They were Austin Cotton and James E. Bartz, both of Appleton, and Winton F. Severson, Seymour.

Howard F. Wendland, principal of Trinity Lutheran School in Menasha, was named a director of the Southern Wisconsin district of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church.

Len Verboomen became King of the second annual Schut at Wrightstown with other winners Rollie Schwalenberg, Ted Buechler, Lloyd Gussert, and K. O. Janssen.

Arthur G. Brill was the new president of the Kaukauna Library Board, succeeding Wayne Carr.

India Has Problems With Thieves, Too

BULANDSHAHR, India (AP) — Indian farmers are not only being hampered by drought, insects and rodents but they are also plagued by thieves.

About 100 government and private wells ceased irrigation operations in this area recently when thieves cut one mile of electric power cable and made off with the wire — a high demand item on the Indian market.

Tobacco Revenue Increased in 1965

CHICAGO (AP) — Cigarette smokers led the way as Americans consumed enough tobacco products during 1965 to set an all-time record in federal tobacco tax collections.

Commerce Clearing House says collections on tobacco shot up more than $96 million to a high of $2.1 billion, reversing a downward trend in 1964.

Of the total tax take, cigarette purchases provided $2 billion.

Your Money's Worth

Deferring of Expenses May Not be Thrifty

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Let's assume Congress votes a surtax to be imposed on your income in 1968 Let's assume you are in an income tax bracket high enough to make you wonder whether you should be adopting a tax strategy in the months immediately ahead to minimize the impact of the surcharge on you

Specifically, if you can, should you begin to plan to speed up some of your income from 1968 into 1967? Similarly, if you can, should you begin to plan to defer some of your expenses from 1967 into 1968?

Probably no

After discussing the question at length with Leon Gold, chief tax expert of the Research Institute of America and hearing all the pros and cons the answer I come to is

Despite the fact that this strategy of switching income and expenses appears superficially attractive it probably won't be worthwhile for most of us Here's why

Not Boost Dept

— The surtax even if it is higher than the 6 per cent widely mentioned would not boost your income tax debt significantly A tax increase of the type and proportion anticipated would have only a modest impact on your financial position

If you accelerate income from 1968 into 1967 or defer expenses from 1967 into 1968 in order to hold this year's income and cut next year's you must pay income tax on the amount of income generally a year sooner Because the use of this money is worth a full year This is questionable tax strategy considering what you can earn on savings today or considering what you would have to pay to borrow money to pay the tax owed

You must of course estimate your income and expenses for both 1967 and 1968 and your estimates can be wrong especially for 1967 As Gold says if your 1968 estimates turn out to be overly optimistic they can cost you higher taxes plus having to pay the higher tax in advance

Try to be Specific

Let's be specific Say you are a married man expecting your taxible income in 1967 and in 1968 to be about $34 000 Say the 1968 surtax is 6 10 per cent and put say you can accelerate $2 000 of your 1968 income into this year In your bracket, this $2,000 will be taxed at a 42 per cent rate, or $840, whether you collect it in 1967 or in 1968 The difference is that in 1968, between $50 40 and $84 might be added to the $840 tax, as a surtax

Your question is would it pay to lay out $840 a year sooner and lose what you might earn on the $840, in order to save between $50 40 and $84 in 1968?

The answer comes through even more clearly if you would have to borrow the $840 Say the surcharge is 10 per cent — or $84 Say you borrow the $840 at 6 per cent From your $84 surcharge you must deduct the $50 40 interest on your loan To this result, you can add the $21 17 you save by deducting the interest charge on your income tax return Your net saving would be only $54 77 Is it worth it?

You also must consider the possibility that your 1968 income might drop say to $30,000 Even with a 10 per cent surcharge in 1968 this development would virtually wipe out your tax savings

Maybe Different Strategy

While the general rule calls for shifting income and expenses to keep your 1967 and 1968 income tax brackets about equal you may be in a situation demanding an entirely different strategy

Say you are now single and plan to marry in 1968 Even with a surtax you will as a married man substantially lower rates on your income in 1968 So push income into 1968 and push expenses into 1967

Say you are married and plan to be divorced in 1968 You will as a divorced man pay substantially higher rates on your income in 1968 So push income into 1967 and push expenses into 1968

Your strategy for a 1968 surtax must be decided on an individual basis Gold emphasizes against the background of your expected income your need for more ready cash possible tax savings the ease with which you could arrange for acceleration of income or deferment of expenses

But the odds are that after all your arithmetic most of you will decide to stay put

Cold Shock at End of Hot Shower Unneeded

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: A cold shower to finish a hot one — good or bad? I was raised in a mildly spartan environment and taught always to finish a hot shower with a cold one — "the hot shower leaves your pores open and susceptible to a cold." I was told.

But now I heard that "a cold shower when you are warm is a shock to your heart and nervous system."

Just please don't suggest a tepid shower. To me, that's like a boiled egg sandwich following a good top sirloin. — D.W.

Following a hot shower with a spray of cold is primarily a matter of preference. It may be invigorating for some.

As to open pores and susceptibility to colds — I don't buy that. First of all, cold viruses don't enter through our pores. And besides, the pores adjust readily and automatically to temperatures around you, you don't need a blast of cold water to slam them shut.

I don't think that a person with heart disease should chill himself suddenly by a cold shower any more than I think he should plunge into a cool lake without first gradually acclimating his body to the temperature.

But for a person with a normal heart, the cold is not physically shocking. Some just don't like it. Including me.

As to a tepid shower — I wouldn't mention it in your case.

Dear Dr. Molner: Two doctors said my husband has emphysema from smoking two and three packs of cigarets a day and that he was not to smoke if he wanted to live. Well, he went back to sneaking cigarets and says the doctors are quacks, and to climax it all, the mobile unit was X-raying employes where he works and his card was mailed back saying his chest was negative. I don't know who to believe. — Mrs. M. S.

The mobile units are primarily screening for tuberculosis. Your husband may be negative for TB, but still have emphysema.

The screening test used for emphysema is a breathing test rather than X-ray. If your husband is smart, he will heed the warning to stop smoking.

Dear Dr. Molner: My grandson, now 5, was born with fluid in and around the right testicle. Is there a chance of this clearing up? — Mrs. I. H.

This is called congenital hydrocele. At times the fluid may absorb. There is no urgency about correcting the condition as long as it is not increasing in size. Surgery may ultimately be necessary but it does not damage the testes.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a sacrolized fifth lumbar, and can it be on one side only? — Mrs. P. S.

The lower spine consists of five lumbar vertebrae plus the triangle-shaped sacrum. The fifth lumbar is the vertebra abutting the sacrum.

The iliac or wingbones of the hip attach to the sides of the sacrum — these are the sacroiliac joints.

Occasionally a faulty development occurs in which the fifth lumbar vertebra becomes fused to the top of the sacral bone, and this is the condition to which you refer.

It can occur on one side or both. It may or may not cause pain in the lower back. The disc in the connection between the two bones also can be defective and cause pain.

Different Abilities Of Men, Women To be Examined

MADISON (AP) — A study to determine the not-so-obvious differences between men and women was proposed by Wisconsin Industrial Commissioner Gene A. Rowland Tuesday.

Rowland said the $30,000 to $50,000 study would provide information on which jobs women are physically able to do.

He said there has never been a study of the subject by professional researchers.

"It may prove that the male back is not equipped to do the job that men have been doing," he said. "In hospitals there are few complaints from women with back trouble but a lot from males with back trouble."

Industry and labor have indicated interest in helping to finance the study, Rowland said.

He said the University of Wisconsin would be asked to make the study.

Vandals Do Damage To Local Park Facilities

Vandalism to Appleton park equipment valued at $77 was reported to police about 10:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Park department employes reported a water fountain at Hoover Park, valued at $70, and a window in the men's rest room at Erb Park, valued at $7, damaged.

Victory Predicted

GOP Liberals Might Fall in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — The sagging liberal wing of the Republican party can no longer be certain of getting the badly needed stimulus nationwide it once confidently expected from Philadelphia's mayoralty election Nov. 7.

The latest confidential poll by John Bucci, pollster for Pennsylvania Republicans, tell the story. Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter, the liberal Republican, nominee, still holds a fairly comfortable lead over lackluster two-term Democratic Mayor James Tate. But it is nowhere near the 68 per cent of 32 per cent lead held by Specter according to a Bucci sampling just before the May 16 primary election. Just how much Specter has slipped since then is a closely guarded Republican secret, but the drop is known to be considerable.

Whether or not Specter keeps slipping is of vital interest far beyond the Philadelphia city line. A victory by Specter, who switched from Democratic to Republican to run for district attorney in 1965, over old line Democrat Tate would be used by the party's liberals to show the kind of Republican who best could handle old line Democrat Lyndon Johnson in 1968. An upset Tate victory, on the contrary, would demoralize the Republican left.

The immediate cause for Tate's return from the political dead is not hard to find. Just before the May primary, a top Specter lieutenant told us his only real concern was that Tate might come out of his battle for renomination against the machine with enough momentum "to carry him through November."

Whether Tate picked up that much momentum remains to be seen. But when he smothered the last bit of life in the decomposing Democratic city machine headed by Frank Smith in a primary victory that surprised even his supporters, he began to menace Specter.

Novak

Evans

Since then, Tate has played his cards with a skill beyond his own resources. It was a suggestion from Vice President Hubert Humphrey that sent Tate scurrying to Tel Aviv just before the Arab-Israeli war. Humphrey telephoned Tate in Rome on June 2, advising him that a quick trip to Isreal could pay fancy dividends. The resulting headlines in Philadelphia made Tate a hero to this city's 160,000 Jewish voters.

Tate returned to Rome a month later to cash in on the publicity — dear to the hearts of 400,000 Catholic voters here — of Archbishop Joseph Krol's elevation to the College of Cardinals. In between, Tate managed to visit Ireland.

Labor Support

Moreover, Tate has the most solidly mobilized and financed labor support in Philadelphia's history and is the first incumbent mayor in recent years to seek a second term with the backing of nearly all the city's 30,000 employes (because of salary increases he has pushed through the city council).

The result: Specter forced into street corner campaigning in midsummer, weeks ahead of schedule.

Against Tate's resurgence, Specter must rely more than ever on the Philadelphia chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). The ADA, which in the 1950's helped end a half-century of often corrupt Republican rule in city hall, now has turned against the Democrat by endorsing Specter (himself as ex-ADA official).

The first poll ever of Philadelphia's ADA membership was conducted on the question of endorsing Specter and produced an overwhelming yes. Although it has only about 4,500 members, the ADA is one of Philadelphia's most aggressive political action organizations.

With Specter himself calling the signals, the ADA is the heart of a new "Democrats for Specter" organization which will set up headquarters in downtown Philadelphia next door to the Democratic city committee headquarters.

Effective Tool

While spending $25,000 on its Specter campaign, the ADA is Specter's most effective tool to woo Democratic voters. Specter must shave off some 30 percent of Democratic voters to win.

Two factor, besides his alliance with the ADA, bring this seemingly impossible task within reach. First, as the first Jewish mayoral nominee, Specter should win a large majority of normally-Democratic Jewish votes, despite Tate's pilgrimage to Tel Aviv.

Second, Specter is the first breath of fresh air in Philadelphia politics since the Joseph Clark-Richardson Dilworth Reform Democratic regime ended five years ago. Indeed, this is the theme of Specter's campaign.

If these factors are not enough to halt Tate's new momentum in the long weeks ahead, it will be a damaging blow nationally to the Republican left on the very eve of full-scale campaigning for the party's Presidential nomination.

Over-the-Counter Sales Face Review

New Director of Wisconsin's Securities Department Tells Plan

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A sweeping review system of over-the-counter securities trading was announced Tuesday by Thomas Nelson, newly appointed director of the Wisconsin Department of Securities

Purpose of the program, announced Nelson, is to prevent price manipulation and other trading abuses in the active field

"We have had a clean state," he said "This is entirely a precautionary step, this is the type of thing all state departments should be doing."

There is no evidence of price manipulation in the over-the-counter securities market at the present time, he added, but said that such a surveillance system is necessary "just as are speed limits."

Actively-Traded

Under Nelson's plan, the department's staff of examiners will follow price changes and dealer activity in a list of approximately 200 of the most actively traded over the counter securities in the state.

Where there are indications of unusual price behavior or abnormal dealer activities, he said, the department staff will investigate dealers and companies, seeking explanations for the price changes or heightened activity

The investigations will end if satisfactory answers are found, he said, but the department may use its full range of auditing and enforcement powers if there are indications of illegal activity, he warned.

He said that the new program can be started without additional responsibilities for local dealers, but that changes in the department's required reporting system for licensed securities dealers might be changed in the future if the operations under the system indicate that additional information is generally required of over the counter securities dealers.

Monthly Reports

At present, the department receives monthly reports on the volume of trade in over the counter securities from dealers, but does not receive reports on the price levels involved in such trading

With added information gathered from the National Quotation Bureau daily price change sheets and from staff examiner analyses, Nelson said, the price change information will be available for the securities on the Wisconsin surveillance list.

He said that the survey would include only the approximately 200 most active securities in the field, and would not cover the entire 10,000 to 15,000 over-the-counter securities available in the country.

Kaukauna Council Votes to Pay Bill

Attorney Rules No Way to Withhold Street Building Funds

KAUKAUNA — A ruling by city atty. Donald Green indicating that there was no legal way for the city to withhold a $3,748 payment to the Parker Construction Co for installation of concrete streets prompted the common council to authorize payment at their Tuesday meeting.

The money has been due since the 1966 completion of street installation work. Property owners along Arthur Street objected to the concrete street, indicating puddles accumulated on the street and the rough finish did not measure up to standards of other concrete installation projects

According to Specifications

Aldermen viewing the street agreed, but the contractor argued work was done according to grade and specifications. The city engineer insisted his grade and specifications were as accurate as possible considering the terrain. Months of arguments and meetings produced no results. An outside engineering firm was engaged in an effort to learn whether the contractor or city was to blame for the faulty installation.

The outside engineers ruled neither at fault. Plans and specifications prepared by engineer were correct and the contractor did as good an installation job as possible in the area

Surfacing Work

In other action relating to street work, aldermen approved a list of streets to be considered for permanent surfacing in 1968 and authorized the engineer to prepare cost estimates for the various projects. The action was taken after aldermen reported receiving letters from citizens requesting the work.

Streets listed include Margaret from Hyland to Joyce; Desnover from Walnut north to end; Claribel from Green Bay Road to Florence; Ducharme from Lawe to Augustin; Division from Lincoln Avenue to County Trunk 00; Harrison from Gertrude to Walter; Gertrude from Draper to north city limits; Joyce from Gertrude to Dieduch. Seventh Street from Eden Avenue to Brill Road; Eighth and Ninth from Kenneth Avenue to Brill Road Bel Air Court. Eleventh from Eden to Kenneth Twelfth and Fifteenth from Sullivan to Kenneth. Kenneth from County Trunk K to W, and Thirteenth and Main Avenue from Tenth to Eleventh Street

Prepare Costs

The engineer was also instructed to prepare costs and assessment charges for installation of sanitary sewer and water mains on Peters Road In conjunction with the proposal, Green is to check legality of providing water to a resident of the city and assessments which could be levied against property not yet platted.

The plumbing inspector was instructed to furnish the street superintendent with permits where street excavations will take place and to notify the fire department when streets will be closed as a result of these excavations. Several complaints were received on water drainage problems and these will be studied by the board of public works prior to recommendation for remedial action.

Asks Costs

A londowner on High Street questioned approximate cost of assessment for opening and serving the street and the city engineer indicated the total would be about $13.20 per side, foot including sanitary sewer, storm sewer, water main installation and grading and gravel ing

William Vils was engaged to repair walks on the Wisconsin Avenue bridge at a cost of $1.50 per foot and approval was given to rental of a backhoe for sewer repair purposes.

Appointment of Victor Luedtke to the open space committee of the Fox Valley Council of Governments by Mayor Gilbert Anderson was approved. Action by the mayor in seeking additional federal aid and bonus money for the $716,000 sewage plant improvement project was endorsed by aldermen. The city seeks full amount of the federal aid grant as soon as possible, thus eliminating the need for possible borrowing of funds to complete the project

Assets of $15,000 were transferred from the Kaukauna Vocational School fund to the area 12 Vocational and Technical School.

Ordinances were adopted authorizing installation of "yield" signs and stop signs at various intersections in the city.

A fire prevention code as prepared by the American Insurance Association was adopted as was a resolution setting minimum housing standards for the city as recommended by the Fox Valley Council of Governments.

Greenville Club Schedules Donkey Baseball Game

GREENVILLE — The Greenville Athletic and Civic Club will sponsor a donkey baseball game at 7 p m July 27 at the Greenville Community Park.

The committee in charge is made up of Donald Reis, Orville Steinbach and Vernon Jentz.

Ronald Jens, from the Outagamie Athletic Association, attended the committee's recent meeting and gave a talk on softball teams and encouraged the civic club to work in partnership in promoting softball in the Greenville area.

Fredrick Kaphingst, treasurer, reported on the Homecoming held June 25, stating proceeds were larger than last year.

James Wunderlich, president, announced that advanced ticket holders of rides should save their tickets for next year. Scheduled rides did not arrive, as the truck transporting them had an accident.

Members selling the most tickets for prizes at the homecoming were Bert Neubert, Ervin Klesmit, Victor Tennie, and Normon Julius.

Woman Reports Purse Missing

Helen Harris, who listed her address as the Marson Hotel, Clintonville reported a missing purse to Outagamie County sheriff's authorities about 1:45 a.m. Wednesday

She said the purse was taken from a car parked at the Legion Club in the Town of Grand Chute. The car was not locked.

Missing are a camera, overnight bag, and a wallet containing about $12 in cash, a social security card, bartender's license and a $77 check from New Star Lunch, Clintonville.
